

A black and white photograph of a construction site. In the foreground, there is a large crane with a lattice boom, positioned diagonally across the frame. The background shows the steel framework of a building under construction, with several tall, narrow sections. In the lower right, two construction workers wearing hard hats are visible. The overall scene is industrial and captures a moment in the construction process.

Royal Blue, the Culture of Construction Workers Herbert A. Applebaum, 1981      Royal Blue Herbert A. Applebaum, 1979      Construction Workers, U.S.A. Herbert Applebaum, 1999-10-30 A lively personalized account incorporating objective analysis and solid information accumulated over 42 years this book presents a graphic picture of the construction industry from an insider's point of view The volume focuses on the culture of construction workers the management style of contractors and the structural and organizational nature of the industry It considers such unique features of construction as its craft oriented technology decentralized decision making by workers on the job site and non bureaucratic methods of field supervision Using the research of others government publications and his own intimate experience in the industry the author provides an insightful view of a unique industry in modern America The book opens with an overview of the industry illustrating how construction is organized the craft breakdown and the cultural values of the crafts It then considers such topics as workers job satisfaction craft organization of the work and the dangerous nature of construction Separate chapters are devoted to women construction workers a recent phenomenon in the industry and to minorities and the role of affirmative action In conclusion the book argues that construction is significant both as a major industry and as a model for organizing work to produce worker satisfaction      Broken Buildings, Busted Budgets Barry B. LePatner, 2008-09-15 Addressing the out of control delays and cost overruns of construction projects across the nation prominent construction attorney LePatner builds a powerful case for change in an industry that consumes 1.23 trillion and wastes at least 120 billion each year      Applied Anthropology Satish Kedia, John van Willigen, 2005-10-30 Applied Anthropology Domains of Application edited by Satish Kedia and John van Willigen comprises essays by prominent scholars on the potential accomplishments and methods of applied anthropology Domains covered in the volume include development agriculture environment health and medicine nutrition population displacement and resettlement business and industry education and aging The contributors demonstrate in compelling ways how anthropological knowledge skills and methodologies can be put to work in addressing social economic health and technical problems facing societies today With their genuine commitment to protecting the diversity and vitality of human communities applied anthropologists working in real life settings have and will continue to have a lasting impact on people around the world The editors enrich the volume by providing introductory and concluding chapters that offer a detailed historical context for applied anthropology and an exploration of its future directions      Newcomers In Workplace Louise Lamphere, Alex Stepick, Guillermo J. Grenier, 2011 Case studies capture the experiences difficulties and determination of immigrant workers      Paris Under Construction Jacob Paskins, 2015-12-07 During the 1960s building sites in Paris became spaces that expressed preoccupations about urban transformation labour immigration and national identity As new buildings and infrastructure changed the city building sites revealed the substandard living and working conditions of migrant construction workers in France Moreover construction was the touchstone in debates about the dangers of urban life and triggered action in communities whose districts faced demolition Paris Under Construction explores the social political and cultural responses to construction work and urban transformation in the Paris metropolitan region during the 1960s This examination of a decade of intensive building work considers the ways in which the experience of construction was mediated produced and reproduced through a range of complex and sometimes contradictory representations The building sites that produced the new Paris are no longer visible and were perhaps never intended to be seen yet different groups closely observed and recorded construction giving it meanings that went beyond specific building activities The research draws extensively on French newspaper television and radio archives and delves into rarely examined trade union material Paris Under Construction gives voice to the witnesses of and participants in urban transformation who are usually excluded from architectural and urban history

Preservation Education Barry L. Stiefel, Jeremy C. Wells, 2014-09-02 Over the past twenty years there has been a fundamental shift in the institutional organization of historic preservation education Historic preservation is the most recent arrival in the collection of built environment disciplines and therefore lacks the pedagogical depth and breadth found in allied endeavors such as architecture and planning As the first degree programs in preservation only date to the 1970s and the first doctoral programs to the 1990s new faculty are confronted with pedagogical challenges that are unique to this relatively nascent field Based on a conference that included educators from around the world Barry L Stiefel and Jeremy C Wells now present a collection that seeks to address fundamental issues of preservation pedagogy outcome based education and assessment and global issues of authenticity and significance in historic preservation The editors argue that the subject of the analysis has shifted from What is the best way to fix a historic building to What are the best ways for teaching people how to preserve historic properties and why according to the various standards that have been established This important reconsideration of the state of the field in historic preservation education will appeal to a broad audience across numerous disciplines

Sociology, Work and Organisation Tony Watson, Marek Korczynski, 2011-09-19 Sociology Work and Organisation builds on the five popular and successful editions of Sociology Work and Industry The new text is outstanding in how effectively it explains the value of using the sociological imagination to understand the nature of institutions of work organisations occupations management and employment and how they are changing in the 21st century The book combines intellectual depth with accessible language and a user friendly layout It is unrivalled in the breadth of its coverage and its authoritative overview of both traditional and emergent themes in the sociological study of work and organisation It explains the basic logic of the sociological analysis of work and the way work is organised whilst also providing an appreciation of the different theoretical traditions which the subject draws upon It fully considers the direction and implication of trends in technological change globalisation labour markets work organisation managerial practices and employment relations the extent to which these trends are intimately related to changing patterns of inequality in modern societies and to the changing experiences of individuals and families the ways in which workers challenge resist and make their own contributions to the patterning of work and shaping of work institutions Key features include a new sign posting system which integrates material and brings out themes which run through the various chapters key issue guides and summaries with each chapter and the identifying of key concepts throughout the book which are then brought together in an unrivalled glossary and concept guide at the end
