Racism Research And Educational Reform Voices From The City:

Racism, Research, and Educational Reform Joanne Kilgour Dowdy, Joan T. Wynne, 2005 Racism Research and Educational Reform adds to the knowledge base on educational reform through individual personal voices Describing the complexities of multiple levels of engagement it provides more accessible reading for teachers and the general public than most reform texts This book also adds to the literature about multiple K 16 partnerships collaborations between mainstream universities and Historically Black Colleges and Universities HBCU cross district school system collaborations the impact of racism on school reform efforts communication problems in school collaborations parent and teacher struggles for equal engagement and issues of parental equity in school communities of diverse ethnic families Unsustainable Jessica Restaino, Laurie J. C. Cella, 2013 Unsustainable Re imagining Community Literacy Public Writing Service Learning and the University edited by Jessica Restaino and Laurie Cella explores short lived university community writing projects in an effort to rethink the long held gold standard of long term sustainability in community writing work Contributors examine their own efforts in order to provide alternate models for understanding assessing and enacting university community writing projects that for a range of reasons fall outside of traditional practice This collection considers what has become an increasingly unified call for praxis where scholar practitioners explore a specific project that fell short of theorized best practice sustainability in order to determine not only the nature of what remains how and why we might find value in a community based writing project that lacks long term sustainability for example but also how or why we might rethink redefine and reevaluate best practice ideals in the first place In so doing the contributors are at once responding to what has been an increasing acknowledgment in the field that for a variety of reasons many community based writing projects do not go as initially planned and also applying in praxis a framework for thinking about and studying such projects Unsustainable represents the kind of scholarly work that some of the most recognizable names in the field have been calling for over the past five years This book affirms that unpredictability is an indispensable factor in the field and argues that such unpredictability presents in fact demands a theoretical approach that takes these practical experiences as its base

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature Structural Equation Modeling in Educational Research , 2009-01-01 Over the years researchers have developed statistical methods to help them investigate and interpret issues of interest in many discipline areas These methods range from descriptive to inferential to multivariate statistics As the psychometrics measures in education become more complex vigorous and robust methods were needed in order to represent research data efficiently One such method is Structural Equation Modeling SEM SEM is a statistical technique that allows the simultaneous analysis of a series of structural equations It also allows a dependent variable in one equation to become an independent variable in another equation It is a comprehensive statistical approach to testing hypotheses about relations among observed and latent variables SEM is commonly known as causal modeling or path analysis which hypothesizes causal relationships among variables and tests the causal models with a linear equation system As educational research questions become more complex they need to be evaluated with more sophisticated tools The pervasive use of SEM in the literature has shown that SEM has a potential to be of assistance to modern educational researchers This book will bring together prominent educators and researchers from around the world to share their contemporary research on structural equation modeling in educational settings The chapters provide information on recent trends and developments and effective applications of the different models to answer various educational research questions This book is a critical and specialized source that describes recent advances in SEM in international academia

