Wisconsin International Law Journal, 1993 Israel for Christians Arnold James Rudin, 1983 Politics and Planning in the Holy City Gedalia Auerbach, Ira

Sharkansky, 2011-12-31 Jerusalem is not just another city that illustrates the conflict between interests of professional planners and competing political perspectives It is the Holy City with a history of some 3 000 years Moreover numerous layers of historical remains have importance for intense and competitive religious and national interests Israelis claim it as the capital of their country and Palestinians want it or part of it as the capital of their not yet created state Jerusalem is also a place where more than 700 000 people live and the center of a metropolitan area with more than twice that number Along with religious and national interests there are the customary conflicts between what various groups property developers politicians professional planners neighborhood residents and environmental activists want to do with the land Politics and Planning in the Holy City describes and analyzes the tensions between politics and planning The authors tackle the economic social and political contexts that shape conflicts Such problems include deciding what should be called Jerusalem and difficulties surrounding the construction of a defense barrier to protect Israelis from Palestinian terrorists in the framework of a multicultural city where 30 to 40 percent of its residents are Palestinians There is dissent over locating rail lines to the city as some interests want them here there or nowhere and over building a light rail line within a city already crowded and beset with conflicting interests The creation of a football stadium is another venue for conflict as many religious Jews view sports as a threat to their way of life Issues include locating a site for housing new immigrants as few Jerusalemites want large numbers of newcomers in their neighborhoods and deciding which sites merit preservation in a city with many deserving candidates but severely limited resources This volume will attract urban specialists as well as those concerned with larger political issues The Southern Wall of the Temple Mount and Its Corners Yuval Baruch, Ronny researchers have therefore concentrated their efforts on the massive ancient stone walls that surround it The third volume in the Ancient Jerusalem Publication series The Southern Wall of the Temple Mount and Its Corners Past Present and Future concentrates on the southern retaining wall of the Herodian Temple Mount in Jerusalem its two corners and Robinson s Arch on the southern edge of the Western Wall It presents the final reports of three excavations carried out adjacent to the wall and one under Robinson s Arch Among the many new interpretations the excavators present intriguing theories regarding the engineering of an ancient ramp for herding sacrificial animals up to the Temple Mount and a new reading of an Isaiah 66 14 graffito The volume devotes a large section to conservation projects carried out in order to understand the problems causing the deterioration of the stones in the southern part of the Western Wall and find solutions to protect and preserve them The volume also presents details of a major ground penetrating radar examination of this stretch of the Western Wall
