Hofer,2018-03-15 Only fifty years ago Tibetan medicine now seen in China as a vibrant aspect of Tibetan culture was considered a feudal vestige to be eliminated through government led social transformation Medicine and Memory in Tibet examines medical revivalism on the geographic and sociopolitical margins both of China and of Tibet s medical establishment in Lhasa exploring the work of medical practitioners or amchi and of Medical Houses in the west central region of Tsang Due to difficult research access and the power of state institutions in the writing of history the perspectives of more marginal amchi have been absent from most accounts of Tibetan medicine Theresia Hofer breaks new ground both theoretically and ethnographically in ways that would be impossible in today s more restrictive political climate that severely limits access for researchers She illuminates how medical practitioners safeguarded their professional heritage through great adversity and personal hardship

A Buddhist Ritual Manual on Agriculture Gergely Hidas,2019-09-02 This volume is the first in depth study of a recently discovered Sanskrit dharani spell text from around the 5th century CE surviving in two palm leaf and three paper manuscript compendia from Nepal This rare Buddhist scripture focuses on the ritual practice of thaumaturgic weather control for successful agriculture through overpowering mythical Nagas Traditionally these serpentine beings are held responsible for the amount of rainfall The six chapters of the Vajratundasamayakalparaja present the vidyadhara spell master as a ritualist who uses mandalas mudras and other techniques to gain mastery over the Nagas and thus control the rains By subjugating the Nagas favourable weather and good crops are guaranteed This links this incantation tradition to economic power and the securing of worldly support for the Buddhist community
