Death March Through Russia Klaus Willmann,2019-11-29 This World War II memoir by a Nazi soldier details his unimaginable experience as a German prisoner of war in the Soviet Union Lothar Hermann grew up in Bavaria going through the RAD Nazi Labor Service before being conscripted into a Wehrmacht Mountain Division the Gebirgsdivision in 1940 He participated in Germany's advance through southern Ukraine in 1941 and in 1944 was arrested in Romania while retreating to Germany The Romanians passed him onto the Soviets who placed him in a forced labor camp where he watched two thirds of prisoners around him die In 1949 Herrmann was finally released to Germany and returned to Bavaria Three million German troops were taken prisoner by the Red Army and around two thirds of them survived to return to Germany in 1949 like Hermann but their stories are little known Klaus Willmann draws on interviews he conducted with Herrmann to recount these astonishing recollections in the first person Depicting the challenges of growing up in Nazi Bavaria to becoming a Soviet prisoner of war this is a gripping and enlightening account from a necessary but rarely explored perspective

The Nostalgic Drum Femi Osofisan,2001 A collection of essays by Femi Osofisan the internationally respected Nigerian dramatist and poet who is widely hailed as one of Africa's leading writers of the generation following on from Wole Soyinka and Chinua Achebe With acerbic wit and with idealistic fervour Osofisan speaks in these essays about the place of literature and drama and those who consume it in the troubled post colonial continent that is Africa The result is a passionate and original insight not only into the work of his contemporaries but also into the adventure of the Africa of the past

Food is Love Katherine J. Parkin,2006 An engaging look at how food advertisements from the twentieth and twenty first centuries have both helped define and played up to the stereotypical gender roles prevalent in American culture Library Journal

Writing Dylan Larry David Smith,2018-11-02 This study of Dylan's mission driven music reveals a functional approach to art that not only sustained his 60 year career but forever changed an art form The second edition of Writing Dylan The Songs of a Lonesome Traveler examines Nobel Laureate Bob Dylan's historic career yielding unique insights into a distinctively American artist's creative world The book opens with a short biography and description of Dylan's artistic method before diving into the seven missions of his life's work Chapters are supported by song lyrics of which the author's license agreement with Bob Dylan Music enables a definitive presentation Since the release of the first edition in 2005 the laureate has produced three albums of original material as well as three widely praised albums of American standards Columbia Records has issued multiple boxed sets chronicling specific periods of Dylan's career and several films have been made about him Dylan himself has also given numerous speeches and interviews often while accepting prestigious awards This second edition not only features these new materials but draws on them to recast the first edition presenting Dylan's music as an indelible art form

Pain and the Pride Brian Block,2000-05-31 Covers various aspects of the regime at

Buena Vista Colorado This book contains a comparison based on the experimental regime at Britain's Thorn Cross young offender institution the British boot camp It is useful to people and practitioners across a broad spectrum particularly sentencers and people concerned with prisons Rewriting the Orient Yunfei Bai,2024-03-15 In this ambitious volume

Yunfei Bai delves into the creative adaptations of classical Sanskrit Chinese and Tibetan literary texts by four renowned nineteenth and early twentieth century authors in France and Argentina Thophile Gautier Stéphane Mallarmé Victor Segalen and Jorge Luis Borges Without any knowledge of the source languages the authors crafted their own French and Spanish retellings based on received translations of these Asian works Rewriting the Orient not only explores the so far untapped translation rewriting continuum to trace the pivotal role of Orientalism in the formation of a singular corpus of world literature that goes beyond the Anglophone canon but also sheds light on a wide range of innovative discursive strategies that readily challenge traditional notions of cultural appropriation Girl after Girl after Girl Nicole Cooley,2017-09-13

The poems in Girl after Girl after Girl celebrate the connections between mothers and daughters from generation to generation Through an acknowledgment of mothers unconditional love the memories evoked by physical objects and the stories mothers pass down these poems explore the common thread that stretches backward and forward running through the lives of women and binding them together in an unbroken chain of years Food, Festival and Religion Francesca

