review on google books American Journal of Criminal Law ,1998 The Search for Justice in a Media Age Siobhan Holohan,2017-11-28 What can we learn from the legal cases of Stephen Lawrence and Louise Woodward How do the legal system and the media contribute to a collective understanding of class nation race and gender In this book Siobhan Holohan explores media representations of law and order in the context of notions of multi culturalism and victim centred politics Two high profile cases the murder of Stephen Lawrence and the US trial of the British au pair Louise Woodward are examined Holohan argues that the stories built up around Woodward and Lawrence the organization of public discourse around a sacrificial figure have contributed to exclusionary patterns of social order The book offers a perceptive account of what makes some criminal legal cases prone to scrutiny and spectacle and provides a vivid illustration of the presence of power relations in legal decisions In conclusion the author draws on the model of the Macpherson report to propose a more inclusive form of social and legal judgement that takes into account social inequalities Crime, Justice and the Media Ian Marsh,Gaynor Melville,2019-02-18 Crime Justice and the Media examines and analyses the relationship between the media and crime criminals and the criminal justice system This expanded and fully updated third edition considers how crime and criminals have been portrayed by the media throughout history applying different theoretical perspectives to the way crime criminals and justice are reported It also includes a new chapter that looks at the influence of film and the cinema on crime and justice The third edition of Crime Justice and the Media focuses on the media representation of a range of different areas of crime and criminal justice including new media technology e g social network sites moral panics over specific crimes and criminals e g youth crime cybercrime paedophilia media portrayal of victims of crime and criminals how the media represent criminal justice agencies e g the police and prison service This book offers a clear accessible and comprehensive analysis of theoretical thinking on the relationship between the media crime and criminal justice and a detailed examination of how crime criminals and others involved in the criminal justice process are portrayed by the media With exercises questions and further reading in every chapter this book encourages students to engage with and respond to the material presented thereby developing a deeper understanding of the links between the media and criminality Infamous Cheshire Bob Burrows,2006-09-21 Infamous Cheshire explores the darker side of this idyllic county where murders in sleepy villages royal scandals ancient and modern and the antics of showbiz personalities reveal that all is not as tranquil as it may seem In his new book Bob Burrows digs deep into forgotten tales of villainy and crime deceit and death as well as throwing new light on more recent and well remembered events including the Great Train Robbery s connections with the county Britain s biggest financial fraud the IRA attack in Warrington the plane that crashed in the centre of Stockport and even the story behind one of Cheshire s roads designated the most dangerous in Britain Infamous Cheshire will enthral and fascinate anyone who would like to discover more about the unexpected history of Cheshire The Big Trial Lawrence M. Friedman,2015-05-04 The trial of O J Simpson was a sensation avidly followed by millions of people but it was also in a sense nothing new One hundred years earlier the Lizzie Borden trial had held the nation in thrall The names and the crimes may change but the appeal is enduring and why this is how it works and what it means are what Lawrence Friedman investigates in The Big Trial What is it about these cases that captures the public imagination Are the headline trials of our period different from those of a century or two ago And what do we learn from them about the nature of our society past and present To get a clearer picture Friedman first identifies what certain headline trials have in common then considers particular cases within each grouping The political trial for instance embraces treason and spying dissenters and radicals and to varying degrees corruption and fraud Celebrity trials involve the famous whether victims as in the case of Charles Manson or defendants as disparate as Fatty Arbuckle and William Kennedy Smith but certain high profile cases such as those Friedman categorizes as tabloid trials can also create celebrities The fascination of whodunit trials can be found in the mystery surrounding the case Are we sure about O J Simpson What about Claus von Bulow tried in another sensational case for sending his wife into a coma An especially interesting type of case Friedman groups under the rubric worm in the bud These are cases such as that of Lizzie Borden that seem to put society itself on trial they raise fundamental social questions and often suggest hidden and secret pathologies And finally a small but important group of cases proceed from moral panic the Salem witchcraft trials being the classic instance though Friedman also considers recent examples Though they might differ in significant ways these types of trials also have important similarities Most notably they invariably raise questions about identity Who is this defendant A villain An innocent unfairly accused And in this respect The Big Trial shows us the headline trial reflects a critical aspect of modern society Reaching across the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to the latest outrage from congressional hearings to lynching and vigilante justice to public punishment from Dr Sam Sheppard the fugitive to Jeffrey Dahmer the cannibal The Rosenbergs to Timothy McVeigh the book presents a complex picture of headline trials as displays of power moments of didactic theater that demonstrate in one way or another whether a society is fair whom it protects and whose interest it serves
