Representation Design Tracing A Hermen:

Cognitive Approaches to Old English Poetry Antonina Harbus, 2012 Offers an entirely new way of interpreting and examining Anglo Saxon texts via theories derived from cognitive studies A major thoughtful study applying new and serious interpretative and critical perspectives to a central range of Old English poetry Professor John Hines Cardiff University Cognitive approaches to literature offer new and exciting ways of interpreting literature and mentalities by bringing ideas and methodologies from Cognitive Science into the analysis of literature and culture While these approaches are of particular value in relation to understanding the texts of remote societies they have to date made very little impact on Anglo Saxon Studies This book therefore acts as a pioneer mapping out the new field explaining its relevance to Old English Literary Studies and demonstrating in practice its application to a range of key vernacular poetic texts including Beowulf The Wanderer and poems from the Exeter Book Adapting key ideas from three related fields Cognitive Literary Cultural Studies Cognitive Poetics and Conceptual Metaphor Theory in conjunction with more familiar models derived from Literary Analysis Stylistics and Historical Linguistics allows several new ways of thinking about Old English literature to emerge It permits a systematic means of examining and accounting for the conceptual structures that underpin Anglo Saxon poetics as well as fuller explorations at the level of mental processing of the workings of literary language in context The result is a set of approaches to interpreting Anglo Saxon textuality through detailed studies of the concepts mental schemas and associative logic implied in and triggered by the evocative language and meaning structures of surviving works ANTONINA HARBUS is Professor in the Department of English at Macquarie University Sydney Australia

The Worlds of Herman Kahn Sharon Ghamari-Tabrizi,2009-06-30 Herman Kahn was the only nuclear strategist in America who might have made a living as a standup comedian Indeed galumphing around stages across the country joking his way through one grotesque thermonuclear scenario after another he came frighteningly close In telling the story of Herman Kahn whose 1960 book On Thermonuclear War catapulted him into celebrity Sharon Ghamari Tabrizi captures an era that is still very much with us a time whose innocence gruesome nuclear humor and outrageous but deadly serious visions of annihilation have their echoes in the known unknowns and unknown unknowns that guide policymakers in our own embattled world Portraying a life that combined aspects of Lenny Bruce Hitchcock and Kubrick Ghamari Tabrizi presents not one Herman Kahn but many one who spoke the suffocatingly dry argot of the nuclear experts another whose buffoonery conveyed the ingenious absurdity of it all and countless others who capered before the public ambiguous baffling always open to interpretation This then is a story of one thoroughly strange and captivating man as well as a cultural history of our moment In Herman Kahn's world is a critical lesson about how Cold War analysts learned to fill in the ciphers of strategic uncertainty and thus how we as a nation learned to live with the peculiarly inventive quality of strategy in which uncertainty generates extravagant threat scenarios Revealing the metaphysical behind the dryly deliberate apparently practical discussion of nuclear strategy this book depicts the creation of a world where clever men fashion Something out of Nothing and establishes Herman Kahn as our first virtuoso of the unknown unknowns
