Research Stories For Lifespan Development:

Research Stories for Lifespan Development Alan Morrison, Lary Shaffer, 2002 This book takes a scientific approach to the study of human development by exploring the chronology of a typical lifespan through research stories The primary goal of this book is to help readers learn to be intellectually critical by reading contemporary research literature on human development and evaluating the assertions that are made Each of the 32 chapters is a separate research story telling why the study was done what was done and what the results tell us about development For psychologists educators or anyone interested in human development or family studies Telling Stories Jenn Fishman, Amy C. Kimme Hea, 2023-07-23 In Telling Stories more than a dozen longitudinal writing researchers look beyond conventional project findings to story their work and in doing so offer otherwise unavailable glimpses into the logics and logistics of long range studies of writing The result is a volume that centers interrelations among people places and politics across two decades of praxis and an array of educational sites two year colleges a senior military college an adult literacy center a small liberal arts college and both public and private four year universities Contributors share direct knowledge of longitudinal writing research citing project data e g interview transcripts research notes and journals descriptions drawn from memory and extended personal reflections The resulting stories tempered by the research and scholarship of others convey a sense of longitudinal research as a lived activity as well as a prominent and consequential approach to inquiry Yet Telling Stories is not a how to guide nor is it written for longitudinal researchers alone Instead this volume addresses issues about writing research that are germane to all who conduct or count on it Such topics include building and sustaining good interpersonal research relations ethically negotiating the institutional power dynamics that undergird writing research effectively using knowledge from longitudinal studies to advocate for writers and writing educators and improving both conceptual and concrete resources for long range research in writing studies The Encyclopedia of Positive Psychology Shane J.
