Creativity and Continuity in Six Communities Susan Eike Spalding brings to bear twenty five years worth of rich interviews with black and white Virginians Tennesseans and Kentuckians to explore the evolution and social uses of dance in each region Spalding analyzes how issues as disparate as industrialization around coal plantation culture race relations and the 1970s folk revival influenced freestyle clogging and other dance forms like square dancing in profound ways She reveals how African Americans and Native Americans as well as European immigrants drawn to the timber mills and coal fields brought movement styles that added to local dance vocabularies Placing each community in its sociopolitical and economic context Spalding analyzes how the formal and stylistic nuances found in Appalachian dance reflect the beliefs shared understandings and experiences of the community at large paying particular attention to both regional and racial diversity Written in clear and accessible prose Appalachian Dance is a lively addition to the literature and a bold contribution to scholarship concerned with the meaning of movement and the ever changing nature of tradition      Back Talk from Appalachia Dwight B.

Billings, Gurney Norman, Katherine Ledford, While writing his book Lost Mountain A Year in the Vanishing Wilderness Erik Reece spent a great deal of time studying strip mining and its effect on the environment and surrounding communities After a year of exploring the ugliness of a rapidly disappearing landscape Reece felt a strong need to celebrate the wonder the Eastern broadleaf forests still have to offer The result is a collection of poems by individuals who share Thoreau s belief that the natural world is an unroofed church a place of reverence Field Work Modern Poems from Eastern Forests seeks an answer to Frost's question 'What to make of a diminished thing' by contemplating work from some of the twentieth century's greatest nature poets. Reece frames contemporary American poems with a rich selection of Chinese poetry from the Tang Dynasty written by poets who produced what many consider the first great nature writing. More than 1,300 years ago, Li Po, Tu Fu, Wang Wei, and Han Shan described a landscape in southern China remarkably similar in landscape and ecology to the forests of Appalachia. Consequently, their work has inspired many of the American poets featured in Field Work, including Hayden Carruth, Mary Oliver, A. R. Ammons, Jane Kenyon, and Denise Levertov. The modern poets in this collection share the eastern reverence for the natural world; they desire to create a poetry of belonging, of elemental contact with something much larger than the self. These poems ask the reader to turn away from urban landscapes in an effort to better understand the natural world as a spectacular, profound organism. Wendell Berry, for example, praises the quiet and solitude of nature, inspiring the reader to experience each poem in the setting for which it was written. In Field Work, Reece brings together a collection of poetry that calls readers out of doors, as these poems become gateways to a natural world we are often too distracted to see.
