Refiguring the Body Barbara A. Holdrege, Karen Pechilis, 2016-12-28 Examines how embodiment is conceived and experienced in South Asian religions Refiguring the Body provides a sustained interrogation of categories and models of the body grounded in the distinctive idioms of South Asian religions particularly Hindu and Buddhist traditions The contributors engage prevailing theories of the body in the Western academy that derive from philosophy social theory and feminist and gender studies At the same time they recognize the limitations of applying Western theoretical models as the default epistemological framework for understanding notions of embodiment that derive from non Western cultures Divided into three sections this collection of essays explores material bodies embodied selves and perfected forms of embodiment divine bodies and devotional bodies and gendered logics defining male and female bodies The contributors seek to establish theory parity in scholarly investigations and to re figure body theories by taking seriously the contributions of South Asian discourses to theorizing the body
