Manuscript Painting At The Court Of France:

Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril, 1978 Fourteenth century French manuscripts have been characterized as being striking examples of varied fluid styles expressive of narrative and enhanced by light and delicate modelling. Incidental drolleries often show a direct and tender observation of the natural characteristics of birds, beasts, insects and flowers. In a number of the major manuscripts we find an intriguing new feature: the figures are no longer painted in full color as is the rest of the miniature but are portrayed in pale semi-lucent monochrome or grisaille. The color abstraction of such miniatures makes for a distinct decorative harmony between picture and script which could never exist between black lettering and miniatures painted in full color. François Avril of the Bibliothèque nationale in Paris has selected and described the individual folios reproduced from these masterworks. Quatri me de couverture Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril, 1978 Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril (sec. 20.-21., bibliotecario.), 1978 Insights and Interpretations Colum Hourihane, 2002 Established in 1917 the Index of Christian Art located at Princeton University is now the largest archive of medieval art in existence and the most specialized resource for the iconographer. Throughout its eighty-five years it has justly been recognized as one of the most learned institutions for the study of the art and culture of the medieval world. The essays in this book all by staff or scholars of the archive highlight some of the current research in the archive and the scholarship for which it has been widely renowned. The studies cover art from the Late Antique period to the end of the fifteenth century and include most of the media represented in the archive from manuscripts to sculpture to glass. From reinterpreting previous scholarship to making new insights into the medieval mind they explore such themes as Jephtha's Daughter, Mary Magdalene, Saints Blaise, Paul, Joseph and Elisabeth of Hungary and topics including women in the Bibles moralisées, Late German sermons, the iconographic program at Bourges Cathedral, Franciscan devotional art and a late medieval Islamic manuscript. This volume presents some of the most exciting and interdisciplinary approaches to the study of these subjects from the home of medieval iconography in Princeton. The contributors are Adelaide Bennett, Lois Drewer, Ivan Great, Judith Golden, Gerald Guest, Margaret Jennings, Margaret Lindsey, Mika Natif, Lynn Ransom, Pamela Sheingorn and A. E. Wright. The Making of the Bibles Moralises: Volume I: The Manuscripts, Medieval Manuscripts and Their Provenance A. S. G. Edwards, 2024-07-02 Essays about the creation, circulation and collection of medieval manuscripts. The essays collected here celebrate the work of Barbara Shailor, the distinguished scholar of medieval manuscripts. They explore various aspects of their provenance. The subjects addressed range from studies of the history of individual manuscripts to the evidence afforded by the understanding of their textual traditions to the significance of the identification of fragments to the roles of individual scholars and collectors. As a whole the volume contributes to a wider understanding of how the history and ownership of medieval manuscripts can be fruitfully examined, a flourishing area of interest in the field. Les Manuscrits de Chrétien de Troyes Keith Busby, 1993 The

The Making of Saint Louis Marianne Cecilia Gaposchkin, 2008 Canonized in 1297 as Saint Louis King Louis IX of France r 1226 1270 was one of the most important kings of medieval history and also one of the foremost saints of the later Middle Ages As a saint Louis became the centerpiece of an ideological program that buttressed the ongoing political consolidation of France and underscored Capetian claims of sacred kingship M Cecilia Gaposchkin reconstructs and analyzes the process that led to the monarch s canonization and the consolidation and spread of his cult Differing political and religious ideals produced competing images of the sanctity of Louis in late thirteenth and early fourteenth century France Drawing on hagiography sermons and liturgical evidence the latter a rich but little explored historical source Gaposchkin shows how various groups including Dominicans Cistercians and Franciscans and individuals such as Philip the Fair and Joinville used commemoration of the saint king to sanctify their own politics and notions of identity and religious virtue Louis cult was disseminated to a wider nonelite public through sermons in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries and then revived by the Bourbon kings in the seventeenth century In deepening our knowledge of this royal saint this elegantly written book opens the curtain on the religious sensibilities and secular politics of a transitional period in European history