Ciancimino Howell,2018-08-09 Food Festival and Religion explores how communities in northern Italy find a restorative sense of place through foodways costuming and other forms of materiality Festivals examined by the author vary geographically from the northern rural corners of Italy to the fashionable heart of urban Milan The origins of these lived religious events range from Christian to vernacular Italian witchcraft and contemporary Paganism which is rapidly growing in Italy Francesca Ciancimino Howell demonstrates that during ritualized occasions the sacred is located within the mundane She argues that communal feasting pilgrimage rituals and costumed events can represent forms of lived religious materiality Building on the work of scholars including Foucault Grimes and Ingold Howell offers a theoretical Scale of Engagement which further tests the interfaces between and among the materialities of place food ritual and festivals and provides a widely applicable model for analyzing grassroots events and community initiatives Through extensive ethnographic research and fieldwork data this book demonstrates that popular Italian festivals can be ritualized liminal spaces contributing greatly to the fields of religious performance and ritual studies When the Future Disappears Janet Poole,2014-11-11 Taking a panoramic view of Korea's dynamic literary production in the final decade of Japanese rule When the Future Disappears locates the imprint of a new temporal sense in Korean modernism the impression of time interrupted with no promise of a future As colonial subjects of an empire headed toward total war Korean writers in this global fascist moment produced some of the most sophisticated writings of twentieth century modernism Yi T'aejun Ch'oe Myongik Im Hwa So Insik Ch'oe Chaeso Pak T'aewon Kim Namch'on and O Changhwan among other Korean writers lived through a rare colonial history in which their vernacular language was first inducted into the modern only to be shut out again through the violence of state power The colonial suppression of Korean language publications was an effort to mobilize toward war and it forced Korean writers to face the loss of their letters and devise new creative forms of expression Their remarkable struggle reflects the stark foreclosure at the heart of the modern colonial experience Straddling cultural intellectual and literary history this book maps the different strategies including abstraction irony paradox and even silence that Korean writers used to narrate life within the Japanese empire

The Cinema of the Dardenne Brothers Philip Mosley, 2013-04-02 The brothers Jean Pierre and Luc Dardenne have established an international reputation for their emotionally powerful realist cinema Inspired by their home turf of Liège Seraing a former industrial hub of French speaking southern Belgium they have crafted a series of fiction films that blends acute observation of life on the social margins with moral fables for the postmodern age This volume analyses the brothers career from their leftist video documentaries of the 1970s and 1980s through their debut as directors of fiction films in the late 1980s and early 1990s to their six major achievements from The Promise 1996 to The Kid with a Bike 2011 an oeuvre that includes two Golden Palms at the Cannes film festival for Rosetta 1999 and The Child 2005 It argues that the ethical dimension of the Dardennes work complements rather than precludes their sustained expression of a fundamental political sensibility

Repertory Movie Theaters of New York City Ben Davis, 2017-03-14 New York's repertory movie houses specialized in presenting films ignored by mainstream and art house audiences Curating vintage and undistributed movies from various countries they educated the public about the art of film at a time when the cinema had begun to be respected as an art form Operating on shoestring budgets in funky settings each repertory house had its own personality reflecting the preferences of the often eccentric proprietor While a few theaters existed in other cities New York offered the greatest number and variety Focusing on the active years from 1960 through 1994 this book documents the repertory movement in the context of economics and film culture

