For two long years, Cara's new partner and ex-lover, Mitch Kendall, has been unsuccessful in capturing international counterfeiter, Damian Medina. Mitch is now obsessed with bringing him to justice and will do so at all costs. Cara is sent in undercover, where she must gain Damian's trust.

Working the surveillance team around the clock, Mitch tries to obtain enough evidence to put Damian behind bars. In the meantime, Cara gets personal, finding herself dangerously drawn to Damian. Danger and intrigue surround the team as the countdown continues to the final climax – when Cara must eliminate Damian and his criminal empire.

Naked Lies:

Church History Johann Heinrich Kurtz, John Macpherson, 1891 The Floods John Ruganda, 1988 A study of the abuse of power by military dictatorships in contemporary Africa and of the dehumanising effect that this has on both the power drunk agents of the state and those of the oppressed who escape total liquidation at the hands of the former Also examines the inhibitory effects of class and privilege on personal relationships Set on an imaginary island in Lake Victoria Uganda

Scale in Contemporary Sculpture Rachel Wells, 2017-07-05 The first book to devote serious attention to questions of scale in contemporary sculpture this study considers the phenomenon within the interlinked cultural and socio historical framework of the legacies of postmodern theory and the growth of global capitalism In particular the book traces the impact of postmodern theory on concepts of measurement and exaggeration and analyses the relationship between this philosophy and the sculptural trend that has developed since the early 1990s Rachel Wells examines the arresting international trend of sculpture exploring scale including American precedents from the 1970s and 1980s and work by the Young British Artists Noting that the emergence of this sculptural trend coincides with the end of the Cold War Wells suggests a similarity between the quantitative ratio of scale and the growth of global capitalism that has replaced the former status quo of qualitatively opposed systems This study also claims the allegorical nature of scale in contemporary sculpture outlining its potential for critique or complicity in a system dominated by quantitative criteria of value In a period characterised by uncertainty and incommensurability Wells demonstrates that scale in contemporary sculpture can suggest the possibility of and even an unashamed reliance upon comparison and external difference in the construction of meaning

The Roots of Fake News Brian Winston, Matthew Winston, 2020-09-01 The Roots of Fake News argues that fake news is not a problem caused by the power of the internet or by the failure of good journalism to assert itself Rather it is within the news s ideological foundations professionalism neutrality and most especially objectivity that the true roots of the current crisis are to be found Placing the concept of media objectivity in a fuller historical context this book examines how current perceptions of a crisis in journalism actually fit within a long history of the ways news media have avoided obscured or simply ignored the difficulties involved in promising objectivity let alone truth The book examines journalism s relationships with other spheres of human endeavour science law philosophy concerned with the pursuit of objective truth to argue that the rising tide of fake news is not an attack on the traditional ideologies which have supported journalism Rather it is an inevitable result of their inherent flaws and vulnerabilities This is a valuable resource for students and scholars of journalism and history alike who are interested in understanding the historical roots and philosophical context of a fiercely contemporary issue
