Racial Encounters In The Multi Cultural West:

Racial Encounters in the Multi-cultural West Gordon Morris Bakken, Brenda Farrington, 2000 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials. Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context, dating and sources, character analysis, comic elements and verbal conceits, evidence of authorship, performance analysis and feminist interpretations. Alongside theater reviews, production photographs and critical commentary, the volume also includes essays written by practicing theater artists who have worked on the play. An index by name, literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource. Multicultural Encounters S. Sharma, 2006-08-18 This book confronts the challenge of difference for rethinking everyday multiculturalism. It proposes both a theory and practice of a critical pedagogy of popular culture through an analysis of contemporary media and film. For students and scholars committed to a critical practice for transforming the politics of representation and otherness.

Race and Religion in the Postcolonial British Detective Story Julie H. Kim, 2005-07-15 In 1929 Ronald Knox, a prominent member of the English Detection Club, included in his tongue-in-cheek Ten Commandments for Detective Novelists the rule that No Chinaman must figure in the story. In 1983 Ruth Rendell published Speaker of Mandarin, reflecting not only a change in British detective fiction but also a dramatic change in the British cultural landscape. Like much of the rest of British popular culture, the detective novel became more and more ethnically diverse and populated by characters with increasingly varied religious backgrounds. Ten essays examine the changing nature of British detective fiction, focusing on the shifting view of otherness of such authors as Ruth Rendell, Elizabeth George, Peter Ackroyd, Caroline Graham, Christopher Brookmyer, Denise Mina, and John Mortimer. Unlike their American counterparts, British detective writers have been until recently overwhelmingly white, and the essays here explore how these authors delve into ethnic diversity within a historically homogeneous culture. Religion has also played an important role in the genre, ranging from the moral certainty of the early part of the 20th century to the skepticism and hostility that is part of contemporary fiction. How this transition was made and how it reflects the changing nature of British culture are detailed here.

Making the White Man's West Jason E. Pierce, 2016-01-15 The West especially the Intermountain states ranks among the whitest places in America but this fact obscures the more complicated history of racial diversity in the region In Making the White Man's West author Jason E. Pierce argues that since the time of the Louisiana Purchase the American West has been a racially contested space Using a nuanced theory of historical whiteness he examines why and how Anglo Americans dominated the region for a 120 year period In the early nineteenth century critics like Zebulon Pike and Washington Irving viewed the West as a dumping ground for free blacks and Native Americans a place where they could be segregated from the white communities east of the Mississippi River But as immigrant populations and industrialization took hold in the East white Americans began to view the West as a refuge for real whites The West had the most diverse population in the nation with substantial numbers of American Indians Hispanics and Asians but Anglo Americans could control these mostly disenfranchised peoples and enjoy the privileges of power while celebrating their presence as providing a unique regional character From this came the belief in a White Man's West a place ideally suited for real Americans in the face of changing world The first comprehensive study to examine the construction of white racial identity in the West Making the White Man's West shows how these two visions of the West as a racially diverse holding cell and a white refuge shaped the history of the region and influenced a variety of contemporary social issues in the West today

Colonial Encounters in a Time of Global Conflict, 1914-1918 Santanu Das, Anna Maguire, Daniel Steinbach, 2021-09-28 This volume gathers an international cast of scholars to examine the unprecedented range of colonial encounters during the First World War More than four million men of color and an even greater number of white Europeans and Americans crisscrossed the globe Others in occupied areas behind the warzone or in neutral countries were nonetheless swept into the maelstrom From local encounters in New Zealand Britain and East Africa to army camps and hospitals in France and Mesopotamia from cafes and clubs in Salonika and London to anticolonial networks in Germany the USA and the Dutch East Indies this volume examines the actions and experiences of a varied company of soldiers medics writers photographers and revolutionaries to reconceptualize this conflict as a turning point in the history of global encounters How did people interact across uneven intersections of nationality race gender class religion and language How did encounters direct and mediated forced and unforced shape issues from cross racial intimacy and identity formation to anti colonial networks civil rights movements and visions of a post war future The twelve chapters delve into spaces and processes of encounter to explore how the conjoined realities of war race and empire were experienced recorded and instrumentalized