"All-Electric" Narratives Rachele Dini, 2021-10-07 Winner of the 2023 Emily Toth Award for Best Single Work in Women's Studies All Electric Narratives is the first in depth study of time saving electrical appliances in American literature It examines the literary depiction of refrigerators vacuum cleaners oven ranges washing machines dryers dishwashers toasters blenders standing and hand held mixers and microwave ovens between 1945 when the all electric home came to be associated with the nation's hard won victory and 2020 as contemporary writers consider the enduring material and spiritual effects of these objects in the 21st century The appropriation and subversion of the rhetoric of domestic electrification and time saving comprises a crucial but overlooked element in 20th century literary forms and genres including Beat literature Black American literature second wave feminist fiction science fiction and postmodernist fiction Through close readings of dozens of literary texts alongside print and television ads from this period Dini shows how U.S. writers have unearthed the paradoxes inherent to claims of appliances capacity to give back time to their user transport them into a technologically progressive future or return them to some pastoral past In so doing she reveals literary appliances role in raising questions about gender norms and sexuality racial exclusion and erasure class anxieties the ramifications of mechanization the perils and possibilities of conformity the limitations of patriotism and the inevitable fallacy of utopian thinking while both shaping and radically disrupting the literary forms in which they operated     The Museum on the Roof of the World Clare E. Harris,2012-10-30 For millions of people around the world Tibet is a domain of undisturbed tradition the Dalai Lama a spiritual guide By contrast the Tibet Museum opened in Lhasa by the Chinese in 1999 was designed to reclassify Tibetan objects as cultural relics and the Dalai Lama as obsolete Suggesting that both these views are suspect Clare E Harris argues in The Museum on the Roof of the World that for the past one hundred and fifty years British and Chinese collectors and curators have tried to convert Tibet itself into a museum an image some Tibetans have begun to contest This book is a powerful account of the museums created by for or on behalf of Tibetans and the nationalist agendas that have played out in them Harris begins with the British public s first encounter with Tibetan culture in 1854 She then examines the role of imperial collectors and photographers in representations of the region and visits competing museums of Tibet in India and Lhasa Drawing on fieldwork in Tibetan communities she also documents the activities of contemporary Tibetan artists as they try to displace the utopian visions of their country prevalent in the West as well as the negative assessments of their heritage common in China Illustrated with many previously unpublished images this book addresses the pressing question of who has the right to represent Tibet in museums and beyond     Xenophon's ›Anabasis‹ and its Reception Tim Rood,Melina Tamiolaki,2022-10-24 This volume constitutes the first large scale collaborative reflection on Xenophon s Anabasis gathering experts on Greek historiography and Xenophon It is structured in three sections the first section provides a linear reading of the Anabasis through chapters on select episodes from Book 1 through Book 7 including the opening Cyrus characterisation the meeting of Socrates and Xenophon Xenophon s leadership the marches through Armenia and along the Black Sea coast and the service under Seuthes in Thrace The second section offers an in depth exploration of hitherto overlooked recurrent themes Based on new approaches and scholarly trends it focuses on topics such as the concept of friendship the speeches of characters other than Xenophon the suffering of the human body the role of rumour and misrepresentation and the depiction of emotions The third section offers a more thorough investigation of the manifold reception of this work in Antiquity Byzantium Renaissance modern period in cinema studies and illustrations Finally in acknowledgement of the Anabasis long history as a pedagogical text the volume contains an envoi on the importance and benefits of teaching Xenophon and the Anabasis more specifically     Recollections of Old Liverpool James Stonehouse,2019-11-26 In Recollections of Old Liverpool James Stonehouse presents a vivid tapestry of life in 19th century Liverpool weaving together intricate details of its bustling streets maritime heritage and diverse communities This memoir encapsulates the unique vibrancy of the city through a blend of personal anecdotes and historical observation employing a lyrical prose style that invites readers to immerse themselves in the sights and sounds of the era Stonehouse s work serves not only as a celebration of Liverpool's past but also as a poignant reflection on the socio-economic changes that shaped the city during a period of rapid industrialization and urban growth. James Stonehouse, a Liverpool native and keen observer of his environment, was deeply influenced by the rich cultural landscape and the working-class struggles of his time. His firsthand experiences as a dock worker and member of the local community imbue his writing with authenticity and passion. Stonehouse's commitment to preserving the history and identity of his beloved city resonates throughout the memoir as he candidly explores themes of nostalgia, loss, and resilience. Recollections of Old Liverpool is a must-read for history enthusiasts and anyone interested in the social fabric of industrial cities. Stonehouse's evocative narrative not only enlightens readers about Liverpool's past but also fosters a deep appreciation for the enduring spirit of its people. This book is a vital addition to the literary canon of urban memoirs and historical narratives.