Jan van Eyck and Portugal's 'Illustrious Generation' Barbara von Barghahn, 2013-12-31 This book investigates Jan Van Eyck s patronage by the Crown of Portugal and his role as diplomat painter for the Duchy of Burgundy following his first voyage to Lisbon in 1428 1429 when he painted two portraits of Infanta Isabella who became the third wife of Philip the Good in 1430 New portrait identifications are provided for the Ghent Altarpiece 1432 and its iconographical prototype the lost Fountain of Life These altarpieces are analysed with regard to King Joao I s conquest of Ceuta achieved by his sons who were hailed as an illustrious generation Strong family ties between the dynastic houses of Avis and Lancaster explain Lusitania s sustained fascination with Arthurian lore and the Grail quest Several chapters of this book are overlaid with a chivalric veneer A second secret mission to Portugal in 1437 by Jan van Eyck is postulated and this diplomatic visit is related to Prince Henry the Navigator s expedition to Tangier and King Duarte s attempts to forge an alliance with Alfonso V of Aragon Late Eyckian commissions are reviewed in the light of this ill fated crusade and additional new portraits are identified The most significant artist of Renaissance Flanders appears to have been patronized as much by the House of Avis as by the Duchy of Burgundy Barbara von Barghahn is Professor of Art History at George Washington University and a specialist in the art history of Portugal Spain and their colonial dominions as well as Flanders In 1993 she was conferred O Grao Comendador in the Portuguese Order of Prince Henry the Navigator She has spent nearly a decade completing research about Jan van Eyck s diplomatic visits to the Iberian Peninsula The Divine Comedy and the Encyclopedia of Arts and Sciences Giuseppe C. Di Scipio,Aldo D. Scaglione,1988-01-01 The guiding principle of this volume is the concept of the artes liberales the trivium and quadrivium as branches of learning that are rooted in Dante Alighieri s mind The present volume contains essays by leading international scholars on the various scientific and artistic disciplines which form the background sources and presence in Dante s opus Medieval Clothing and Textiles Robin Netherton,Gale R. Owen-Crocker,2005 Poetry and Music in Medieval France Ardis Butterfield,2002 In Poetry and Music in Medieval France first published in 2003 Ardis Butterfield examines vernacular song in medieval France She begins with the moment when French song first survives in writing in the early thirteenth century and examines a large corpus of works which combine elements of narrative and song as well as a range of genres which cross between different musical and literary categories Emphasising the cosmopolitan artistic milieu of Arras Butterfield describes the wide range of contexts in which secular songs were quoted and copied including narrative romances satires and love poems She uses manuscript evidence to shed light on medieval perceptions of how music and poetry were composed and interpreted The volume is well illustrated to demonstrate the rich visual culture of medieval French writing and music This interdisciplinary study will be of interest to both literary and musical scholars of late medieval culture Gothic Tombs of Kinship in France, the Low Countries, and England , Gothic Tombs of Kinship is a study of one monumental tomb type in Northern Europe traced from the thirteenth through the fifteenth centuries This is the first extensive treatment that recognizes the kinship tomb for what it is rather than compounding it with its celebrated counterpart the ceremonial tomb where the final rites or funeral procession of the deceased are represented The unique characteristic of a tomb of kinship is that it includes a figurative representation of a family tree This book establishes the kinship tomb as an important Northern European iconographical type equal in interest to the ceremonial tomb as a manifestation of the mentality of the late Middle Ages It traces the development of the type from its inception in France and diffusion in the Low Countries and England until its vulgarization in prefabricated tombstones and alabaster tombs in the fifteenth century The study demonstrates that after being imported into England in the late thirteenth century the kinship tomb became a vehicle for Edward III s assertion of his claim to the French throne and inspired by the king and court the preferred type of the fourteenth century English baron Limited to the princes and knights and their ladies in the thirteenth century the tomb was adopted by the minor gentry and the middle class by the late fourteenth century with a corresponding change from an extended family program to one confined to the nuclear family Gothic Tombs of Kinship identifies a representative number of kinship tombs from the period and the territories that marked their apogee deciphers their programs and places them in their cultural context
