Mapuche ñi mongen. Persona y sociedad en la vida mapuche rural Magnus Course, 2024-12-30 En esta obra el lector podr apreciar un riguroso trabajo de etnografía an lisis y sumado a ello una intensa relación con los habitantes de la zona bafkehche del mapuche mapu territorio mapuche Diversos temas son abordados para explicar el sentido del mapuche rakizuam frente a temas como el sentido y ser individuo en una sociedad que est en un constante proceso de transformación reelaboración resistencia y reproducción de sus códigos m s ontológicos del ser mapunche demostrándonos con ello que la antropología como disciplina nos ayuda a vernos a pensarnos y repensarnos desde nuestras diversas y complejas formas de existencia Process and Pattern in Culture Robert A. Manners, 2017-07-12 This festschrift commemorates Julian H Steward The essays were contributed by former students colleagues and other anthropologists whose research or thinking has been influenced by him There was no preconceived attempt to give the volume any greater sense of unity or to impose upon the contributors any restrictions as to subject matter On the contrary each author was urged to write on an anthropological topic of greatest current interest to himself Many of the essays could be placed just as handily within a division other than the one to which they have arbitrarily been assigned in the book This kind of interchangeability may reflect in some measure the interrelatedness of Steward's contributions to anthropological theory The broad relevance of all the selections to Steward's work could reflect also the extent to which his interests continue to be reflected in the work of anthropologists influenced by him. It could also reflect a parallelism of theoretical concerns within the profession that stem from the cultural ambience that produced Steward himself. Parallelisms and convergence are aspects of the kind of cultural determinism which has claimed Steward's attention during the many years that he fought a fairly lonely battle to establish the respectability of evolutionism in anthropology. Now that respectability has been achieved with an almost bandwagon fervor, it is clear that Steward as much as anyone else in anthropology was responsible for the change. The essays in this collection are at once a vindication of his patience, an evidence of the high status he enjoys among anthropologists, and a testimony to the impact of his unusual creativity on his colleagues.

The Grand Araucanian Wars (1541-1883) in the Kingdom of Chile Eduardo Agustin Cruz, 2010-04-27. The Mapuches accomplished what the mighty Aztec and Inca empires failed so overwhelmingly to do: to preserve their independence and keep the Spanish invaders at bay. The Mapuche infantry played a vital role in the Araucanian war from the initial of the conquest in 1541 to 1883. The goals of this book are: a) To provide an overview of the military aspects: weaponry, armory, the horse and tactics, strategy facing the Mapuches at the beginning of the Spanish conquest; b) To provide an overview of the military superiority enjoyed by the Spanish army, in addition, the role of the Auxiliary Indian; c) To point out how, by military innovations and adaptation in the face of Araucanian war, the Mapuches managed to resist Spanish military campaigns for over 300 years.

Peoples of the Earth Martin Edwin Andersen, 2012-07-10. Peoples of the Earth employs a comparative history of ethno nationalism to examine Indian activism and its challenges to the political, social, and economic status quo in the countries of Central and South America. It explores the intersection between problems of democratic empowerment and security, including the appearance of radical Islam among Indians in two important countries arising from the re-emergence of dormant forms of ethnic militancy and unprecedented internal challenges to nation states. The institutions and practices of Indian self-government in the United States and Canada are examined as a means of comparison with contemporary phenomena in Central and South America, suggesting frameworks for the successful democratic incorporation of the region's most disenfranchised peoples. European models emerging from interethnic dilemmas are considered as are those involving the Inuit people or Eskimos in the Canadian far north. As policymakers there think outside the box in ways that include more robust roles for both sub-national and international bodies. Finally, the work challenges policymakers to broaden the debate about how to approach the issues of political and economic empowerment and regional security concerning Native peoples to include consideration of new ways of protecting both land rights and the environment, thus avoiding a zero-sum solution between the region's 40 million Indians and the rest of its peoples. Peoples of the Earth has the potential to become a pioneer study addressing ethnic activism characterized by multiple small groups pressing for state recognition and democratic participation while also promoting a defence of the environment and natural resources. Part of its attractiveness is the likelihood that the work will lead to further investigations and will become an authoritative point of departure for the fertile area of ethnonationalism studies in Latin America Each country chapter provides a succinct but substantial presentation of the basic issues and challenges facing the Native peoples of the country Overall the book has an excellent mix of historical and contemporary analysis

