Racing With The Clock Making Time For Teaching And Learning In School:

Racing with the Clock Nancy Elizabeth Adelman, Karen Panton Walking Eagle, Andy Hargreaves, 1997 Time has long been recognized as a serious obstacle to successful school reform In Racing with the Clock ten teachers write about time related frustrations growing out of school reform efforts and how the problems were or were not resolved The descriptions are rich with specific examples of what it is like to actually experience school reform and how it impacts on a teacher s already full day The cases are preceded by contextual descriptions and a chapter by the editors on time related issues raised by the cases Each case study also includes one or more commentaries prepared by representatives e g principals department chairpersons other teachers from schools and districts discussed They present new or different perspectives on the issues and identify new questions and topics for discussion within the cases The book concludes with an insightful essay by Andy Hargreaves who worked with the teachers in constructing their cases The Portable Mentor Frederick A.

Lindley, 2003-05-30 Without much question the fact that principla leadership is a key ingredientt in an effective school carries with it the cost of ensuring that ordinary people who get the job of administratos can actually do the job This books will provide a great foundation to make the extraordinary task doable John C Daresh From the Foreword Initially designed as a practical nuts and bolts resource for new principals this book now serves two primary target groups first time principals and first time principal mentors This book also targets a secondary audience one being those who are exploring the idea of becoming a school principal and the other students enrolled in preparatory programmes in pursuit of their principal licenses This handbook serves primarily as a portable and prescriptive support for entry year principals It provides a focused organized approach that helps the novice school leader maneuver through the management and or organizational demands of the job Defining the Job Doing the Job Deciphering the Job and Mentoring the Mentor are the four parts of the book that address concerns related to the entry year principal and on principal mentoring issues Paradigm Debates in Curriculum and Supervision Linda Behar-Horenstein, Jeffrey Glanz, 2000-01-30 Paradigm debates in the educational research community are a frequent if not common occurrence How do paradigm debates in other educational fields such as curriculum and supervision shape educators understanding and practice In this volume it is suggested that educators adherence to particular views of curriculum and supervision is influential in guiding their beliefs and subsequent actions For example a widely accepted belief is that if an individual adopts a mechanistic view of the curriculum then s he is likely to deliver a curriculum grounded in pre established objectives and evaluate student achievement in relationship to formulated objectives Postmodernists contend that such educators are bound by rigid bifurcation and a constrictive linear logic In supervision educational leaders who favor leadership styles comprised by autocratic behaviors tend to create school climates that favor a top down approach to human relationships Autocratic leaders rely on hierarchical organizational structures and styles that seek to instill compliance and subordination Yet prospective administrators who want concrete proposals put in practice find modern perspectives of supervision helpful In contrast postmodern supervisors allege that such leaders disallow the emergence of relevant and authentic relationships that might occur when conventional hierarchical structures are diminished and open lines of communication between teachers students administrators become normative The chapters in this book present an in depth analysis of how an individual s predisposition towards modern and postmodern views of curriculum and supervision are likely to influence 1 curriculum development 2 teaching styles 3 leadership styles 4 teacher and student evaluation and 5 the missions intrinsic to the creation of professional preparation programs that serve to promulgate existing practice or create a new order of teachers and administrator Resources in Education ,2001-04

