Rereading Camara Laye:

Rereading Camara Laye Adele King, 2002-01-01 Camara Laye 1928-80 traveled to France from his native Guinea in 1947 on a scholarship to study automobile mechanics. While there he was encouraged by a supporter of the French Union to record the memories of his childhood. The resulting book L'Enfant noir was praised for its style and its uncritical attitude toward French colonization. A year later Laye published Le Regard du roi, a Kafkaesque story of a white man in Africa which was very different in tone, style, and content from L'Enfant noir and from any other African literature being published at the time. L'Enfant noir and Le Regard du roi became seminal works of African fiction in French and were translated into English as The African Child and The Radiance of the King. Adele King met Camara Laye in 1978, two years before his death, and in 1980 published the principal study about him, The Writings of Camara Laye. In 1991 King set out to disprove rumors that Laye was not the author of one of his novels, Le Regard du roi. Instead, she became convinced that the rumors were true and, in the process, unexpectedly discovered a far more interesting story about the creation of Laye as an author and public figure. Rereading Camara Laye describes King's research, which has taken more than ten years. Her inquiry involved finding those who knew Laye in Paris in the 1950s and interviewing them, when possible, as well as examining documents in libraries and archives in France and Belgium. King's findings provide important insights into French publishing and colonial politics in the years following World War II. She also shows how interpretations of Laye's novels have been shaped by the assumption that they were written by an African.

The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor, 2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses. This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century, with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization. Maps of Empire Kyle Wanberg, 2020-06-26 Maps of Empire examines how literature was affected by the decay and break up of old models of imperial administration in the mid-twentieth century. Impostors Christopher L. Miller, 2018-12-10 Miller takes us on an exciting tour of postcolonial and world literature, guiding us through the literary maze of the real and the pretenders to the real. Ngugi wa Thiong'o, author of Wizard of the Crow, writing a new page in the surprisingly long history of literary deceit. Impostors examines a series of literary hoaxes, deceptions that involved flagrant acts of cultural appropriation. This book looks at authors who posed as people they were not in order to claim a different ethnic class or other identity. These writers were, in other words, literary usurpers and appropriators who trafficked in what Christopher L. Miller terms the intercultural hoax. In the United States, such hoaxes are familiar: Forrest Carter's The Education of Little Tree and J.T. LeRoy's Sarah are two infamous examples. Miller's contribution is to study hoaxes beyond our borders, employing a comparative framework and bringing French and African identity hoaxes into dialogue with some of their better-known American counterparts. In France, multiculturalism is generally eschewed in favor of universalism, and there should thus be no identities in the American sense.

to steal However as Miller demonstrates this too is a ruse French universalism can only go so far and do so much There is plenty of otherness to appropriate This French and Francophone tradition of imposture has never received the study it deserves Taking a novel approach to this understudied tradition Impostors examines hoaxes in both countries finding similar practices of deception and questions of harm In this fascinating study of intercultural literary hoaxes Christopher L Miller provides a useful brief history of American literary impostures as a backdrop for his investigation of France's literary history of ethnic usurpation Henry Louis Gates Jr New York Times bestselling author

The Tongue-Tied Imagination Tobias Warner, 2019-03-05 Winner 2021 African Literature Association First Book Award Should a writer work in a former colonial language or in a vernacular The language question was one of the great intractable problems that haunted postcolonial literatures in the twentieth century but it has since acquired a reputation as a dead end for narrow nationalism This book returns to the language question from a fresh perspective Instead of asking whether language matters The Tongue Tied Imagination explores how the language question itself came to matter Focusing on the case of Senegal Warner investigates the intersection of French and Wolof Drawing on extensive archival research and an under studied corpus of novels poetry and films in both languages as well as educational projects and popular periodicals the book traces the emergence of a politics of language from colonization through independence to the era of neoliberal development Warner reads the francophone works of well known authors such as L opold Senghor Ousmane Semb ne Mariama B and Boubacar Boris Diop alongside the more overlooked Wolof language works with which they are in dialogue Refusing to see the turn to vernacular languages only as a form of nativism The Tongue Tied Imagination argues that the language question opens up a fundamental struggle over the nature and limits of literature itself Warner reveals how language debates tend to pull in two directions first they weave vernacular traditions into the normative patterns of world literature but second they create space to imagine how literary culture might be configured otherwise Drawing on these insights Warner brilliantly rethinks the terms of world literature and charts a renewed practice of literary comparison