Process and Pattern in Culture Robert Alan Manners, Julian Haynes Steward, This festschrift commemorates Julian H Steward The essays were contributed by former students colleagues and other anthropologists whose research or thinking has been influenced by him There was no preconceived attempt to give the volume any greater sense of unity or to impose upon the contributors any restrictions as to subject matter On the contrary each author was urged to write on an anthropological topic of greatest current interest to himself Many of the essays could be placed just as handily within a division other than the one to which they have arbitrarily been assigned in the book This kind of interchangeability may reflect in some measure the interrelatedness of Steward s contributions to anthropological theory The broad relevance of all the selections to Steward s work could reflect also the extent to which his interests continue to be reflected in the work of anthropologists influenced by him It could also reflect a parallelism of theoretical concerns within the profession that stem from the cultural ambience that produced Steward himself Parallelisms and convergence are aspects of the kind of cultural determinism which has claimed Steward s attention during the many years that he fought a fairly lonely battle to establish the respectability of evolutionism in anthropology Now that respectability has been achieved with an almost bandwagon fervor it is clear that Steward as much as anyone else in anthropology was responsible for the change The essays in this collection are at once a vindication of his patience an evidence of the high status he enjoys among anthropologists and a testimony to the impact of his unusual creativity on his colleagues

Indigenous Sacraments Oriol Ambrogio Gali, 2024-12-04 Indigenous Sacraments provides the first study of Indigenous perceptions of the Christian sacraments at the fringes of colonial Spanish America particularly in the missions established by the Jesuits in northwestern Mexico central southern Chile and the Gran Chaco After Jesuit missionaries arrived in these regions between the end of the sixteenth and the early seventeenth centuries their sacraments came to control every rite of passage from birth to reaching adulthood to the formation of new families to death Through the administration of the sacraments missionaries intended to replace extant Indigenous habits and beliefs with Christian values The disruptions triggered by such processes raised multiple local reactions from initial curiosity and incomprehension to rejection partial acceptance and ritual imitation Locals debated the newly introduced rituals and both violently rejected them and developed their own versions becoming active participants in the sacraments diffusion Oriol Ambrogio Gali draws on a range of diverse sources to explore the changing attitudes toward the sacraments and to highlight the cultural and religious evolution of the Indigenous groups living at the fringes of Spanish America By exploring local perceptions of the Christian sacraments Ambrogio Gali shows that Indigenous peoples were far from static recipients of Christianity in the Americas Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 The central aim of this encyclopedia is to give the reader a comparative perspective on issues involving conceptions of gender gender differences gender roles relationships between the genders and sexuality The encyclopedia is divided into two volumes Topics and Cultures The combination of topical overviews and varying cultural portraits is what makes this encyclopedia a unique reference work for students researchers and teachers interested in gender studies and cross cultural variation in sex and gender It deserves a place in the library of every university and every social science and health department Contents Glossary Cultural Conceptions of Gender Gender Roles Status and Institutions Sexuality and Male Female Interaction Sex and Gender in the World s Cultures Culture Name Index Subject Index Anthropology and Social Change in Rural Areas Bernardo Berdichewsky,2011-06-01