The Mindful Teacher Dennis Shirley,Elizabeth A. MacDonald,2016 This new and expanded edition of the bestselling The Mindful Teacher provides educators everywhere with practical ideas for improving teaching and learning Dennis Shirley and Elizabeth MacDonald have created Mindful Teacher seminars that enable teachers to focus their craft so that students can learn with dignity and purpose This updated second edition includes completely new sections on the promise of teacher leadership the strengths and perils of technology and schools in the midst of change The Mindful Teacher is an indispensable and timely resource for all educators who seek to transform schools into places of learning and joy The Mindful Teacher describes real educators in real schools working with real students It bridges the rapidly evolving field of mindfulness studies with educators life long quests for substantial and sustainable improvements in the educations we provide our students This updated and expanded second edition of The Mindful Teacher presents a truly inspiring vision of educational change It is essential reading for all who agree that it is time to spark a quiet revolution of learning in which teachers and their students can truly flourish Michael Schratz president of the International Congress of School Effectiveness and Improvement When reforms in some education systems result in alienated teaching rather than improved learning it takes a book like The Mindful Teacher to remind all that education has deeper meaning and substance than merely achieving performance indicators This book has a very important message for all educators Pak Tee Ng National Institute of Education Singapore author of Educational Change in Singapore Teacher Practice Online Désirée H. Pointer Mace,2015-04-25 Teachers know how complicated their work is They constantly balance considerations of individual students with those of the group they think about how past events affect today s lessons and they constantly adapt and revise for future lessons But few people ever get to see teachers work in this way The most energizing relational complicated inspiring disheartening parts of teaching remain largely invisible Over nearly a decade at the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching D sir e Pointer Mace worked with dozens of teachers across the country to open their doors by creating multimedia web based representations of teaching practice This book describes how such multimedia representations are envisioned documented created and shared and how others might engage in this process This practical book Examines the cutting edge of electronic media documentation of teaching practice Features cases studies that represent diverse grades cultures and contexts with both novice and veteran teachers Provides clear examples of how multimedia representations of teaching can be used as alternative texts in teacher learning environments Describes the positive outcomes for teachers and learners when teaching is made public Includes screen images of teachers websites as well as classrooms and children participating in projects This book is a rare find We not only learn from Pointer Mace s examples but also get inside what we need to know to learn the power and possibilities of making our own websites to learn from our own practice and to secure a position in the conversation about learning from one s own teaching From the Foreword by Ann Lieberman Senior Scholar Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching D sir e Pointer Mace is in the vanguard of a new generation of teacher educators This volume will become a classic reference in the emergence of a new signature pedagogy for the initial preparation and professional development of teachers Lee S Shulman Charles E Ducommun Professor of Education Emeritus Stanford University The practices discussed in this book are at the cutting edge of current efforts to preserve and learn from the wisdom of expert teachers This book is must reading for teacher educators at all levels of the teaching career Ken Zeichner Hoefs Bascom Professor of Teacher Education University of Wisconsin Madison Pointer Mace creates a community of teacher scholars with an important story to tell us about their lives in the classroom Teachers researchers doctoral students parents and yes students will be changed by reading this book Ricki Goldman New York University

New Developments in Combustion Research William J. Carey, 2006 Combustion or burning is an exothermic reaction between a substance and a gas to release heat Combustion normally occurs in oxygen often in the form of gaseous O_2 to form oxides However combustion can also take place in other gases like chlorine The products of such reactions usually include water H_2O as well as carbon monoxide CO or carbon dioxide CO_2 or both Other by products such as partially reacted fuel and elemental carbon C may generate visible smoke and soot This book presents leading research from around the world in this frontal field

Managing to Change Thomas Hatch, 2015-04-18 This book shows how school improvement efforts are often undermined by the changing conditions around schools as well as by some of the very policies and programs designed to help them make improvements Hatch argues that schools cannot wait around for conditions to improve or policymakers to figure out how to provide the right support Schools need to create the conditions for their own success To help them accomplish that the A01thor describes a small set of key practices that schools can use to get resources manage external demands and build their capacity to make and sustain improvements over time

McKinney, 2009-01-13 This comprehensive longitudinal analysis of arts in education initiatives based on the A School Program discusses the political fiscal and curricular implications inherent in taking the arts seriously and offers a model for implementation and evaluation that can be widely adapted in other schools and school districts The Power of Protocols

Joseph P. McDonald, 2003-01-01 This important professional development tool describes nearly 30 protocols or scripts for conducting meetings conversations and other learning experiences among educators in one easy to use resource For anyone working with collaborative groups of teachers on everything from school improvement to curriculum development this book features Protocols for working together on problems of practice for studying together for organizing many different kinds of meetings and for looking together at student work A thorough text that describes each protocol provides a rationale for using them explains the particular purpose each protocol was designed for discusses the value that educators have found in using them and offers helpful tips for facilitators Valuable appendices that list relevant resources such as websites contact addresses and training opportunities and a table that lists all of the protocols with suggestions for cross use A free supplement on the Teachers College Press website with Abbreviated Protocols that can be downloaded and customized to suit each facilitator's needs Teachers as Learners Ora Kwo, 2010-08-09 In the worldwide movements of educational reform educators are forging new roles identities and relationships Leadership is vital but must be rooted in the capacity for learning This volume responds to the tensions and paradoxes brought by educational reforms presenting a critical discourse on teachers as learners The contributions bring an array of cultural settings and methodological orientations and reveal contextual burdens that teachers should not carry in isolation Teachers learning demands collective engagement to turn challenges into opportunities in a sustainable quest for higher goals The discourse concludes with a vision for a new relationship among educational workers as a joint force of learners in a cross boundary endeavor for moral commitment to education Supervision Across the Content Areas Sally J. Zepeda, R. Stewart Mayers, 2014-05-22 You became a school leader after succeeding in your particular content area and or grade level Now you're responsible for the entire school You are accountable for everything that goes on including results from those who teach outside your areas of original expertise