Out in Africa Chantal J. Zabus, 2013 Homosexuality was and still is thought to be quintessentially un African Yet in this book Chantal Zabus examines the anthropological cultural and literary representations of male and female same sex desire from early colonial contacts between Europe and Africa in the nineteenth century to the present Covering a broad geographical spectrum from Mali to South Africa and from Senegal to Kenya and adopting a comparative approach encompassing two colonial languages English and French and some African languages Out in Africa charts developments in Sub Saharan African texts and contexts through the work of 7 colonial and some 25 postcolonial writers

Dictionary of African Biography Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong, Professor Henry Louis Gates, Jr., 2012-02-02 From the Pharaohs to Fanon Dictionary of African Biography provides a comprehensive overview of the lives of the men and women who shaped Africa's history Unprecedented in scale DAB covers the whole continent from Tunisia to South Africa from Sierra Leone to Somalia It also encompasses the full scope of history from Queen Hatsheput of Egypt 1490 1468 BC and Hannibal the military commander and strategist of Carthage 243 183 BC to Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana 1909 1972 Miriam Makeba and Nelson Mandela of South Africa 1918

Postcolonial Literature and the Impact of Literacy Neil ten Kortenaar, 2011-06-02 Examining images of literacy in African and West Indian novels Neil ten Kortenaar looks at how postcolonial authors have thought about the act of writing itself Writing arrived in many parts of Africa as part of colonization in the twentieth century and with it a whole world of book learning and paper pushing of school and bureaucracy newspapers textbooks and letters candles hurricane lamps and electricity pens paper typewriters and printed type and orthography developed for formerly oral languages Writing only penetrated many layers of West Indian society in the same era The range of writers is wide and includes Chinua Achebe Wole Soyinka and V S Naipaul The chapters rely on close reading of canonical novels but discuss general themes and trends in African and Caribbean literature Ten Kortenaar's sensitive and penetrating treatment of these themes makes this an important contribution to the growing field of postcolonial literary studies

Decolonizing Translation Kathryn Batchelor, 2014-04-08 The linguistically innovative aspect of Francophone African literature has been recognized and studied from a variety of angles over recent decades yet little attention has been paid to what happens to such literature when it is translated into another language Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation

Publishing Africa in French Ruth Bush, 2016 The history of post war writing in French has tended to separate African literature from French metropolitan literary production The same separation resonates in today's global French literary marketplace still dominated by Parisian publishing houses and metropolitan literary kudos This study historicises the aesthetic and socio economic implications of that evident asymmetry Archival research combines with literary analysis to explore the mediations that defined and legitimated notions of language authorship and literary value during the decolonizing vingt glorieuses Revealing known and less known connections between institutions such as Pr sence Africaine Editions du Seuil Gallimard and the Association descrivains de la mer et de l'outre mer the author argues that a contested and variegated African literary presence was widely dispersed across the metropolitan publishing scene in this period These material aspects of book production and distribution are inextricably entangled with ongoing debates over the representation

Vivan Steemers,2021-03-01 In recent years the material circumstances governing the production of African literature have been analyzed from a variety of angles This study goes one step further by charting the trajectories of a corpus of francophone African sub Saharan narratives subsequently translated into English It examines the role of various institutional agents and agencies publishers preface writers critics translators and literary award committees involved in the value making process that accrues visibility to these texts that eventually reach the Anglo American book market The author evinces that over time different types of publishers dominated both within the original publishing space as in the foreign literary field contingent on their specific mission be it commercial ideological or educational as well as on socioeconomic and political circumstances The study addresses the influence of the editorial paratextual framing pandering to specific Western readerships the potential interventionist function of the translator and the consecrating mechanisms of literary and translation awards affecting both gender and minority representation Drawing on the work by key sociologists and translation theorists the author uses an innovative interdisciplinary methodology to analyze the corpus narratives