No detailed description available for Anthropology and Social Change in Rural Areas The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Dale A. Olsen,Daniel E. Sheehy,2017-09-25 The Encyclopedia s coverage ranges from the Bahamas to Tierra del Fuego and from Baja California to Uruguay as it describes the extraordinarily rich and varied music of people from all the countries south of the Rio Grande river Sentient Lands Piergiorgio Di Giminiani,2018-11-20 In 1990 when Augusto Pinochet s 17 year military dictatorship ended democratic rule returned to Chile Since then Indigenous organizations have mobilized to demand restitution of their ancestral territories seized over the past 150 years Sentient Lands is a historically grounded ethnography of the Mapuche people s engagement with state run reconciliation and land restitution efforts Piergiorgio Di Giminiani analyzes environmental relations property state power market forces and indigeneity to illustrate how land connections are articulated in both landscape experiences and land claims Rather than viewing land claims as simply bureaucratic procedures imposed on local understandings and experiences of land connections Di Giminiani reveals these processes to be disputed practices of world making Ancestral land formation is set in motion by the entangled principles of Indigenous and legal land ontologies two very different and sometimes conflicting processes Indigenous land ontologies are based on a relation between two subjects land and people both endowed with sentient abilities By contrast legal land ontologies are founded on the principles of property theory wherein land is an object of possession that can be standardized within a regime of value Governments also use land claims to domesticate Indigenous geographies into spatial constructs consistent with political and market configurations Exploring the unexpected effects on political activism and state reparation policies caused by this entanglement of Indigenous and legal land ontologies Di Giminiani offers a new analytical angle on Indigenous land politics La ruralidad chilena actual Roberto Hernández Aracena,Luis Pezo Orellana,2010 Towards an Atlas of the History of Interpreting Lucía Ruiz Rosendo,Jesús Baigorri-Jalón,2023-02-22 The aspiration of an Atlas is to cover the whole world by compiling cartographical material representing territories from across the five continents This book intends to contribute to that ideally comprehensive yet always unfinished Atlas with pieces gathered from all of the Earth s regions However its focus is not so much of a geographical nature although maps and geographical reflections are not absent in its pages but of a historical analytical one As such the Atlas engages in the historical analysis of interpreters of both language and cultures in multiple interpreting settings and places including in zones which are less frequently studied in specialized literature in different historical periods and at various scales All the interpreters described in the book share the ability to speak two or more languages and to use them as vehicles otherwise their individual socio professional statuses vary so much that there is no similarity between a Venetian dragoman in Istanbul and a prisoner of war or between a locally recruited interpreter and a missionary Each contributor has approached the specific spatial and temporal dimensions of their subject as perceived through their different methodological lenses This multifaceted perspective which is expected to provide fertile soil for future interdisciplinary research has been possible thanks to a balanced combination of scholars from History and from Translation and Interpreting Studies

Race and the Chilean Miracle Patricia Lynne Richards, 2013-06-28 The economic reforms imposed by Augusto Pinochet's regime 1973-1990 are often credited with transforming Chile into a global economy and setting the stage for a peaceful transition to democracy individual liberty and the recognition of cultural diversity The famed economist Milton Friedman would later describe the transition as the Miracle of Chile Yet as Patricia Richards reveals beneath this veneer of progress lies a reality of social conflict and inequity that has been perpetuated by many of the same neoliberal programs In Race and the Chilean Miracle Richards examines conflicts between Mapuche indigenous people and state and private actors over natural resources territorial claims and collective rights in the Araucania region Through ground level fieldwork extensive interviews with local Mapuche and Chileans and analysis of contemporary race and governance theory Richards exposes the ways that local regional and transnational realities are shaped by systemic racism in the context of neoliberal multiculturalism Richards demonstrates how state programs and policies run counter to Mapuche claims for autonomy and cultural recognition The Mapuche whose ancestral lands have been appropriated for timber and farming have been branded as terrorists for their activism and sometimes violent responses to state and private sector interventions Through their interviews many Mapuche cite the perpetuation of colonialism under the guise of development projects multicultural policies and assimilationist narratives Many Chilean locals and political elites see the continued defiance of the Mapuche in their tenacious connection to the land resistance to integration and insistence on their rights as a people These diametrically opposed worldviews form the basis of the racial dichotomy that continues to pervade Chilean society In her study Richards traces systemic racism that follows both a top down path global state and regional as well as a bottom up one local agencies and actors detailing their historic roots Richards also describes potential positive outcomes in the form of intercultural coalitions or indigenous autonomy Her compelling analysis offers new perspectives on indigenous rights race and neoliberal multiculturalism in Latin America and globally
