Maps, 1975 Maps R. A. Skelton, 1977-04-01 Maps Raleigh Ashlin Skelton, 1975 Published for the Hermon Dunlap Smith Center for the History of Cartography the Newberry Library Maps R. A. Skelton, 1975 Book catalog of the Library and Information Services Division Environmental Science Information Center. Library and Information Services Division, 1977 Piri Reis Map of 1513 Gregory C. McIntosh, 2012-03-15 One of the most beautiful maps to survive the Great Age of Discoveries the 1513 world map drawn by Ottoman admiral Piri Reis is also one of the most mysterious Gregory McIntosh has uncovered new evidence in the map that shows it to be among the most important ever made This detailed study offers new commentary and explication of a major milestone in cartography Correcting earlier work of Paul Kahle and pointing out the traps that have caught subsequent scholars McIntosh disproves the dubious conclusion that the Reis map embodied Columbus s Third Voyage map of 1498 showing that it draws instead on the Second Voyage of 1493 1496 He also refutes the popular misinterpretation that Reis s depictions of Antarctica are evidence of either ancient civilizations or extraterrestrial visitation McIntosh brings together all that has been previously known about the map and also assembles for the first time the translations of all inscriptions on the map and analyzes all place names given for New World and Atlantic islands His work clarifies long standing mysteries and opens up new ways of looking at the history of exploration Playing the Globe John Gillies, Virginia Mason Vaughan, 1998 The essays collected here explore the representation of contemporary cartographic knowledge within a variety of English Renaissance dramatic texts Including a preface and introduction that contextualize English cartographic awareness in the late sixteenth century Playing the Globe provides a wide ranging exploration of the rich variety of mental maps that shaped England s attitudes toward itself and others and continues to affect the ways in which the Anglo American world imagines itself The History of Cartography, Volume 6 Mark Monmonier, 2015-05-18 For more than thirty years the History of Cartography Project has charted the course for scholarship on cartography bringing together research from a variety of disciplines on the creation dissemination and use of maps Volume 6 Cartography in the Twentieth Century continues this tradition with a groundbreaking survey of the century just ended and a new full color encyclopedic format The twentieth century is a pivotal period in map history The transition from paper to digital formats led to previously unimaginable dynamic and interactive maps Geographic information systems radically altered cartographic institutions and reduced the skill required to create maps Satellite positioning and mobile communications revolutionized wayfinding Mapping evolved as an important tool for coping with complexity organizing knowledge and influencing public opinion in all parts of the globe and at all levels of society Volume 6 covers these changes comprehensively while thoroughly demonstrating the far reaching effects of maps on science technology and society and vice versa The lavishly produced volume includes more than five hundred articles accompanied by more than a thousand images Hundreds of expert contributors provide both original research often based on their own participation in the developments

they describe and interpretations of larger trends in cartography Designed for use by both scholars and the general public this definitive volume is a reference work of first resort for all who study and love maps Chaucer's Cultural Geography Kathryn L. Lynch, 2013-10-15 This compilation of new essays and essays published over the past fifty years explores Chaucer's experiences with the cultural other especially Chaucer's relationship to Far Eastern Islamic and African sources While studies of Chaucer's orientalism have heretofore focused on the Squire's Tale Chaucer's Cultural Geography considers many different Chaucerian works in the context of sexual geographies and colonizing and postcolonizing discourses It comes at a time when critical methodology is being debated and a variety of approaches to Chaucer studies using modes of analyses normally reserved for later periods including Said's orientalism theories Dollimore's transgressive proximity and new French feminism Moreover the book fits well into the new emphasis in the Chaucer curriculum on globalism and multiculturalism

The Literary and Cultural Spaces of Restoration London Cynthia Wall, 1998 In September 1666 the Great Fire destroyed four fifths of the ancient City of London within three days All that had been familiar settled known was suddenly and entirely swept away Londoners faced an emptiness that was not only physical but also historical social financial and conceptual The Literary and Cultural Spaces of Restoration London is the first study to situate the literature of Restoration and early Augustan England within the historical and cultural contexts of the rebuilding of London after the Great Fire Cynthia Wall relates the marked topographical specificity of plays poems and novels to a wider cultural network of responses to changing perceptions of urban space and she shows how the literatures of the period along with the surveying mapping rebuilding and official redescribing of the city attempt to reinvest the city with comprehensible meaning and create new spaces for new genres

