Modern Europe Place Culture And Identity:

Modern Europe Brian J. Graham, 1998 The geography of modern Europe is the result of the interaction of many different and often violent historical processes which have combined to produce a diverse patterning of people and place Despite the radical project of political and economic integration the subject of cultural political and economic diversity is nevertheless of importance throughout the continent Rather EU policies make the patterns even more perplexing as peoples and places interact in different ways with the processes of integration

Modern Europe Brian Graham, 1998 This book examines the apparent paradox between Europe's ongoing plans for integration and the continent's enduring cultural political and economic diversity Looking at contemporary issues and setting them in a historical context the contributors show how this diversity has always been a principle characteristic of European society and discuss the ways in which nationalism and the nation state emerged as one means of controlling that heterogeneity They go on to argue that identity in modern Europe is again becoming multi faceted proposing that the continent's geographies can be defined only through inclusivist multiculturalism

Culture and Identity Politics in Northern Ireland Máiréad Nic Craith, 2003-05-02 Civilization and culture have traditionally been regarded as mutually exclusive concepts In this comparative case study of Northern Ireland M ir ad Nic Craith explores the commitment of unionists to a civic culture blind British state contrasting this with nationalist demands for official recognition of Irish culture The cultural turn in Northern Irish politics and the development of a bicultural infrastructure is examined here in the context of differing interpretations of equality and increasing demands for intercultural communication within as well as between communities

Dissonant Heritages and Memories in Contemporary Europe Tuuli Lähdesmäki, Luisa Passerini, Sigrid Kaasik-Krogerus, Iris van Huis, 2019-08-13 This open access book discusses political economic social and humanitarian challenges that influence both how people deal with their past and how they build their identities in contemporary Europe Ongoing debates on migration on local national inter and transnational levels prove that it is a divisive issue with regards to understanding European integration and identity At the same time the European Union increasingly invests in projects related to European heritage museums and cultural memory networks while having to take dissonant heritages into account These processes in their combination offer an interesting dynamic and form the complex puzzle that poses challenging questions for anyone involved in academic research heritage practices and policy debates With this puzzle at its core this book explicitly focuses on slippery and transforming notions of Europe and critically discusses ongoing and transforming power structures of heritage and memory in today's Europe The book combines theoretical and methodological contributions to the debates on European heritage and memory studies and in depth analyses of empirical case studies Its main aim is to bring research fields concerning memory and heritage into a closer dialogue and thus explore the cultural and political dynamics of contemporary Europe

CityEvents Ward Rennet, 2007 Large international events like the Olympic Games put cities on the world map CityEvents place selling in a Media Age addresses the question how cities have been raising their profile internationally by hosting large international events throughout the twentieth century It explores this question by introducing the CityEvent model This model allows for the study of large international events from a threefold perspective analytically integrating the roles of the media host cities and event owners with each other By means of this model developments and transformations in the hosting of events are reconstructed in relation to historical developments in the media This thesis provides a history of event based place selling and simultaneously offers insights into the hosting of current and future events The cities of Amsterdam Berlin and Helsinki both as hosts of the Olympic Games and as European Capitals of Culture feature as case studies The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone,2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the thirty five chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by an acknowledged expert as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe Landscape, Tourism, and Meaning Michelle M. Metro-Roland,Daniel C. Knudsen,Charles E. Greer,2016-04-22 How do we re theorize tourism By drawing less on the Foucauldian notion of tourism as gazing and instead focusing on the social construction of meaning in the landscape this insightful book provides an innovative and compelling new approach to tourist studies Arguing that in any view of the landscape and in tourism generally there is a multiplicity of insider and outsider meanings the book grounds tourism studies within the framework of social theory and particularly in the social theoretic approaches to landscape Bringing together specialists in tourism and landscape studies to discuss the relationships between the two it finds that issues of identity are a common thread and are raised with regard to the social construction of landscape and its portrayal through tourism The international studies range in scale from regional to national personal to political and from local residents to international tourists highlighting the multiplicity of interpretations and meanings between these scales Theory and Practice in Heritage and Sustainability Elizabeth Auclair, Graham Fairclough, 2015-04-22 This book explores cultural sustainability and its relationships to heritage from a wide interdisciplinary perspective By examining the interactions between people and communities in the places where they live it exemplifies the diverse ways in which a people centred heritage builds identities and supports individual and collective memories It encourages a view of heritage as a process that contributes through cultural sustainability to human well being and socially and culturally sensitive policy With theoretically informed case studies from leading researchers the book addresses both concepts and practice in a range of places and contexts including landscape townscape museums industrial sites every day heritage ordinary places and the local scene and even UNESCO designated sites The contributors most of whom like the editors were members of the COST Action Investigating Cultural Sustainability demonstrate in a cohesive way how the cultural values that people attach to place are enmeshed with issues of memory identity and aspiration and how they therefore stand at the centre of sustainability discourse and practice The cases are drawn from many parts of Europe but notably from the Baltic and central and south eastern Europe regions with distinctive recent histories and cultural approaches and heritage discourses that offer less well known but transferable insights They all illustrate the contribution that dealing with the inheritance of the past can make to a full cultural engagement with sustainable development The book provides an introductory framework to guide readers and a concluding section that draws on the case studies to emphasise their transferability and specificity and to outline the potential contribution of the examples to future research practice and policy in cultural sustainability This is a unique offering for postgraduate students researchers and professionals interested in heritage management governance and community participation and cultural sustainability Europe and the Politics of Language Máiréad Nic Craith, 2005-12-14 Do political boundaries impact on concepts of language How significant is language for citizenship in contemporary Europe Can disputed languages acquire full status Should non European languages receive recognition from the EU These are among the many questions explored in this new study of official regional and disputed languages in an ever changing European context Broad policy issues and the performance of the range of instruments of policy at local national and European levels are illustrated with reference to case studies across Europe A Geography of Heritage Brian Graham, Greg Ashworth, John Tunbridge, 2016-04-29 The concept of heritage relates to the ways in which contemporary society uses the past as a social political or economic resource However heritage is open to interpretation and its value may be perceived from differing perspectives often reflecting divisions in society Moreover the schism between the cultural and economic uses of heritage also gives rise to potential conflicts of interest Examining these issues in depth this book is the first sustained attempt to integrate the study of heritage into contemporary human geography It is structured around three themes the diversity of use and consumption of heritage as a multi sold cultural and economic resource the conflicts and tensions arising from this multiplicity of uses producers and consumers and the relationship between heritage and identity at a variety of scales