We Can Speak for Ourselves Billye Sankofa Waters, 2015-12-17 This work is an intervention of self representation that explores experiences of five Black mothers of the same Chicago elementary school with respect to their relationship with the author a qualitative researcher over a period of two years Black feminist epistemology is the framework that directed this project fieldwork and interpretation of the findings Additionally this work employs tools of poetry counternarratives and critical ethnography Billye Sankofa Waters reiterates the plaintive lament of the mothers of 1970s Boston when they said When we fight about education we re fighting for our lives This story of parents in Chicago is powerful poignant and oh so familiar This is a must read Gloria Ladson Billings Kellner Family Distinguished Chair in Urban Education University of Wisconsin Madison the ways that Black mothers come to know and participate in their children s education We Can Speak for Ourselves plumbs Black feminist epistemology and critical theory to create a new model that reimagines the critical terrain of both public and private African American female motherwork It is intersectionally deft in how it attends to both structural issues of inequality and intragroup negotiation of identity This book is bold well researched and an important contribution to the fields of Education Sociology Women s and Gender Studies and Public Policy Michele T Berger University of North Carolina Chapel Hill author of Workable Sisterhood The Political Journey of Stigmatized Women with HIV AIDS and co author of Transforming Scholarship Why Women s and Gender Studies Students Are Changing Themselves and the World We Can Speak for Ourselves is a necessary read for everyone especially Black mothers who are on the front lines of the Black Lives Matter Movement After all the movement at its core is about resisting the anti Black society in which Black mothers are forced to raise their children Sankofa Waters beautifully blends personal writings counternarratives and the voices of five Black mothers to create a book that gives us new language to address the issues impacting Black families and Black survival Through this work Sankofa Waters expertly depicts the struggles of Black mothers as organic intellectuals deconstructing critiquing and navigating the power structures that oppress their sons daughters and Black communities at large Bettina L Love University of Georgia Board Chair of The Challenges to Integrating Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Programs in Organizations Griffen, Aaron J.,2020-10-30 Throughout the past several years diversity equity and inclusion initiatives have been a part of a growing phenomenon to address the diverse needs of organizations However the act of diversity training and implementation in programs has traditionally been reactive as a result of a scandal rather than proactive As more industries see the benefits of diversity equity and inclusion training we will continue to see the benefits of a sustainable healthy working environment for all Challenges to Integrating Diversity Equity and Inclusion Programs in Organizations is an essential reference source that shares the challenges and opportunities faced by diversity equity and inclusion officers who are leading their organizations to becoming more diverse equitable and inclusive working environments Featuring research on topics such as institutional equity organizational culture and diverse workplace this book is ideally designed for administrators human resource specialists researchers business professionals academicians and students as well as organizations looking to make the intentional shifts necessary to develop and foster a more inclusive working and learning environment

Book Review
Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation On Class, Race, and Educational Reform Antonia Darder,Cleveland Hayes II,Howard Ryan,2023-03-23 On Class Race and Educational Reform provokes new dialogue between Marxists critical race theory scholars and other race inspired educational theorists with the aim of countering racism and class inequalities The book opens with a lead chapter by Howard Ryan a doctoral student with a background in teaching and labor organizing that substantively engages questions of class race and educational reform In response to the opening chapter educational theorists from Germany South Africa the UK and the USA provide insightful and penetrating responses highlighting the differences and similarities in perspectives The responses show how educators can overcome theoretical differences to create international collaborations and educational campaigns of solidarity that counter the treacherous impact of racism and class inequalities in the classroom and beyond The book includes a Foreword by Stephen Brookfield University of St Thomas USA and an Afterword by Cheryl Matias University of Kentucky USA Neoliberalizing Educational Reform Keith M. Sturges, 2015-02-27 In this era when commonsense in educational discourse is so deeply framed by neoliberalism we must better understand both the uniquely situated and the insidiously interconnected nature of so called reforms Thank you to Keith M Sturges and colleagues for illuminating exactly this in their important and hard hitting new book that reveals not merely how neoliberal reforms are designed to reinforce inequity but also how the contradictions within provide ample opportunity to collectivize and act with hope Kevin Kumashiro author of Bad Teacher How Blaming Teachers Distorts the Bigger Picture In this important volume editor Keith M Sturges has taken the most useful discussions of neoliberalism and with great precision clarity and utility seen them applied to the education arena Over 13 chapters leading education thinkers lay bare sets of realities that the broader public school administrators and policy makers would do well to fully understand These range from the impact of neoliberal thinking upon chartering parent involvement teacher training school climate funding and more I ll be using the chapters in this text in a variety of ways They ll inform conversations with local state and federal policy makers and inform conversations with school leaders and district leaders I ll also be assigning the text in my graduate seminar on education policy Finally the chapters will inform several lectures in my undergraduate class on The Promise and Peril of Public Education What a gem of a volume Kevin Michael Foster Executive Director The Institute for Community University and School Partnerships ICUSP Handbook of Education Policy Research Janelle Scott, 2025-07-17 The second edition of the Handbook of Education Policy Research the largest volume published in AERA s history addresses a variety of policy and contextual issues in early childhood K 12 and postsecondary education that have received extensive empirical attention during the past 15 years With the pandemic and social turmoil as a backdrop the editors build on the breadth and depth of the first edition while expanding the scope of the project to include subjects methods theories and analyses that have contributed powerfully to the study of education policy and politics in the 2010s and 2020s The field has become more comprehensive and inclusive and the authors represent a diversity of racial ethnic and gender identities and intellectual and disciplinary orientations Most chapters come from multiple authors reflecting the multi sourced development of research in education policy since the first volume was published This compilation consists of 70 chapters and nine commentaries that map past present and future directions of the field and richly attend to critical issues of interest to students researchers policy makers and practitioners Charter Schools, Race, and Urban Space Kristen L. Buras, 2014-07-17 Charter schools have been promoted as an equitable and innovative solution to the problems plaguing urban schools Advocates claim that charter schools benefit working class students of color by offering them access to a portfolio of school choices In Charter Schools Race and Urban Space Kristen Buras presents a very different account Her case study of New Orleans where veteran teachers were fired en masse and the nation s first all charter school district was developed shows that such reform is less about the needs of racially oppressed communities and more about the production of an urban space economy in which white entrepreneurs capitalize on black children and neighborhoods In this revealing book Buras draws on critical theories of race political economy and space as well as a decade of research on the ground to expose the criminal dispossession of black teachers and students who have contributed to New Orleans culture and history Mapping federal state and local policy networks she shows how the city s landscape has been reshaped by a strategic venture to privatize public education She likewise chronicles grassroots efforts to defend historic schools and neighborhoods against this assault revealing a commitment to equity and place and articulating a vision of change that is sure to inspire heated debate among communities nationwide Resources in Education ,2001 A Race Against Time James G.