Exile and Return in African and Caribbean Literature Patoimbasba Nikiema,2025-08-26 Exile is often perceived as an irreversible rupture a state of loss and estrangement Yet in African and Caribbean literature exile and return form a dynamic interplay that reshapes personal collective and national identities This book challenges traditional notions of exile as suffering and return as simple reconnection with homeland and loved ones arguing that in many instances exile fosters deep introspection and transformation while return serves as active engagement with the homeland s sociopolitical and cultural realities Through close readings of works by transnational writers namely Khadi Hane Malika Mokeddem Dany Laferrière and Alain Mabanckou this study explores how exile and return create new forms of belonging political consciousness and cultural renewal It gives voice to exiles navigating the displacement alienation and contradictions of the return At a time when migration remains a polarizing issue in political discourses across Europe and the United States this book reconsiders exile beyond narrative despair revealing its potential as a space of reinvention By bridging exilic imagination and homeland realities this book offers a fresh perspective on how African and Caribbean writers envision the return as an Afrotopian project a participative endeavor that rethinks the future of Africa and the Caribbean as a space of possibilities Exit Stefan Helgesson, 2011 Preliminary Material Some Thoughts on the Idea of Exit in Recent African Narratives of Childhood Richard K Priebe Generation and Complicity in Zo Wicomb's Playing in the Light Maria Olaussen Let Me Tell You About Bekolo's Latest Film Les Saignantes But First Kenneth W Harrow Tradition and Creativity in Zakes Mda's Cion David Bell Paton's Discovery Soyinka's Invention Bernth Lindfors Writing Out Imperialism A Note on Nationalism and Political Identity in the African Owned Newspapers of Colonial Ghana Stephanie Newell After Exit Exile Creativity and the Risk of Translation Stefan Helgesson African Presences and Representations in the Principality Markgrafschaft of Bayreuth Eckhard Bretinger Taking Flight and the Libertarian Crow Scarer Gerald Porter In my end is my beginning The Death of Virginia Woolf Catherine Sandbach Dahlström Following the Race Track Swedish Chinese Scottish Irish Canadian in Diamond Grill by Fred Wah Elisabeth M rald Literature and Scripture An Impossible Filiation J Hillis Miller Gazing into the future Beginnings Endings and Midpoints in Paul Muldoon's Why Brownlee Left Lars H kan Svensson Exiting the Environmental Trap Knowledge Regimes and the Third Phase of Environmental Policy Sverker S rlin The End of the Earth Willy Bach Myself as a Puff of Dust A Ghost Story Jane Bryce TIXE YLNO or Redefining Identities Janice Kulyk Keefer Contributors Black France Dominic Thomas, 2007 Without a doubt one of the most important studies so far completed on literature in French grounded in the experiences of migrants of sub Saharan African origin Alec Hargreaves Florida State University France has always hosted a rich and vibrant black presence within its borders But recent violent events have raised questions about France's treatment of ethnic minorities Challenging the identity politics that have set immigrants against the mainstream Black France explores how black expressive culture has been reformulated as global culture in the multicultural and multinational spaces of France Thomas brings forward questions such as Why is France a privileged site of civilization Who is French Who is an immigrant Who controls the networks of production Black France poses an urgently needed reassessment of the French colonial legacy

Human Rights, Inc. Joseph R. Slaughter, 2009-08-25 In this timely study of the historical ideological and formal interdependencies of the novel and human rights Joseph Slaughter demonstrates that the twentieth century rise of world literature and international human rights law are related phenomena Slaughter argues that international law shares with the modern novel a particular conception of the human individual The Bildungsroman the novel of coming of age fills out this image offering a conceptual vocabulary a humanist social vision and a narrative grammar for what the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and early literary theorists both call the free and full development of the human personality Revising our received understanding of the relationship between law and literature Slaughter suggests that this narrative form has acted as a cultural surrogate for the weak executive authority of international law naturalizing the assumptions and conditions that make human rights appear commonsensical As a kind of novelistic correlative to human rights law the Bildungsroman has thus been doing some of the sociocultural work of enforcement that the law cannot do for itself This analysis of the cultural work of law and of the social work of literature challenges traditional Eurocentric histories of both international law and the dissemination of the novel Taking his point of departure in Goethe's Wilhelm Meister Slaughter focuses on recent postcolonial versions of the coming of age story to show how the promise of human rights becomes legible in narrative and how the novel and the law are complicit in contemporary projects of globalization in colonialism neoimperialism humanitarianism and the spread of multinational consumer capitalism Slaughter raises important practical and ethical questions that we must confront in advocating for human rights and reading world literature imperatives that today more than ever are intertwined

Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Rereading Camara Laye books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Rereading Camara Laye books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Rereading Camara Laye books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information.
