Bowman,2017-07-28 This important reference volume covers developments in almost every aspect of British library and information work during the ten year period 1991 2000 Some forty contributors all of whom are experts in their subject provide a robust overview of their specialities along with extensive further references which act as a starting point for further research The book provides a comprehensive record of what took place in library and information management during a decade of considerable change and challenges It is an essential reference resource for librarians and information professionals Maps and Related Cartographic Materials Mary Lynette Larsgaard,1999 From an illuminating and entertaining The New York Times historian comes the World War II story of two men whose remarkable lives improbably converged at the Tokyo war crimes trials of 1946 Fundamentals of Cartography (Second Revised and Enlarged Edition) R.P. Misra,2014-01-01 The first edition of Fundamentals of Cartography was published in 1969 by Prasara University of Mysore. It was reprinted by the Concept Publishing Company New Delhi. While the book remained in currency, the cartographic processes changed drastically when information technology brought a sea of change in the sources of information, drafting of maps and printing processes. Drawing maps by hand became obsolete; surveying, whether ground or aerial, was no longer the only major source of information. In view of these changes, it became necessary to bring out a new edition. Realising that unless one knows directions, scales, projections, coordinates, ground and air surveys, one would fail to understand the proper use of modern information technology in the drawing of maps. Thus the contents of the 1969 edition are retained and new chapters have been added to update the book. In Part II of the book, a chapter on Remote Sensing and Satellite Imagery has been added, and Part V contains chapters on Computer Aided Cartography, Geographic Information System, GIS, Land Information System, LIS and Global Positioning System, GPS.

International Dictionary of Library Histories David H. Stam, 2001-11-01. Following the format of Fitzroy Dearborn's highly successful International Dictionary of Historic Places and International Dictionary of University Histories, the International Dictionary of Library Histories provides basic information for each institution, location and holdings, followed by an extensive 1,000-5,000 word essay on its history, as well as a Further Reading list. In addition, the dictionary includes introductory articles on the history of various types of libraries and a library history in various regions of the world. The dictionary profiles more than 200 institutions from around the world, including the world's most important research libraries and other libraries with globally or regionally notable collections, innovative traditions, and significant and interesting histories. The essays take advantage of the growing scholarship of library history to provide insightful overviews of each institution, including not only the traditional values of these libraries but their innovations, as well as such as developments in automated systems and electronic delivery. The profiles will emphasize the unique materials of research in these institutions: archives, manuscripts, personal and institutional papers. The introductory articles on types of libraries include topics ranging from theological libraries to prison libraries, from the ancient to the digital. An international team of more than 200 leading scholars in the field have contributed essays to the project.

Maxwell's Handbook for AACR2 Robert L. Maxwell, 2004-05-24. For application of the most current Anglo American Cataloguing Rules, there is but one standard: Maxwell's Handbook for AACR2. This practical and authoritative cataloging "how-to" is now in its Fourth Edition, has been completely revised, inclusive of the 2003 update to AACR2. Designed to interpret and explain AACR2, Maxwell illustrates and applies the latest cataloging rules to the MARC record for every type of information format. Focusing on the concept of integrating resources where relevant information may be available in different formats, the revised edition also addresses the Program for Cooperative Cataloging (PCC) and the cataloging needs of electronic books and digital reproductions of physical items such as books and maps. From books and pamphlets to sound recordings, music, manuscripts, maps, and more, this is the most comprehensive and straightforward guide to interpreting and applying standard cataloging rules. Learn how and when
