Good Morning Message Peggy

Edwards,2010-08 This daily devotional book has been a God led inspiration from its very start up from its original Bible verse and note of encouragement to some coworkers and family members to people around the world via my email network Our God is so awesome I ve had people return emails to me or speak to me and ask How did you know that I needed that today or How did you know I was going through this That is when I thankfully remind them that God inspired each and every one of these devotionals I am just being faithful and following His directions Now I m led to put them into a year of daily devotions book to reach others Occasionally my emailed devotionals have colored photographs that I take as God inspired message for the day Unfortunately I couldn t include those in this book I did include a photo in grayscale at the beginning of each month the cover photo is a God blessed look at an Alaskan sunset I am so thankful that God is working in my life I want to encourage each of you to grasp hold of whatever gift He has blessed you with and step out in trust and faith to go forth and to share it with others When you feel down just start counting each of the blessings God has touched you with in your life and you will feel His Presence and comfort to encourage you We are never alone He is just a prayer away nothing is impossible for our God He is not done with us yet He is asking us to be obedient in our service to Him and He will help us grow in our faith Trust in Him and you will be astounded at what He has in store for you Time to Write John Sylvester

Lofty,2015-02-10 Analyzes interviews with students teachers and administrators to develop a new set of literacies essential for student success in the digital age To read John s work is to take on the role of a patient listener A book like a piece of music is scored for time and I feel Time to Write is scored adagio I believe that Time to Write can be read as a critique of the time chopping approach to education and an argument for presence for being fully open to experience for being there To do good work we must enter something like island time or what John calls existential time or what is sometimes called flow when we lose at least temporarily a sense of clock time from the Foreword by Thomas Newkirk Twenty five years ago John Sylvester Lofty studied the influence of cultural time values on students resistance to writing instruction in an isolated Maine fishing community For the new edition of Time to Write Lofty returned to the island to consider how social and educational developments in the intervening years may have affected both local culture and attitudes toward education Lofty discovered how the island time values that previously informed students literacy learning have been transformed by outside influences including technology social media and the influx of new residents from urban areas Building on the ethnographic findings of the original study the new edition analyzes the current conflict between the digital age time values of constant connections and instant communication and those of school based literacy Lofty examines the new literacies now essential for students in a technologically connected world both those who aspire to continue the traditional island work of lobster fishing and for the many who now choose to pursue other careers and attend college on the mainland