Cibulka,William L. Boyd,2003-03-30 We are in a race against time to save urban children from educational failure and to reform urban school systems before people give up on them The authors examine the effectiveness of three reform approaches systems reform mayoral influence and external state or federal intervention using case studies from seven large cities as well as state and national trends The social and economic transformation of large American cities after World War II laid the seeds for the crisis in urban education that has festered and grown since the 1950s Decades of appalling test scores and failure rates and of unsuccessful piecemeal efforts to improve urban education have led the public and policymakers to embrace radical solutions to reform Three approaches to the reform of urban school governance are discussed and analyzed using data from seven large cities Baltimore Boston Chicago Los Angeles Philadelphia Washington D C and New York national trends and a statewide analysis of Maryland s school accountability system The first approach systems reform focuses on improving the governance of urban education by overcoming policy fragmentation through standards for student performance student assessments and accountability among other things Strong mayoral roles offer a second reform approach that largely reverses the Progressive era reforms of the last century separating schools from city politics Its supporters believe urban mayors can restore accountability stability and political support for urban schools The third reform approach assumes that external intervention by federal or state authorities is needed to restore accountability and improve system performance Race and Educational Reform in the American Metropolis Dan A. Lewis,Kathryn

Nakagawa,1994-12-23 Power, Voice and the Public Good Rodney Hopson,Carol Camp-Yeakey,Francis Musa

Boakari,2008-12-01 Focuses on such themes as attention to the definitional and theoretical underpinnings of globalization the ubiquitous nature and topical display of globalization and the possibilities of understanding redefining and rethinking aspects of globalization with the backdrop of issues that relate to education and the pursuit of public good Libraries,

Literacy, and African American Youth Sandra Hughes-Hassell,Pauletta Brown Bracy,Casey H. Rawson,2016-10-31 This important book is a call to action for the library community to address the literacy and life outcome gaps impacting African American youth It provides strategies that enable school and public librarians to transform their services programs and collections to be more responsive to the literacy strengths experiences and needs of African American youth According to National Assessment of Educational Progress NEAP only 18 percent of African American fourth graders and 17 percent of African American eighth graders performed at or above proficiency in reading in 2013 This book draws on research from various academic fields to explore the issues surrounding African American literacy and to aid in developing culturally responsive school and library programs with the goal of helping to close the achievement gap and improve the quality of life for African American youth The book merges the work of its three authors along with the findings of other researchers and practitioners highlighting exemplary programs such as the award winning Pearl Bailey Library Program the Maker Jawn initiative at the Free Library of Philadelphia and the Blue Ribbon Mentor Advocate writing institute in the Chapel Hill Carrboro City Schools among others Readers will understand how these culturally responsive programs put theory and research based best practices into local action and see how to adapt them to meet the needs of their communities
