Krueger, 2005-02-17 This study challenges the view that all courtly literature promoted the social status of women Unlike previous books which focused on knights it starts from the perspective of the woman reader listener Using reader response theory feminist criticism and recent historical studies it suggests that romances taught gender roles often inviting readers to criticise and resist them Echoes of Narcissus Lieve Spaas, Trista Selous, 2001-01-01 In Greek mythology the beautiful Narcissus glimpsed his own reflection in the waters of a spring and fell in love But his was an impossible passion and filled with despair he pined away Over the years the myth has inspired painters writers and film directors as well as philosophers and psychoanalysts The tragic story of Narcissus in love with himself and of Echo the nymph in love with him lies at the heart of this collection of essays exploring the origins of the myth and some of its many cultural manifestations and meanings relating to the self and the self's relationship to the other Through their discussion of the myth and its ramifications the contributors to this volume broaden our understanding of one of the fundamental myths of Western culture A Handbook to the Reception of Classical Mythology Vanda Zajko, Helena Hoyle, 2017-03-16 A Handbook to the Reception of Classical Mythology presents a collection of essays that explore a wide variety of aspects of Greek and Roman myths and their critical reception from antiquity to the present day Reveals the importance of mythography to the survival dissemination and popularization of classical myth from the ancient world to the present day Features chronologically organized essays that address different sets of myths that were important in each historical era along with their thematic relevance Features chronologically organized essays that address different sets of myths that were important in each historical era along with their thematic relevance Offers a series of carefully selected in depth readings including both popular and less well known examples      Authentic Fictions Tom Genrich,2004 This comparative study examines the prose writings of the best known cosmopolitan authors of the Third French Republic and investigates what constituted the cosmopolitanism that they espoused between the World Wars      Between Feminism and Psychoanalysis Teresa Brennan,2002-03-11 In this landmark collection of original essays outstanding feminist critics in Britain France and the United States present new perspectives on feminism and psychoanalysis opening out deadlocked debates The discussion ranges widely with contributions from feminists identified with different often opposed views on psychoanalytic criticism The contributors reassess the history of Lacanian psychoanalysis and feminism and explore the significance of its institutional context They write against the received views on French feminism and essentialism A remarkable restatement of current positions within psychoanalysis and feminism the volume as a whole will change the terms of existing debates and make its arguments and concerns more generally accessible      Artificial Generation Christina Parker-Flynn,2021-11-19 Artificial Generation Photogenic French Literature and the Prehistory of Cinematic Modernity investigates the intersection of film theory and nineteenth century literature arguing that the depth of amalgamation that occurred within literary representation during this era aims to replicate an illusion of life and its sensations in ways directly related to broader transitions into our modern cinematic age A key part of this evolution in representation relies on the continual re emergence of the artificial woman as longstanding expression of masculine artistic subjectivity which by the later nineteenth century becomes a photographic and filmic drive Moving through the beginning of film history from Georges Méliès and other silent filmmakers in the 1890s into more contemporary movies including Alfred Hitchcock's Vertigo 1958 and Blade Runner 2049 2017 the book analyzes how films are often structured around the prior century's mythic and literary principles which now serve as foundation for film as medium a phantom form for life's representation Artificial Generation provides a crucial reassessment of the longstanding mutual exchange between cinematic and literary reproduction offering an innovative perspective on the proto cinematic imperative of simulation within nineteenth century literary symbolism      Edwidge Danticat Clitandre T. Nadège,2018-11-14 Haitian American writer Edwidge Danticat is one of the most recognized writers today Her debut novel Breath Eyes Memory was an Oprah Book Club selection and works such as Krik Krak and Brother I'm Dying have earned her a MacArthur genius grant and National Book Award nominations Yet despite international acclaim and the relevance of her writings to postcolonial feminist Caribbean African diaspora Haitian literary and global studies Danticat's work has not been the subject of a full length interpretive literary analysis until now In Edwidge Danticat The Haitian Diasporic Imaginary Nadège T. Clitandre offers a comprehensive analysis of Danticat's exploration of the dialogic relationship between nation and diaspora Clitandre argues that Danticat moving between novels short stories and essays articulates a diasporic consciousness that acts as a form of social political and cultural transformation at the local and global level Using the echo trope to approach Danticat's narratives and subjects Clitandre effectively navigates between the reality of diaspora and imaginative opportunities that diasporas produce Ultimately Clitandre calls for a reconstitution of nation through a diasporic imaginary that informs the way people who have experienced displacement view the world and imagine a more diverse interconnected and just future

Monet, Narcissus, and Self-Reflection Steven Zalman Levine, 1994 Steven Z Levine provides a new understanding of the life and work of Claude Monet and the myth of the modern artist Levine analyzes the extensive critical reception of Monet and the artist's own prolific writings in the context of the story of Narcissus popular in late nineteenth century France Through a careful blending of psychoanalytical theory and historical study Levine identifies narcissism and obsession as driving forces in Monet's art and demonstrates how we derive meaning from the accumulated verbal responses to an artist's work