Opera in a Multicultural World Mary Ingraham, Joseph So, Roy Moodley, 2015-06-19 Through historical and contemporary examples this book critically explores the relevance and expressions of multicultural representation in western European operatic genres in the modern world It reveals their approaches to reflecting identity transmitting meaning and inspiring creation as well as the ambiguities and contradictions that occur across the time and place s of their performance This collection brings academic researchers in opera studies into conversation with previously unheard voices of performers critics and creators to speak to issues of race ethnicity and culture in the genre Together they deliver a powerful critique of the perpetuation of the values and practices of dominant cultures in operatic representations of intercultural encounters Essays accordingly cross methodological boundaries in order to focus on a central issue in the emerging field of coloniality the hierarchies of social and political power that include the legacy of racialized practices In theorizing coloniality through intercultural exchange in opera authors explore a range of topics and case studies that involve immigrant indigenous exoticist and other cultural representations and consider a broad repertoire that includes lesser known Canadian operas Chinese and African American performances as well as works by Haydn Strauss Puccini and Wagner and in performances spanning three continents and over two centuries In these ways the collection contributes to the development of a more integrated understanding of the interdisciplinary fields inherent in opera including musicology sociology anthropology and others connected to Theatre Gender and Cultural Studies

Cross-Cultural Encounters in Modern World History Jon Thares Davidann, Marc Jason Gilbert, 2016-09-16 Cross Cultural Encounters in Modern World History explores cultural contact as an agent of change It takes an encounters approach to world history since 1500 rather than a political one to reveal different perspectives and experiences as well as key patterns and transformations It studies the spaces between cultures historically to help us transcend human differences today in a rapidly globalizing world The text focuses on first encounters that suggest long term developments and particularly significant encounters that have changed the direction of world history Because of the complexities of these encounters the author takes a user friendly approach to keep the text accessible to students with varying backgrounds in history

Cross-Cultural Encounters in Modern World History, 1453-Present Jon Davidann, Marc Jason Gilbert, 2019-02-08 One of the hallmarks of world history is the ever increasing ability of humans to cross cultural boundaries Taking an encounters approach that opens up history to different perspectives and experiences Cross Cultural Encounters in Modern World History examines cultural contact between people from across the globe between 1453 and the present The book examines the historical record of these contacts distilling from those processes patterns of interaction different peoples perspectives and the ways these encounters tended to subvert the commonly accepted assumptions about differences between peoples in terms of race ethnicity nationhood or empire This new edition has been updated to employ current scholarship and address recent developments as well as increasing the treatment of indigenous agency including the major role played by Polynesians in the spread of Christianity in Oceania The final chapter has been updated to reflect the refugee crisis and the evolving political situation in Europe concerning its immigrant population Supported by engaging discussion questions and enlivened with the voices and views of those who were and remain directly engaged in the process of cross cultural exchange this highly accessible volume remains a valuable resource for all students of world history

Cinemas of the Black Diaspora Michael T. Martin, 1995 This is a study of the cinematic traditions and film practices in the black Diaspora With contributions by film scholars film critics and film makers from Europe North America and the Third World this diverse collection provides a critical reading of film making in the black Diaspora that challenges the assumptions of colonialist and ethnocentrist discourses about Third World Hollywood and European cinemas Cinemas of the Black Diaspora examines the impact on film making of Western culture capitalist production and distribution methods and colonialism and the continuing neo colonial status of the people and countries in which film making is practiced Organised in three parts the study first explores cinema in the black Diaspora along cultural and political lines analysing the works of a radical and aesthetically alternative cinema The book proceeds to group black cinemas by geographical sites including Africa the Caribbean and South America Europe and North America to provide global context for comparative and case study analyses Finally three important manifestoes document the political and economic concerns and counter hegemonic institutional organising efforts of black and Third World film makers from the 1970s to the early 1990s Cinemas of the Black Diaspora should serve as a valuable basic reference and research tool for the study of world cinema While celebrating the diversity innovativeness and fecundity of film making in different regions of the world this important collection also explicates the historical importance of film making as a cultural form and political practice

Regulating Interracialized Intimacies Elena Zambelli, Betty de Hart, 2025-03-24 This book explores the role of the law in the social construction of race and mixture within and beyond the borders of Europe It focuses on interracialized intimacies that is the intimate relations of subjects ascribed and or perceived to belong to different races The role of the state in defining boundaries between us and them becomes particularly clear in their regulation Moving across different times places and political formations including the US slavery regime European colonial empires and metropolises the book delves deep into how the governments of white supremacist and white majority societies have consistently attempted to prevent discourage or obstruct intimate relationships crossing the colour line This occurred directly through prohibitions and anti miscegenation laws or indirectly through citizenship laws marriage licenses social care prostitution laws housing policies policing practices and other means The book further shows that the legacy of these highly gendered and racialized regulations continues to reverberate today informing norms hierarchies and perceptions about whose intimacies count as legitimate and ought to be facilitated and whose are deemed suspect and requiring state surveillance The contributions also shed light on the individuals couples and families who were targeted by state regulations and how they challenged and disturbed state categorizations and regulations Highly interdisciplinary in scope with contributions by pioneering United States and European scholars in this field this book will be a fundamental read for scholars researchers and students interested in tracing the genealogy of racial thinking in Europe and beyond and its enduring operativity