Supervision Across the Content Areas provides tools and strategies to help you effectively supervise all of your teachers including those in contents areas or grade levels in which you may not have had personal classroom experience While focusing on four key content areas Mathematics Science English Language Arts and Social Studies this book also provides supervision tools for other content areas foreign languages fine arts physical education etc Also included are tools and strategies to help you supervise teachers who use instructional strategies such as differentiated instruction Socratic Seminars cooperative learning and inquiry apply local and national standards to frame your instructional program ensure accountability of teachers who use multiple intelligences brain based learning and other innovations Beating the Odds Jacqueline Ancess,2003-01-01 Beating the Odds tells the story of how teachers students and leaders in three schools transcend obstacles to beat the odds of failure and achieve impressive success The schools a suburban vocational technical school an urban school for immigrant new English language learners and an urban second chance school for students who have failed elsewhere all operate as communities of commitment With accessible language multiple examples and rich anecdotes Ancess describes how these schools are organized how they use adult student relationships to leverage high levels of student performance how they enact teaching and learning for making meaning and how they confront the obstacles they encounter Ancess also discusses the systemic conditions for sustaining and scaling up schools such as these three The high schools described in this volume Urban Academy International High School and Hodgson Vocational Technical have come to represent models of successful reform despite their challenging student populations In addition to telling their story this book provides samples of school documents that illustrate the day to day operation of the schools and can be adapted by practitioners to fit their own circumstances Learning to Learn Ruth Deakin Crick,CRISTINA STRINGHER,Kai Ren,2014-04-28 Learning to Learn provides a much needed overview and international guide to the field of learning to learn from a multidisciplinary lifelong and lifewide perspective A wealth of research has been flourishing on this key educational goal in recent years Internationally it is considered to be one of the key competencies needed to compete in the global economy but also a crucial factor for individual and social well being This book draws on leading international contributors to provide a cutting edge overview of current thinking on learning to learn research policy and implementation in both formal and informal learning environments But what learning to learn is exactly and what its constituting elements are are much debated issues These seem to be the crucial questions if assessment and development of this malleable side of intelligence are to be accomplished The approach of this volume is to consider a broad conception of learning to learn not confined to only study strategies or metacognition yet acknowledging the importance of such elements The book sets out to answer five main questions What is learning to learn What are its functions and how do we assess it What does it promise to the individual and society at large How is it conceived in national curricula internationally How can it be developed in a variety of contexts The text is organized into two parts the first addresses the core question of the nature of learning to learn from a theoretical and policy viewpoint and the second presents recent research carried out in several educational systems with special attention to assessment and curriculum It gives an account of pedagogical practices of learning to learn and its role in individual empowerment from childhood to adulthood Contributors also highlight the potential use of learning to learn as an organizing concept for lifelong learning school improvement and teacher training along with potential conflicts with existing incentive practices and policies This book is a vital starting point and guide for any advanced student or researcher looking to understand this important area of research At the Heart of Teaching Grace Hall McEntee,2003-01-01

Featuring engaging narratives this how to book delves into reflection as a concept and provides specific replicable tools for professional practice Each chapter draws on a particular school situation demonstrating the value of teacher reflection and describing the nuts and bolts of the process including protocols for handling many different circumstances Written by public school teachers who offer lessons learned and strategies that work this volume provides insights to help teachers build reflective practice with their students including protocols for classroom problem solving presents scenarios for individual students their parents and teachers to talk together about a student s performance including protocols for conducting family meetings shows what can happen when teachers come together to share stories of their daily lives including protocols for conducting a focus group and offers advice for reflecting alone and with a group including protocols for both types of reflection The Implementation of Inclusive Education in Beijing Kai Yu,2014-02-27 The education implementation process in China remains uncharted by researchers The Implementation of Inclusive Education in Beijing Exorcizing the Haunting Specter of Meritocracy puts forth a general theory on China s education programs encompassing policy processes actions and interactions and grounded on the views of street level bureaucrats in China Kai Yu investigates these processes and presents teachers reflections on the change process as well as implementation stories from four Beijing schools He reports on their attitudes their beliefs and their pedagogical practices for implementing the innovative education program Yu argues that the imperatives of meritocratic ideology have undermined the detracking policy and its practice The strength of a program of change rests not so much on the power of the ideas purposes and values as on the reinterpretation of the implementers based on their personal understandings of institution and practice Building School-based Teacher Learning Communities Milbrey Wallin McLaughlin,Joan E.
