Once in a Lifetime Kevin McCloud,Sally Blundell,Roger Sutton,Rebecca MacFie,David Sheppard,Gary Franklin,2014-08-31 New Zealand has to rebuild the majority of its second largest city after a devastating series of earthquakes a unique challenge for a developed country in the twenty first century The 2010 2011 earthquakes fundamentally disrupted the conventions by which the people of Christchurch lived The exhausting and exhilarating mix of distress uncertainty creativity opportunities divergent opinions and competing priorities generates an inevitable question how do we know if the right decisions are being made Once in Lifetime City building after Disaster in Christchurch offers the first substantial critique of the Government s recovery plan presents alternative approaches to city building andarchives a vital and extraordinary time It features photo and written essays from journalists economists designers academics politicians artists publicans and more Once in a Lifetime presents a range of national and international perspectives on city building and post disaster urban recovery Teacher Evaluation Policy Daniel L. Duke,1995-10-06 Since the beginning of the school reform movement in the early 1980 s various efforts have been made to improve teacher evaluation Most of the initial efforts were designed to promote greater accountability They were characterized by research based performance standards sophisticated classroom observation procedures and extensive training More recently the focus of teacher evaluation has been expanded to include provisions for professional development Supporters of this trend have argued that accountability based evaluation diminishes in value as teachers gain experience and expertise Teacher Evaluation Policy presents case studies describing how new teacher evaluation policies have been created The contributors go behind the scenes to examine the complex negotiations between politicians and special interest groups that accompany policy making They identify the public and the private agendas guiding decision makers What emerges is a vivid portrait of professionals and politicians grappling over the control of education Accounts include the formulation of teacher evaluation policy in North Carolina Louisiana Connecticut Washington State and Great Britain Oil and Gas Development and Coastal Zone Management United States. Congress. Senate.