The Empty Cradle of Democracy Alexandra Halkias, 2004-09-24 An ethnographic study that shows how similar national and cultural beliefs about gender sexuality and Greekness are the basis of both the public condemnation of abortion and its prevalence in Greece

Heritage and Identity J.M. Fladmark, Thor Heyerdahl, 2015-11-17 Was the shaping of nation states in Northern Europe governed by military might or by Christian and democratic ideals How has trade and cross cultural exchange between Scandinavia and the British Isles shaped our historic identities and what about the impact of global politics and marketing in recent times These are some of the questions explored by the contributors in the context of forces that shape national identities today Their analysis highlights the need for historical awareness when developing future cultural policy brand profiles and marketing strategies Looking back Jesse Byock tells how democracy was first embraced in the north by the early settlers of Iceland Bjorn Myhre delves into the unpredictability of historical interpretation Edward Cowan discusses the role of battles and beddings in relations across the North Sea John Purkis writes about William Morris fascination with Nordic culture Stephen Harrison presents the winning ways of product development and marketing by Manx National Heritage whilst Chris Powell looks at Cool Britannia today and Simon Anholt at national branding strategies This is an inspirational book that sheds new light on old subjects equally relevant for both public and private sector policy makers alike

Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning Bruce Stiftel, Vanessa Watson, Henri Acselrad, 2006-10-19 Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning offers a new selection of the best urban planning scholarship from each of the world s planning school associations The award winning papers presented illustrate the concerns and the discourse of planning scholarship communities and provide a glimpse into planning theory and practice by planning academics around the world All those with an interest in urban and regional planning will find this collection valuable in opening new avenues for research and debate This book is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and the nine planning school associations it represents who have selected these papers based on regional competitions

Pluralising Pasts G. J. Ashworth, Brian Graham, J. E. Tunbridge, 2007-10-20 From museums and the preservation of old buildings to broader questions of community and identity heritage is now a political issue This book explores what heritage means now heritage is big business and how it is used to encourage people to identify with particular places and traditions now it is entangled with capitalism Examining a range of questions including the way contemporary societies use heritage in the creation and management of collective identities and how heritage is involved with the complexities of multicultural societies As resources are poured into heritage and questions of identity enter into public discourse this book shows how the heritage industry is used politically and commercially to shape the ways people represent themselves and are represented in diverse and hybrid societies

evolution of the relationship between port and city and re examines waterfront development by looking at the urban territory and historical city in their complexity and entirety By identifying guiding values urban patterns and typologies and local needs and experiences cities can break the isolation of the harbor by reconnecting it to the urban structure its functions spaces and forms Using the UNESCO recommendation for the Historic Urban Landscape as the guiding concept and a tool for managing urban preservation and change this collection of essays illustrates solutions to issues of globalisation commercialization of space and commoditisation of culture in waterfront development Through sixteen selected case studies Editors Heleni Porfyriou and Marichela Sepe offer planners and urban designers a broad spectrum of alternative solutions to waterfront regeneration interventions and redevelopments addressing sustainability regional cultural diversity and the debate between conservation and transformation

The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Knud Erik Jorgensen, Aasne Kalland Aarstad, Edith Drieskens, Katie Laatikainen, Ben Tonra, 2015-04-30 During the last two decades the study of European foreign policy has experienced remarkable growth presumably reflecting a more significant international role of the European Union The Union has significantly expanded its policy portfolio and though empty symbolic politics still exists the Union's international relations have become more substantial and its foreign policy more focused European foreign policy has become a dynamic policy area being adapted to changing challenges and environments such as the Arab Spring new emerging economies powers the crisis of multilateralism and much more The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Two Volume set is a major reference work for Foreign Policy Programmes around the world The Handbook is designed to be accessible to graduate and postgraduate students in a wide variety of disciplines across the humanities and social sciences Both volumes are structured to address areas of critical concern to scholars at the cutting edge of all major dimensions of foreign policy The volumes are composed of original chapters written specifically to the following themes Research traditions and historical experience Theoretical perspectives EU actors State actors Societal actors The politics of European foreign policy Bilateral relations Relations with multilateral institutions Individual policies Transnational challenges The Handbook will be an essential reference for both advanced students and scholars

Thinking European(s) Margaret Keane, Maria Villanueva, 2020-06-12 Unthinking prejudice is a major challenge in an ever changing pluralist Europe where local and global identities intermingle and contested pasts clash The new geographies constructed in response to this are at the core of Thinking European s It has been written to bring these geographies alive and to foster active and reflective citizens who are able to work productively within Europe's changing cultural environment This integrated work provides a framework to stimulate students critical thinking and to prompt reflection It seeks to stir geographical imaginations through case studies carried out in Austria Bulgaria Finland Ireland Poland Portugal Spain Turkey the United Kingdom and the United States The authors of Thinking European s cross cultures religions languages genders ideologies and political boundaries they stress dialogue negotiation and value multiple geographical knowledges University teachers and
