Race And Ethnic Relations In The First Person:

Race and Ethnic Relations in the First Person Michael A. Burayidi, Alfred Kisubi, 1998-01-13 This accessible challenging discussion of race relations looks at how institutions shape individual experience and asks how we can prevent a violent splintering of American society along racial lines in the 21st century Arguing that the best way to understand race relations is through the personal accounts of individuals as they go through the life cycle this highly readable book uses real life stories to illuminate how families peer groups and workplaces influence views about other racial and ethnic groups The authors hope to inspire readers to intervene and counteract negative perceptions of racial difference through their open frank discussion of the racial divide

Race and Ethnic Relations on Campus Eric J. Bailey, 2018-09-07 Can college students confront race relations issues directly and make positive changes Yes they can This book provides a fresh practical approach to addressing these issues individually and collectively to ignite a positive revolution in race and ethnic relations As racial and ethnic incidents continue to occur at college campuses across the nation an esteemed African American professor who teaches in the heart of a region that has seen some of the most volatile racial incidents in American history breaks the uneasy silence to respond to growing concerns from undergraduate students In Race and Ethnic Relations on Campus Understanding Empowerment and Solutions for College Students Eric J Bailey presents a new approach to addressing and better understanding the major controversial issues associated with race and ethnic relations for today s college students This book confronts commonplace race relations issues directly and sets forth a completely different way of addressing these problems that empowers today s college students to take charge and start to effect change to do something about racially charged conflict rather than to simply talk about it The chapters describe how race and ethnic relations issues typically arise on college campuses share insight into how national incidents affect college students reactions to incidents on their own campus and identify the negative consequences of poor race relations as well as describe the positive effects of good race relations

Canadian Sociologists in the First Person Stephen Harold Riggins, Neil McLaughlin, 2021-08-15 Social scientists autobiographies can yield insight into personal commitments to research agendas and the very project of social science itself But despite the long history of life writing sociologists have tended to view the practice with skepticism Canadian Sociologists in the First Person is the first book to survey the Canadian sociological imagination through personal recollections Exploring the lives and experiences of twenty contributors from across the country this book connects the unique and shared features of their careers to broad social dynamics while providing a guide to their own research and administrative contributions to their universities their profession and their broader society and communities The contributors teach in different types of institutions are prominent in the discipline and in their specializations and represent significant and diverse intellectual currents political perspectives and life and career experiences Aiming to start a broad conversation about what social science and the academic profession look like in Canada from an insider s perspective Canadian

Collective Rights of Indigenous Peoples Jolan Hsieh,2013-09-27 The focus of this book is on the PingPu peoples in Taiwan and their right to official recognition as indigenous peoples by the Taiwanese government The result of centuries of colonization indigenous tribes in Taiwan have faced severe cultural repression because of the government s refusal to accept ethnic racial and cultural diversity The PingPu Status Recognition Movement is the result of a decade of activism by impassioned people seeking the right to self determination autonomy and tribal legitimacy from the Han Chinese controlled Taiwanese government This book examines through in depth interviews questionnaires field observations and analysis of governmental and United Nations documents the perspectives of those directly involved in the movement as well as those affected by indigenous status recognition Study of the PingPu Indigenous movement is vitally important as it publicly declares Taiwanese Indigenous population s humanity and collective rights and provides a more comprehensive analysis of identity based movements as a fundamental form of collective human rights claims

Imaging Migration in Post-War Britain Beccy Kennedy-Schtyk,2022-04-21 This book examines the artistic practices of a range of British based artists of East Asian Chinese Japanese Korean and Taiwanese heritage to consider the social political and cultural effects of migration or diaspora on their creative production Beccy Kennedy Schtyk demonstrates three themes the multiplicity and expansive contemporaneity of these artists visual oeuvres the physical impact or interpretation of migratory circumstances on their artistic practices and the necessity to continue to evolve ways of thinking about migration race and border crossings in the current political climate of the 21st century The book will be of interest to scholars studying art history Asian studies British studies migration and diaspora studies and cultural studies Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Class Joseph F. Healey,Andi Stepnick,2023-01-12 Known for its clear and engaging writing the bestselling Race Ethnicity Gender and Class The Sociology of Group Conflict and Change has been thoroughly updated to be fresher more relevant and more accessible to undergraduates The text uses sociological perspectives and a consistent conceptual framework to tell the story of America s minority groups today and throughout history By presenting information asking questions and examining controversies it demonstrates that understanding what it means to be an American has always required us to grapple with issues of diversity and difference This title is accompanied by a complete teaching and learning package Social Justice and Third World Education Timothy J. Scrase,2021-12-12 First Published in 1997 In much of the comparative education literature questions of educational inequality and lack of educational opportunity in the developing world stand as perplexing complex and difficult problems Yet while inequality in education remains one of the most researched and written about topics in the discipline the question of social justice and its relationship to education remains implicit This volume aims to reverse this trend to make the issue of social justice both in theory and practice central and explicit The Turnout Gap Bernard L. Fraga,2018-11-01 In The Turnout Gap Bernard L. Fraga offers the most comprehensive analysis to date of the causes and consequences of racial and ethnic disparities in voter turnout Examining voting for Whites African Americans Latinos and Asian Americans from the 1800s to the present Fraga documents persistent gaps in turnout and shows that elections are increasingly unrepresentative of the wishes of all Americans These gaps persist not because of socioeconomic or voter suppression but because minority voters have limited influence in shaping election outcomes As Fraga demonstrates voters turn out at higher rates when their votes matter despite demographic change in most elections and most places minorities are less electorally relevant than Whites The Turnout Gap shows that when politicians engage the minority electorate the power of the vote can win However demography is not destiny It is up to politicians parties and citizens themselves to mobilize the potential of all Americans

