overthrows another Mao The Cultural Revolution was responsible for the most severe setback and the heaviest losses suffered by the Party the country and the people since the founding of the People s Republic The Communist Party s description of the Cultural Revolution in 1981 five years after Mao s death It s a sure sign of fame when a man is known simply by his first name and Mao Zedong often referred to simply as Mao or Chairman Mao was one of the most influential men of the 20th century He was also arguably the most controversial as the founder of the People s Republic of China Mao rose from being a communist revolutionary to successfully overthrowing a regime and transforming China into a communist powerhouse in Asia The ramifications of Mao s life and legacy are still very much felt today as China continues to transition into a superpower that may soon lay claim to the world s largest economy Mao s communist revolution is still controversial but it was his reign over China that has made him notorious and in the West he is often considered one of history s biggest tyrants Mao s revolution and his subsequent policies have been accused of causing millions of deaths possibly more than the likes of Hitler and Stalin It has been roughly estimated that Mao was responsible for the deaths of anywhere from 40 70 million but he has plenty of defenders as well and they cite Mao s military and political leadership for inspiring similar revolutions across the world When the Great Leap failed he was outmaneuvered by experts in the party who went on to restore the more gradualist approach of the first Five Year Plan In the subsequent years without an active governing role Mao concluded that the gains of the revolution could be lost if China simply came under the grip of a new governing elite He decided that the only way to instill a proper revolutionary fervor in the country s youth was to enlist them to wage a permanent war on the vestiges of bourgeois culture in China It was against this backdrop that Mao announced the Cultural Revolution in 1966 Unlike the revolution that brought the communists to power by using armed struggle to gain political power this new revolution was to be waged at the level of everyday life carried out by common citizens against fellow citizens suspected of rightist tendencies The vanguard of the movement was the volunteer Red Guard a citizen army of young people who wore red armbands and called out those they suspected of counterrevolutionary tendencies The Cultural Revolution became a war of all against all Students attacked and revolted against their teachers young people exposed their parents as rightists urban intellectuals were forced to go to the countryside and work on farms and Communist Party officials were publicly shamed in front of large crowds Thousands and possibly even millions were killed or driven to suicide among them Mao s intraparty rivals Liu Shaoqi and Peng Dehuai The Red Guard had as one of their tenets a fierce devotion to Mao and they required that the Chairman s portrait be displayed in every household and on every street corner Elements of traditional Chinese culture including architecture art music and literature were rooted out and destroyed by the Red Guard in its fervent effort to cleanse communist culture of the relics of the past Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States.

The History and Logic of Modern Chinese

Politics Mingsheng Wang,2021-08-24 This book explores the history and development of modern Chinese politics Written by

Dr Mingsheng Wang a renowned Chinese political scientist it presents a truly groundbreaking and thought provoking study of the sociopolitical forces behind China s gradual emergence as a new global power in the 20th century and its rapid rise as the world s second largest economy over the past 40 years The author s argument illuminated by comparative theoretical analyses based on meticulously detailed empirical research functions as a lens through which readers can better understand China s remarkable accomplishments as well as consider broader issues that have perplexed many Is there a China Path to sociopolitical progress What is socialism with Chinese characteristics Can China redefine its niche and maintain its growing momentum in an increasingly multilateral world And finally what lessons can we draw from China s continuing progress in the post COVID era As the author argues eloquently and with persuasive evidence China s ongoing progress has followed neither the mode of Russian style socialism nor that of Western prototypical capitalism Rather it represents a distinctively different model of progress and a continuous search for a viable alternative route to modernity that is permeated with Chinese realities By identifying an alternative system described as the China Path the author demonstrates convincingly that there exist ample options for different types of modernity and that economic growth means not only industrialization but also the development of political democratization and the realization of the rule of law In this sense this book significantly enriches our understanding of modern China The 33 carefully selected essays in the anthology provide a much needed opportunity for scholars policy makers and all interested readers to obtain an insider s view of the history and prospect of China s political development

Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Orientalism Sinology Chinese China grade 1 3 Tsinghua University language English abstract The Chinese Cultural Revolution also well known as the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution Wuchan jieji Wenhua Dageming describes a unparalleled and from the top established revolution launched by Chinese Communist Party CCP chairman Mao Zedong during his very last period in power 1966 76 to restore the spirit of the Chinese Revolution Lieberthal 2016 Mao Zedong during this time feared that China possibly could develop like the Soviet Russian nation did and he did not want China to follow their example He was very concerned about China s and his own place in history and therefore did not hesitate to throw China s cities into chaos in a big effort to reverse the historic processes which were on their way obviously Plenty of the events during this period of this time are without equal in the modern world s history After the catastrophic Great Leap Forward in which according to some sources more than 45 million people died Mao Zedong decided to take a passive role in governing China More practical and moderately oriented leaders such as Vice Chairman Liu Shaoqi and Premier Zhou Enlai introduced soft economic reforms founding on individual incentives such as allowing private people to farm their own land an effort to rebuild and strengthen the heavily harmed economy Leese 2016

Mao disliked such actions as they went against the principles of pure communism in which he believed deeply In fact China s economy grew sustainably from 1962 to 1965 with the more conservative economic policies applying Stanford 2001

Warren W. Smith Jr.,2023-04-11 China has produced a tremendous amount of propaganda justifying its invasion and occupation of Tibet This book reproduces excerpts from some of the most notable of these articles along with a critical analysis The primary themes of Chinese propaganda about Tibet are that Tibet has always been a part of China thus there is no question about Tibetan independence or a Chinese invasion of Tibet that the traditional Tibetan social system was a dark cruel savage feudal hell on earth from which Tibetans welcomed their liberation by the CCP and that China has selflessly assisted Tibetan social and economic development ever since while taking nothing from Tibet China denies the legitimacy of any issues of Tibetan nationalism self determination or any desire by Tibetans for an independent political existence Despite China s claims about the happiness of the Tibetan people Tibetan resistance has continued These excerpts from propaganda articles and documents reveal the political and cultural ideology of the Chinese as they attempt to maintain and justify their control over Tibet
