

The first of these is the fact that the world is not a uniform place. There are many different cultures, languages, and religions. This means that what works in one place may not work in another.
 For example, a marketing strategy that works in the United States may not work in Japan. This is because the Japanese culture is very different from the American culture. The Japanese value harmony and respect for authority, while the Americans value individualism and freedom. This means that a marketing strategy that focuses on individualism and freedom may not work in Japan.