Erikson, Eskimos & Columbus James Robert Enterline, 2003-05-01 This revealing analysis of Medieval cartography and native American travel upends conventional narratives about discovering the New World For generations American schools have taught children that Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492 But evidence shows that Leif Erikson set foot on the continent centuries earlier As debate continues over which explorer deserves the credit early maps of North America suggest that we may be asking the wrong questions How did medieval Europeans have such specific geographic knowledge of North America a land even their most daring adventurers had not yet discovered In Erikson Eskimos and Columbus James Robert Enterline presents new evidence that traces this knowledge to the cartographic skills of indigenous people of the high Arctic who he contends provided the basis for medieval maps of large parts of North America Drawing on an exhaustive chronological survey of pre Columbian maps including the controversial Yale Vinland Map this book boldly challenges conventional accounts of Europe's discovery of the New World Wild Races

Lalruatkima, 2024-01-05 This book analyzes the narrative dynamics of social formations in British India using statistical and ethnographic records visual cultures and linguistic exercises to describe the British Empire's production of knowledge about so called strange new worlds Lalruatkima then labels these narrative dynamics as scripturalizing to account for the creation or writing of these worlds into existence This focus underscores empire as one of many such formations imagined against the backdrop of contested conversations about what it is and what it could be When reverse engineered empire throws into sharp relief its constituent narrative placeholders and the sequences of meaning making that connect them Power differentials between the imperial center and frontier determine the placeholders and how they fit into the larger narrative These discursive components in turn engender the politically charged attitudes and relations within the imperial domain

Lalruatkima excavates the imperial archive for material that accounts for these narrative dynamics A View of Venice Kristin Love Huffman, 2023-12-05 Jacopo de Barbari's View of Venice a woodcut first printed in the year 1500 presents a bird's eye portrait of Venice at its peak as an international hub of trade art and culture An artistic and cartographic masterpiece of the Renaissance the View depicts Venice as a vibrant waterborne city interconnected by canals and bridges and filled with ornate buildings elaborate gardens and seafaring vessels The contributors to A View of Venice Portrait of a Renaissance City draw on a high resolution digital scan of the over nine foot wide composite print to examine the complexities of this extraordinary woodcut and portrayal of early modern Venetian life The essays show how the View constitutes an advanced material artifact of artistic humanist and scientific culture They also outline the ways the print reveals information about the city's economic and military power religious and social infrastructures and cosmopolitan residents Featuring methodological advancements in the digital humanities A View of Venice highlights the reality and myths of a topographically unique mystical city and its place in the world Contributors Karen edis Barzman Andrea Bellieni Patricia Fortini Brown Valeria Caf Stanley Chojnacki Tracy E Cooper Giada Damen Julia A DeLancey Piero Falchetta Ludovica Galeazzo Maartje van Gelder Jonathan Glixon Richard Goy Anna Christine Swartwood House Kristin Love Huffman Holly Hurlburt Claire Judde de Larivi re Blake de Maria Martina Massaro Cosimo Monteleone Monique O Connell Mary Pardo Giorgio Tagliaferro Sandra Weddle Bronwen Wilson Rangsook Yoon Gender and Landscape Josephine Carubia, Lorraine Dowler, Bonj Szczygiel, 2013-04-15 Gender and Landscape is a feminist inquiry into a long ignored area of study the landscape Although there has been an exhaustive investigation into issues of gender as they intersect with space and place very little has been written about the gendering of the landscape This volume provides a bridge between feminist discussions of space and place as something lived and landscape interpretations as something viewed Cartographic Encounters G. Malcolm Lewis, 1998-09-15 Ever since a native American prepared a paper chart of the lower Colorado River for the Spaniard Hernando de Alarcon in 1540 native Americans have been making maps in the course of encounters with whites the most recent maps often support land claims This book charts the history of these cartographic encounters examining native maps and mapmaking from the earliest contacts onward Book Catalog of the Library and Information Services Division: Shelf List catalog Environmental Science Information Center.