Age through Ethnic Lenses Laura Katz Olson,2001-07-11 An ever more diverse America is getting older but American policies are not growing with the needs of our ethnic and aging society Age Through Ethnic Lenses explores the distinct characteristics and unique social political economic and cultural situations of America s aged while highlighting the common needs and objectives among all aging Americans With portraits of Asians Latinos individuals of European and African origins Native Americans Socio religious groups women gay men and women and the rural aged this book broadens our perspective on the issues of long term care and provides a valuable guide for future public policy as we enter the twenty first century

Race-Ethnicity and Society Benjamin B Ringer,Elinor R. Lawless,2025-06-30 First published in 1989 Race Ethnicity and Society comes as a usable and comprehensive text on race and ethnicity in the United States Ringer and Lawless set out to fill the gap in the literature by incorporating the positive lessons of the racially turbulent 1960 s and 70s Proposing a challenge to three conventional premises of many texts they argue that the treatment of racial minorities in America was qualitatively different from that experienced by the white immigrants that racism was not a mere aberration in American Society but was built into the very foundations of the society and that America's experience with minorities was not unique but can instead be located within the mainstream of European expansion and conquest Race Ethnicity and Society will be a standard source for students in the fields of sociology history and political science The Columbia Documentary

History of Race and Ethnicity in America Ronald H. Bayor, 2004 With more than 240 primary sources this introduction to a complex topic is a resource for student research The International Handbook of the Demography of Race and Ethnicity

Rogelio Sáenz, David G. Embrick, Néstor P. and Ethnicity, 2018-05-15 This book approaches the study of race ethnicity through a sociological lens It focuses on a few social policies that are perceived as race related such as affirmative action to an understanding of the historical racialization of the US welfare state overall Nation, Ethnicity and Race on Russian Television Stephen Hutchings, Vera Tolz, 2015-03-05

Russia one of the most ethno culturally diverse countries in the world provides a rich case study on how globalisation and associated international trends are disrupting and causing the radical rethinking of approaches to inter ethnic cohesion The book highlights the importance of television broadcasting in shaping national discourse and the place of ethno cultural diversity within it It argues that television's role here has been reinforced rather than diminished by the rise of new media technologies Through an analysis of a wide range of news and other television programmes the book shows how the covert meanings of discourse on a particular issue can diverge from the overt significance attributed to it just as the impact of that discourse may not conform with the original aims of the broadcasters The book discusses the tension between the imperative to maintain security through centralised government and overall national cohesion that Russia shares with other European states and the need to remain sensitive to and to accommodate the needs and perspectives of ethnic minorities and labour migrants It compares the increasingly isolationist popular ethnonationalism in Russia which harks back to old fashioned values with the similar rise of the Tea Party in the United States and the UK Independence Party in Britain Throughout this extremely rich well argued book complicates and challenges received wisdom on Russia s recent descent into authoritarianism It points to a regime struggling to negotiate the dilemmas it faces given its Soviet legacy of ethnic particularism weak civil society large native Muslim population and overbearing yet far from entirely effective state control of the media

Race, Ethnicity and Education in Globalised Times Ruth Arber, 2008-02-12 What is the specificity of contemporary racism And what happens to questions of race in a context where multiculturalism is taken for granted Few authors address these kinds of questions with subtlety For the most part questions of racism are treated either as self evident or alternatively as self evidenced The first approach accentuated in everyday life and played out in media exposures is the tendency to treat racism as manifestly self evident We just know what racism is in principle and we just know what it looks like when we see it in practice Dualistic assumptions dominate this sense of identity relations persons are racist or they are not an act is racist or it is not However despite the obviousness of racism in contexts where different people have different seating arrangements on a bus or somebody says I am better than you because your skin colour is different this approach barely comes to terms with the depth of embodied politics and the elusiveness of structures of racism in the contemporary world
