Mapping Irish Theatre Chris Morash, Shaun Richards, 2013-12-12 Seamus Heaney once described the sense of place generated by the early Abbey theatre as the imaginative protein of later Irish writing Drawing on theorists of space such as Henri Lefebvre and Yi Fu Tuan Mapping Irish Theatre argues that theatre is a machine for making place from space Concentrating on Irish theatre the book investigates how this Irish sense of place was both produced by and produced the remarkable work of the Irish Revival before considering what happens when this spatial formation begins to fade Exploring more recent site specific and place specific theatre alongside canonical works of Irish theatre by playwrights including J M Synge Samuel Beckett and Brian

Friel the study proposes an original theory of theatrical space and theatrical identification whose application extends beyond Irish theatre and will be useful for all theatre scholars Mapping Histories Ravinder Kumar, Neera Chandhoke, 2002 Edited by Professor Neera Chandhoke Mapping Histories is a fitting tribute to renowned historian Ravinder Kumar well known for his pioneering work on the social consequences of colonial rule in India and for founding the Centre for Contemporary Studies at the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library Here Fellows of the centre present a collection of historical and contemporary studies on India which deal with diverse themes from religion to the environment cultural studies to feminism Together these lively and challenging essays offer readings on how we understand India's history and conversely how we can use this comprehension of the past to interpret India's complex present Women Looking for a Man God Couldn'T

Find Vester L. Dock, 2012-07-28 The information in this book is just another way of looking at situations in marriages and relationships how a woman chooses a man the dangers that lead to committing suicide Biblical guidance for believers and non believers this book can be used to help women from becoming a victim of abuse or being murdered or stuck in a cage or being a prisoner in their own homes The information in this book will also help women not to wallow in their past mistakes and be able to see warning signs so they won't overlook them this book will serve as guidance to women that when they communicate it keeps them from procrastination and from suffering many painful regrets Mapping the Monosexual Imaginary Lain A.B. Mathers, 2024-05-29 Even though they are the largest sexual minority group in the United States the lives joys and struggles of bi people as well as the social structure of monosexism are regularly overlooked in social scientific research and broader conversations about sexuality and gender Mapping the Monosexual Imaginary interrupts this pattern of erasure by providing readers with a sociological examination of sexualities in society that places bi people and monosexism at the center of analysis Through exploring bi people's experiences navigating identity community and politics Lain Mathers argues that to understand and challenge gender and sexual inequalities we must first recognize and interrogate the structure of monosexism At a time when attacks on LGBTQ people are increasing this book offers an incisive examination of how an often overlooked group within the LGBTQ community makes sense of their place in the world and what we can learn from attending to the specific issues that bi people face in society Mapping Gendered Routes and Spaces in the Early Modern World Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2016-03-03 How did gender figure in understandings of spatial realms from the inner spaces of the body to the furthest reaches of the globe How did women situate themselves in the early modern world and how did they move through it in both real and imaginary locations How do new disciplinary and geographic connections shape the ways we think about the early modern world and the role of women and men in it These are the questions that guide this volume which includes articles by a select group of scholars from many disciplines Art History Comparative Literature English German History Landscape Architecture Music and Women's Studies Each essay reaches across fields and several are written by interdisciplinary groups of authors The essays also focus on many different places including Rome Amsterdam

London and Paris and on texts and images that crossed the Atlantic and the Mediterranean or that portrayed real and imagined people who did. Many essays investigate topics key to the spatial turn in various disciplines such as borders and their permeability, actual and metaphorical spatial crossings, travel and displacement and the built environment. Words for Wild Women J Lei D, 2020-11-15. A collection of meaningful messages to manage misgivings, surmount self sabotage and submit to the super power of the soul. Written wildly to entertain and engage the wit of wild women, the twists of tales here electrify the light of life. Wild words send signals to chakra energy centres to break down blockages and balance the scales of sensibilities shook by silly and sorrowful situations. Wild ways often precede personal power by making sense of senselessly suppressing self love. It's a long learning curve when your losses outweigh your wins. Words for Wild Women prompts reflection, developing a deeper understanding of why each misstep and misfortune on a wild road act as mile stones to self mastery. The will of the wild is not motivated by madness but rather a mission to overcome the heat from hell. Seek to ascend through the channels of change with love. Self love. A Map of the New Country Sara Maitland, 2014-10-03. Most feminists have turned away from the Christian churches regarding both Catholicism and the protestant denominations as bastions of sexism and patriarchal oppression. However, Christian feminists committed to improving the position of Christian women and to the spiritual renewal of their respective churches are drawing inspiration for their struggles from the contemporary Women's Movement. In this study, Sara Maitland looks at what has been happening to Christian women in general and Christian feminists in particular over the last fifteen to twenty years. She sets their experiences in the framework of the history of the churches and reviews it in the light of events such as the Second Vatican Council, the ordination of Baptist and Episcopal women ministers in America and Britain, and the debate about the ordination of women in the Anglican communion. She argues that the insights gained by Christian feminists put them in a unique position to prophesy to their respective churches, leading them back to the Gospel imperatives of love, justice and freedom, and that an understanding and acceptance of this role of women is crucial to the well being of the whole Church. As well as studying the history, theology and institutional structures of the denominational churches, the book uses a wealth of interview material from both sides of the Atlantic to describe the experiences of women from many different backgrounds, including nuns, women priests and lay workers. Sara Maitland concludes that Christianity can and must pass beyond the long centuries of oppression and division into a new country, a country in which women and men are equally made in the image of God. First published in 1983.

Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World Sibonile Edith Ellece, Kemmonye Collete Monaka, Owen S Seda, 2010-10-12. Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World addresses issues of representations of Africa in the English speaking world. English has become a global language which has turned the world into a global village, and as Graddol 2008 states, it is now redefining national and individual identities worldwide, shifting political fault lines, creating new global patterns of wealth and social exclusion, and suggesting new notions of human rights and responsibilities of citizenship. This book grapples with the relationship between Africa and the rest of the English speaking world and touches on issues of Euro American misrepresentations of the continent in literary works and films misrepresentations which are nevertheless passed as true and infallible knowledge of Africa marginalization of Africans African languages and culture African scholarship language policy language diglossia African theatre in post colonial Africa identity negotiations in post colonial Africa and relations between gender and language among other issues These issues are bound to stimulate debates on Africa and its representation s in the English speaking world     Mapping Trauma and Its Wake Charles R.
