Clercq Assimilation et vestiges des Aïnous Nukishio Hôchin, Sakurai Norio, 2023-02-08T00:00:00-05:00 Figure intellectuelle de la lutte pour l'émancipation Nukishio Kiz est un précurseur du militantisme autochtone. Il a montré que la situation délicate dans laquelle était plongé le peuple aïnou n'était due qu'aux contraintes de toutes sortes qui lui étaient imposées. Il dénonce la discrimination laquelle les Aïnous doivent faire face inscrite dans les discours et les lois japonaises. Dans cet essai, il livre ainsi un témoignage troublant mais il lance aussi un appel à la survie et à la reconnaissance.

The American Alpine News, 1999 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1991 Book Review Index, 2003 Vols 8-10 of the 1965-1984 master cumulation constitute a title index Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Dacia Maraini's Narratives of Survival Tommasina Gabriele, 2015-12-03 Dacia Maraini's Narratives of Survival Reconstructed focuses on Dacia Maraini's narrative from about 1984 to 2004 and makes substantive use of her interviews and essays. While acknowledging the importance and ongoing validity of feminist scholarship, of Maraini's work this book seeks to take scholarship on Maraini beyond feminist readings by identifying a critical framework that cuts across gender and genre and thereby invites alternative readings. Using a method of close textual analysis, the author includes studies of men, children, animals, and imaginary characters in Maraini's narrative, analyzes language, character, motifs, and symbols, and considers some of Maraini's work in light of declining postmodern and emerging posthuman critical social theory. This critical framework identifies the paradigm of reconstruction as narrative center both strategy and theme of many of Maraini's works from this twenty-year period and beyond. Reconstruction here signifies the strategies by which Maraini's deep investment in survival, which has its roots in the life-threatening conditions she experienced as a small child in a WWII Japanese concentration camp, is enacted in a narrative rebuilding and reconstructing of personal memory of various personal, social, and political histories of motherhood and maternal discourses, of crime stories, of postmodern fragmentation, and even of the process of erasure itself. Maraini's narrative is deeply attentive to the mechanisms that threaten survival of the body and not just the woman's body: psychological and aesthetic survival, the survival in the Italian canon of a woman author's work, memory and legacy after her death, the survival of a drug-addicted and self-destructive younger generation, and by extension collective and ecological survival. Never marked by nihilism or despair, Maraini's narratives offer the ethos of reconstruction as a variation on the begin-again that marks the end of many of her novels, and as we can see in Colomba, her own aesthetic process of renewal and regeneration. This book focuses primarily on Il treno per Helsinki 1984, Isolina 1985, some of her short stories for children, La nave per Kobe, Diari giapponesi di mia madre 2001, Buio, Strega Literary Prize 1999, and Colomba 2004.

identified and represented In order to explore these connections the volume embraces a wide range of perspectives that may all be grouped under the key term film ecocriticism offering the reader a thorough analysis not only of the different ways of representing reality but also of the processes of signification through which reality itself can be understood rethought and transformed This is the general framework within which the authors consider film as a proper effective medium for ecocritical and ecophilosophical reflections concerning not only Basilicata to which the greater part of the volume is dedicated but also Southern Italy and therefore its history and its territories communities and identities Furthermore in an even more general sense Basilicata and Southern Italy reconnects with the very idea of the South and of all Souths to which this volume is dedicated
