The British Sitcom Spinoff Film Stephen Glynn, 2023-12-07 This book constitutes the first full volume dedicated to an academic analysis of theatrically released spinoff films derived from British radio and television sitcoms Regularly maligned as the nadir of British film production and marginalised as a last resort for the financially bereft industry during the 1970s this study demonstrates that the sitcom spinoff film has instead been a persistent and important presence in British cinema from the 1940s to the present day and includes occasional works with distinct artistic merit Alongside an investigation of the economic imperative underpinning these productions i e the exploitation of proven product with a ready made audience it is argued that with a longevity stretching from Arthur Askey and his wartime Band Waggon 1940 to the crew of Kurupt FM and their recent People Just Do Nothing Big in Japan 2021 the British sitcom spinoff can be interpreted as following a full generic life cycle Starting with the formative stage where works from Hi Gang 1941 to I Only Arsked 1958 establish the genre s characteristics the spinoff genre moves to its classic stage where secure for form and content it enjoys considerable popular success with films like Till Death Us Do Part 1969 On the Buses 1971 The Likely Lads 1976 and Rising Damp 1980 the genre s revival since the late 1990s reveals a more parodic final stage with films like The League of Gentlemen's Apocalypse 2005 adopting a consciously self reflective mode It is also posited that the sitcom spinoff film is a viable source for social history with the often stereotypical re presentations of characters and events an often blatant ideological metonym for the concerns of wider British society notably in issues of class race gender and sexuality Regulating Interracialized Intimacies Elena Zambelli, Betty de Hart, 2025-03-24 This book explores the role of the law in the social construction of race and mixture within and beyond the borders of Europe It focuses on interracialized intimacies that is the intimate relations of subjects ascribed and or perceived to belong to different races The role of the state in defining boundaries between us and them becomes particularly clear in their regulation Moving across different times places and political formations including the US slavery regime European colonial empires and metropolises the book delves deep into how the governments of white supremacist and white majority societies have consistently attempted to prevent discourage or obstruct intimate relationships crossing the colour line This occurred directly through prohibitions and anti miscegenation laws or indirectly through citizenship laws marriage licenses social care prostitution laws housing policies policing practices and other means The book further shows that the legacy of these highly gendered and racialized regulations continues to reverberate today informing norms hierarchies and perceptions about whose intimacies count as legitimate and ought to be facilitated and whose are deemed suspect and requiring state surveillance. The contributions also shed light on the individuals couples and families who were targeted by state regulations and how they challenged and disturbed state categorizations and regulations Highly interdisciplinary in scope with contributions by pioneering United States and European scholars in this field this book will be a fundamental read for scholars researchers and students interested in tracing the genealogy of racial thinking in Europe and beyond and its enduring operativity The Media Student's Book Gill Branston, Roy Stafford, 2003 A comprehensive introduction for students of media studies this third edition of The Media Student's Book has been thoroughly revised and updated in response to feedback from lecturers using the second edition and now focuses on the higher education syllabus more than ever before It covers all the key topics encountered at undergraduate level and provides a detailed and clear guide to concepts and debates Key features include think points and discussion points to get students really engaging with the topics lists of useful web sites resource centres and suggestions for further reading to encourage additional study follow up activities and essay questions which can be used to set tutorial work marginal terms definitions and cross references to provide clear explanations of key concepts and complex theories case studies throughout taken from advertising films radio television newspapers magazines photography and the Internet to ensure students are exposed to a rich range of media forms Including a glossary of key terms for quick reference and revision this third edition will be used by lecturers as a flexible teaching resource and by students to aid independent study