Third Agents Ian Cooper, Ekkehard Knörer, Bernhard Malkmus, 2021-01-20 Third Agents Secret Protagonists of the Modern Imagination brings together a varied and fascinating range of contributions to explore the role of third agents in the post Enlightenment literary imagination including modern narratives such as film It centres on the figure of the third conceived imaginatively as a liminal agent transgressing social cultural and spatio temporal boundaries and conceptually as the vital yet often problematic element in theories of discourse that seek to operate beyond binary codes of meaning This figure is revealed to be a secret protagonist of modernity neglected by and eluding the scope of existing intellectual and literary histories Contributors to this volume are drawn from diverse theoretical backgrounds encompassing work in dialectics psychoanalysis and systems theory Through their focus on literature and media they seek to understand how those conceptions of the third relate to imaginative figurations This volume offers the first comprehensive account of third agency in modern literature and its intellectual and imaginative pre history It provides an accessible combination of close readings and theoretical reflection presenting figures who inhabit in between territories such as the adventurer the bastard the priest the angel the adulterer the poet and the outcast These figures are read as protagonists in a genealogy of modernity that has not yet been written The essays here also provide fascinating answers as to why these secret protagonists often became major figures in modern philosophy and literary theory and give new insights into such writers as Benjamin Barthes and Derrida

Comparative Criticism: Volume 14, Knowledge and Performance E. S. Shaffer, 1992-10-22 Addresses literary theory and criticism comparative studies in terms of theme genre movement and influence and interdisciplinary perspectives

Pierre Loti and the Theatricality of Desire Peter James Turberfield, 2008-01-01 Pierre Loti and the Theatricality of Desire offers an original analysis of patterns of unconscious desire observable in the life and work of the French orientalist writer Pierre Loti It aims to reconcile attitudes and conduct that have been regarded as contradictory and not amenable to analysis by locating the unconscious urges that motivate them It looks at the ambiguous feelings Loti expresses towards his mother the conflicting desires inherent in his bisexuality and his deeply ambiguous sense of a cultural identity as expressed through his cross cultural transvestism The political implications of this reappraisal are also considered offering a potential reassessment of the apparently exploitative nature of much of Loti's writing This new reading in terms of the unconscious not only serves as a way of understanding inconsistencies but also suggests how such new interpretations can offer an alternative way of viewing the hierarchies of power his work portrays on both a sexual and political level This volume is consequently of interest to those interested in gender studies and sexual politics and offers a way of appreciating writing that might otherwise appear dated and embarrassingly sexist and colonialist in content to twenty first century readers

Telling Performances Brian Nelson, Anne Freedman, Philip Anderson, 2001 These essays engage with narratives and narrative issues in particular on the issue of performance in and of narrative with the telling of performance and the performance of telling and the way stories perform gender and identity They focus on narrative as such on narrative genres and on particular narratives but they all seek to inform thinking on narrative

Emergency Broadcasting and 1930s American Radio Edward D. Miller, 2003 The voice we hear on the radio the voice with no body attached is a key element in the history of media in the twentieth century Before television and the internet there was radio and much of what defined the makeup of these newer media was influenced by the way radio was broadcast to people and the way people listened to it Emergency Broadcasting focuses on key moments in the history of early radio in order to come to an understanding of the role voice played in radio to describe national crises a fictional invasion from outer space and general entertainment Taking the Hindenburg disaster The War of the Worlds hoax Franklin Roosevelt's Fireside Chats and the serial mystery The Shadow as his focal points Edward Miller illustrates how the radio for the first time instantly communicated to a mass audience and how that communication where the voice counts more than the image is still at work today in television and the World Wide Web Theoretically sophisticated yet grounded in historical detail Emergency Broadcasting offers a unique examination of radio and at the same time develops a complex understanding of the media whose birth is owed to the innovations and disembodied power established by it Author note Edward D Miller is Chair of the Department of Media Culture at The College of Staten Island CUNY

Anti-Portraits: Poetics of the Face in Modern English, Polish and Russian Literature (1835-1965)

Kamila Pawlikowska, 2015-10-05 Anti Portraits Poetics of the Face in Modern English Polish and Russian Literature 1835 1965 is a study of physiognomic descriptions of the face It demonstrates that writers such as George Eliot Leo Tolstoy Edgar Allan Poe Nicolay Gogol Virginia Woolf and Witold Gombrowicz vigorously resisted the belief that facial features reflect character While other studies tend to focus on descriptions which affirm physiognomy this book examines portraits which question popular face reading systems and contravene their common premise the surface depth principle Such portraits reveal that physiognomic formula is a cultural construct invented to abridge organise and regulate legibility of the human face Most importantly strange and unreadable fictional faces frequently expose the connection between physiognomic judgement and stereotyping prejudice and racism

Thinking in Images Catherine Constable, 2019-07-25 Thinking in Images addresses the current crisis in film theory by offering a new methodology for interrelating theory and film texts Drawing on the groundbreaking work of Michele Le Doeuff the author argues that philosophy is reliant on socio cultural images such as the figures of the veiled woman the femme fatale and the seductress The author traces the key role played by such images of woman in the theorisations of beauty art and truth offered by Nietzsche and his successors Derrida Kofman and Baudrillard Importantly the recognition that images are crucial to theorising means that film images have the capacity to challenge and change previous theoretical models This is demonstrated by a case study of three films from the Dietrich Sternberg cycle The Scarlet Empress The Devil is a Woman and Shanghai Express The detailed readings focus on the ways in which Dietrich's glamorous characters challenge the theorisation of woman as a beautiful object thus offering new ways of conceptualising woman's role as the icon of beauty art and truth
