Beyond Liberal Democracy in Schools Barbara J. Thayer-Bacon, 2008 In this unique union of philosophy and ethnographic research Barbara Thayer Bacon explains how the individualist legacy of liberal democracy as conceived by Locke and Rousseau ignores and excludes the needs of American students raised in cultures with strong communal traditions Drawing upon her experience with the educational methods of other cultures as well as the work of modern educational philosophers such as Dewey Barber Young and Mouffe and Laclau Thayer Bacon shows us how our current vision of the democratic process as revealed in school practices routinely fails minority students She offers recommendations to help us develop learning environments for students that are culturally aware anti racist and relationally focused This radical reimagining of American schools will be beneficial to researchers and practitioners alike This book illustrates how current educational theories marginalize students belonging to a variety of minority populations Native American Mexican American African American offers a new theory of educational philosophy that values both individuals and communities and makes room for emotion and intuition as learning tools and envisions new ways of teaching based on the author's experiences studying and observing schools in other cultures Hail of Fire Randy Fritz, 2015-05-18 Every year people watch in shock as homes are destroyed and communities devastated by natural disasters As the media arrives the information that is reported is mainly statistical The horror of living through and recovering from the experience is rarely told because almost no one has the emotional strength to speak out while the smoke is still in the air or the floodwaters are still receding The stories of a disaster s most important effects which unfold slowly and invisibly for months and sometimes years are never told That is until now Hail of Fire A Man and His Family Face Natural Disaster is an intimate account of the third worst wild fire in U S history and the worst in the history of Texas It is a memoir about what happened to Randy Fritz an artist turned politician turned public policy leader and his family during and after combining a searing account of the fire as it grew to apocalyptic strength with universal themes of loss grief and the rebuilding of one s life after a calamitous event The wildfire itself was traumatic to those who witnessed it and suffered its immediate aftermath But the most significant impact came in the months and years following as families grieved struggled to adapt to a their new world and accepted the destruction of an iconic forest of internationally acclaimed great natural beauty the Lost Pines Neighbors once close worried about or could not find one another while others discovered new friendships that transcended the boundaries of race class and family lineage Fritz a man who previously held the highest elective office in his local community struggled as his wife Holly and their youngest daughter Miranda tried to make sense of their losses He never imagined the impact this disaster would have on them individually and as a family as well as the emotional toll he would pay and the journey to make sense of it all While natural disasters seem increasingly common deeply personal and redemptive accounts of them are less so Hail of Fire is an unflinching story of how a man and his tight knit family found grace after a wildfire took everything Fritz s hard won insights provide inspiration to anyone with a quest to figure out what truly matters particularly those who have undergone an unexpected and life changing event and those who love and care for them

Mozzarella Most Murderous Nancy Fairbanks, 2005-07-05 Forty something homemaker Carolyn Blue is through with cooking and cleaning. She's finally decided to throw in the dishtowel and take on a dream job as a food writer. Now her plate is filled with exotic locales, delectable foods, and even a dash of crime to taste. She could very well get used to this. Carolyn is looking forward to firing up some passion with her husband and enjoying sumptuous Italian food in romantic Sorrento, Italy. But an air traffic controllers strike strands Jason in Paris and puts him in danger of missing his chemistry conference. So Carolyn's first day is spent with a beautiful Italian woman named Paolina who has been stood up by her lover. The next day Carolyn's fiesta turns as sour as balsamic vinegar when she finds her lovely companion drowned in the hotel's pool. Could it have been suicide? The buffalo mozzarella. Or the president of the chemical company who just happened to be Paolina's boss with benefits. From Here to Caprock Max Gallimore, 2011-01-26 Solemnly Swear Nancy Moser, 2007 The story of four jury members serving on a manslaughter trial Jumping the Fence John P. Roberts, 2021-03-26 It's supposed to be a simple peek-a-boo mission not far from St. Petersburg, Russia, to check out some specially built garages that block satellite signals. They plan to send casualties from the Tenth Special Forces to go over the fence and take a look. The mission starts off well with Captain Dennison at the helm and privates Eden and Nichols at his command. Then in Sweden, the captain is sent home, leaving Eden and Nichols on their own to continue the mission. They're ambushed at a safe house before leaving for Helsinki, and it's beginning to look like these men might need rescuing. The casualties persist, making contact with an anti-Russian organization. Meanwhile, the Americans want their men back, but what of the garages outside St. Petersburg? Eden and Nichols might be in over their heads as it soon appears a double agent has been working behind the scenes and could risk both the mission and their lives.