Prize Finalist Toward the end of the nineteenth century many African Americans moved westward as Greater Reconstruction came to a close Though along with Euro Americans Black settlers appropriated the land of Native Americans sometimes even contributing to ongoing violence against Indigenous people this migration often defied the goals of settler states in the American West In Black Montana Anthony W Wood explores the entanglements of race settler colonialism and the emergence of state and regional identity in the American West during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries By producing conditions of social cultural and economic precarity that undermined Black Montanans networks of kinship community and financial security the state of Montana in its capacity as a settler colony worked to exclude the Black community that began to form inside its borders after Reconstruction Black Montana depicts the history of Montana s Black community from 1877 until the 1930s a period in western American history that represents a significant moment and unique geography in the life of the U S settler colonial project

White Justice in Arizona Clare Vernon McKanna, 2005 McKanna takes to task Arizona Territory s justice system during the 1880 90s True West A stark sharply critical and edifying look at the iniquities of false justice Midwest Book Review Though trials in open court suggest impartiality White Justice in Arizona reveals how time and again the judicial system of nineteenth century Arizona denied Apaches justice The Captain Jack Gonshayee Apache Kid Carlisle Kid and Batdish murder cases offer a sad compelling commentary on injustice for Native Americans That these trials all ended in Apache convictions Clare V McKanna Jr argues proves the unfairness of applying the American legal tradition to a culture that lived by very different social and legal codes Conquered and forced from their lands by white outsiders Apaches found their customs and methods of maintaining social control dramatically at odds with a new and completely alien legal system a system that would not bend to integrate Apache or any other Native American culture Through case studies of these very different murder trials White Justice in Arizona probes the federal and state governments treatment of America s indigenous populations and the cultural clashes that left justice the greatest casualty Clare V McKanna Jr analyzes the matrix of race criminal law and justice in nineteenth century Arizona and finds fair trial for Indians absent This is an important book advancing our understanding of race and justice in the American West by one of our most insightful historians Gordon Morris Bakken editor of Racial Encounters in the Multi Cultural West

Convivial Cultures in Multicultural Cities Alina Rzepnikowska, 2019-09-20 The large scale migration brought about by the expansion of the EU over a decade ago led to migration from less ethnically diverse countries to multicultural and super diverse societies This book examines the complex encounters between Polish migrant women and local populations in Manchester and Barcelona with attention to the ways in which difference is negotiated and managed through everyday practices of conviviality which help to overcome hierarchies and create elements of sameness Illustrating how cultural differences may become important resources for interaction that facilitates positive relationships Convivial Cultures in Multicultural Cities draws on the narratives of Polish migrant women to shed new light on everyday social relations between migrant women and local populations including settled ethnic minorities and other migrants In doing so it contributes to our understanding of the positional nature of racial identification and complicates our ideas of whiteness and privilege      Cross-cultural Caring Nancy Waxler-Morrison,Joan Madge Anderson,Elizabeth Richardson,1990 Gives background on new immigrant ethnic groups in Canada including attitudes towards such issues as childbirth mental illness dental care hospitalization and death in order to assist social workers in the provision of culturally sensitive and effective treatment programs      Multicultural Perspectives In Social Work Practice with Families, 3rd Edition Manny J. González,2012-10 Print CourseSmart      International Encyclopedia of Human Geography ,2019-11-29 International Encyclopedia of Human Geography Second Edition Fourteen Volume Set embraces diversity by design and captures the ways in which humans share places and view differences based on gender race nationality location and other factors in other words the things that make people and places different Questions of for example politics economics race relations and migration are introduced and discussed through a geographical lens This updated edition will assist readers in their research by providing factual information historical perspectives theoretical approaches reviews of literature and provocative topical discussions that will stimulate creative thinking Presents the most up to date and comprehensive coverage on the topic of human geography Contains extensive scope and depth of coverage Emphasizes how geographers interact with understand and contribute to problem solving in the contemporary world Places an emphasis on how geography is relevant in a social and interdisciplinary context      Leveraging an Empire Jacki Hedlund Tyler,2021-08 Leveraging an Empire examines the process of settler colonialism in the developing region of Oregon via its exclusionary laws in the years 1841 to 1859      White Canada Forever Peter Ward,2002-02-08 Ward draws upon a rich record of events and opinion in the provincial press manuscript collections and successive federal enquiries and royal commissions on Asian immigration He locates the origins of west coast racism in the frustrated vision of a white British Columbia and an unshakeable belief in the unassimilability of the Asian immigrant Canadian attitudes were dominated by a series of interlocking hostile stereotypes derived from western perceptions of Asia and modified by the encounter between whites and Asians on the north Pacific coast Public pressure on local provincial and federal governments led to discriminatory policies in the field of immigration and employment and culminated in the forced relocation of west coast Japanese residents during World War II
