Hegel and the Logical Structure of Love Tzvetan Todorov, George Vassilacopoulos, 2010 This study presents an original interpretation of the meaning and complex inter relationship of the concepts of love sexuality family and the law It argues that they should be understood as forms of interplay between the subjective and the objective necessity and contingency and unity and difference A comprehensive elaboration of these forms is to be found in Hegel s Science of Logic the conclusions of which he used to organise his ethical and political thought The argument is introduced with a discussion of the relevance of Hegel s speculative philosophy to modernity The authors then explore the relationship between thought being and recognition in Hegel s philosophical system and offer an interpretation of the Science of Logic This interpretation forms the basis of a re assessment of Hegel s treatment of love sexual relationships the family and law A Hegelian account of familial love is employed to review recent debates within a range of discourses including feminism family law and gay and lesbian studies As well as addressing current concerns about sexual difference and the ontology of homosexuality the study provides a guide to reading Hegel in an original and productive way It will be of interest to philosophers feminists theorists of sexualities ethical and legal theorists

 Terms looks at the internal logic of lesbian relationships arguing that they are not patterned after heterosexual ones but rely on the interplay of psychosexual differences between women The book suggests that everyone seeks psychic complementarity with an Other in intimate relationships as a way of supporting personal growth and development A complementary partner is one who is different in some individually meaningful way not necessarily in terms of gender Drawing upon interviews with individuals and lesbian couples literature on lesbian psychology and contemporary psychoanalytic theory Beverly Burch observes a special attraction between primary lesbians women who have been attracted to other women from an early age and lesbians who formerly were heterosexual This difference may be a source of tension for lovers but it also attracts and bonds them in conscious and unconscious ways The intimacy between lesbian partners permits interpersonal exchanges that foster the continuing development of each according to Burch This development can occur in three areas with the significance of each varying from couple to couple It can be a source of both conscious and unconscious psychosexual exchanges a way in which each partner can experience the road not taken through her relationship with the other The partners different histories can reflect different ways of negotiating difference itself a pivotal theme in the development of adult women And gender role identities related to different developmental experiences can be played with expanding the experience of being female in a way that can challenge gender categories Invented
