Narrating History Developing Doctrine:

Narrating History, Developing Doctrine Bradford E. Hinze, 1993 Bradford E Hinze offers a comprehensive comparative investigation of the theologies of Reformed theologian Friedrich Schleiermacher 1768 1834 and Catholic Johann Sebastian Drey 1777 1853 Although they represented different theological traditions both theologians contributed to the emergence of doctrinal development as a theological principle Particular attention is paid to the effect of metaphor and narrative patterns especially as these informed Schleiermacher's and Drey's understanding of historiography hermeneutics and the tasks of theology The book concludes with a review of specific doctrines the two theologians judged to be in need of criticism reform and development

In Defense of Doctrine Rhyne R. Putman, 2015-06-01 In Defense of Doctrine is an apologetic for the ongoing constructive theological task in Protestant and Evangelical traditions It suggests that doctrinal development can be explained as a hermeneutical phenomenon and that insights from hermeneutical philosophy and the philosophy of language can aid theologians in constructing explanatory theses for particular theological problems associated with the facts of doctrinal development Joining the recent call to theological interpretation of Scripture Putman provides a constructive model that forwards a descriptive and normative pattern for reading Scripture and theological tradition together

Hermeneutics of Doctrine in a Learning Church Gregory A. Ryan, 2020-08-10 In Hermeneutics of Doctrine in a Learning Church Gregory A Ryan offers an account of the dynamic multi dimensional task of interpreting Christian tradition He integrates doctrinal hermeneutics the pastorality of doctrine exemplified by Pope Francis and a systematic appraisal of Receptive Ecumenism to provide an original perspective on this task The book focuses on three contemporary Catholic theologians Francis Schüssler Fiorenza Ormond Rush and Paul D Murray highlighting how each recognises the dynamic interaction of multiple perspectives involved in authentic ecclesial interpretation Christian tradition whether passed on in teaching scripture practices or structures needs to be continually received and interpreted This book offers theologians ecumenists and church workers a fresh model for receptive ecclesial learning in which doctrinal hermeneutics and pastoral realities are dynamically integrated System and Story Gale Heide, 2009-01-01 System and Story is intended to develop a means for bridging the gap between critics of system and those who may find value in doing systematics from a Biblically oriented context Narrative theologians have rightly identified and critiqued the development of system in academic theology Unfortunately they have not identified the ways in which systematic elements have always played a role in theological knowledge This study demonstrates the inherent systematic tendencies that still exist in narrative approaches to theology while at the same time acknowledging the appropriateness of aspects of the narrative critique of system The reaction against Enlightenment modernism is examined from the perspective of the heightened role of system in religious epistemology The work of Stanley Hauerwas serves to carry much of the conversation regarding the critique of system and a narrative alternative as it is discovered in communal formation After summarizing Hauerwas theology if such a thing is possible the final chapters explore the ecclesiological concerns of narrative theologians according to a more systematic rendering of pneumatology A Biblical rendering of pneumatology from the perspective of the Spirit's role in ecclesiology allows for a modest i e pre modern systematic presentation commensurate with narrative communal formation Thus the narrative attempt to once again do theology for the church is seen as compatible with a Scriptural i e modestly systematic theology of the Spirit

Practices of Dialogue in the Roman Catholic Church

Bradford E. Hinze, 2006-01-01 Faithfully Seeking Understanding Johannes Kuhn, 2009 The selections are taken from chapters of Kuhn's books including his Catholic Dogmatics and from various articles that appeared in the Tübingen quarterly Die theologische Quartalschrift. They are arranged according to the following topics: faith and reason, revelation and the personhood of God, responses to Protestant liberalism, theological topics including grace and freedom, theology and the university, and Catholic fundamental theology. Though diverse in subject, when read together the essays yield a complete theological vision that derives from a carefully constructed theological foundation. History of the Development of the Doctrine of the Person of Christ Isaak August Dorner, 1890 The Christology of John Macquarrie Vernon L. Purdy, 2009 The Christology of John Macquarrie comprehensively scrutinizes the life and writings of Scottish-born systematic theologian and philosopher John Macquarrie (1919-2007) in an attempt to comprehend and evaluate his Christology. The author examines the people (e.g., Heidegger, Schleiermacher) the philosophical and theological positions and the writings that formed Macquarrie's thinking. One major influence was his commitment to modern critical theology, including the premise that in the modern world the only acceptable Christological tenets are those that can stand up to the scrutiny of modern critical reasoning. The work concludes that this commitment profoundly shaped Macquarrie's theology, especially his Christology. The book also discusses Macquarrie's evaluation and criticisms of the Christology of other theologians (e.g., Kierkegaard, Moltmann, Pannenberg) and others, concluding that Macquarrie's understanding of the Christian faith and the person of Jesus Christ is consonant with modern liberal Anglo-Catholicism. This idea furthers the argument that Macquarrie's reluctance to accept traditional incarnational categories suggests that his Christology is a modern form of Adoptionism.

Senses of Tradition John E. Thiel, 2000-09-21 This book articulates a theory of Catholic tradition that departs from previous understandings. Drawing on the medieval concept of the four-fold sense of scripture, John Thiel proposes four interpretive senses of tradition. He also offers a theory of doctrinal development that reconciles Catholic belief in apostolic authority and continuity of tradition with a critical approach to the evidence of history. Das Patristische Prinzip Andreas Merkt, 2015-12-22 The patristic principle demands that theological quarrels be settled by resorting to the church fathers. This volume presents the first comprehensive reflexion on the historical evolution of the present crisis of this ancient theological principle. Focusing on the theory of the consensus quinquesaecularis, the author surveys the development of patristic authority from the 16th to the 20th centuries and relates it to other problems of the Church in modern times, such as the crisis of tradition, the conflict between ecclesiastical authority and academic theology, and ecumenism. The concluding chapter tackles the question whether a renewal of the patristic principle is possible and feasible today. Christology From Within and Ahead Mark Chan, 2021-10-01 Troeltsch's struggle with historicism sets the stage for a proposal that Christology be done from within and from ahead. Gadamer's philosophical hermeneutics and Schleiermacher's experiential theology inform a Christology from within that is rooted in tradition and experience, while Pannenberg's notion of proleptic eschatological fulfilment serves as resource for a Christology from ahead This volume develops a hermeneutical Christology that takes into account the historical contingency of knowledge and seeks a Christology beyond the objectivism of timeless truth and the relativism of absolutised contextuality The book is concluded with an examination of the convergence of critical traditionality experiential appropriation and eschatological prolepsis in the Christology of the apostle Paul The author explores how Christology might respond to the scandal of universality in postmodernity without defaulting on its claim to transcontextual referentiality

Schleiermacher and Palmer Justin A. Davis, 2019-09-11 Twenty first century Protestantism is radically different from the Protestantism of the Reformation The challenges of modernity affected all aspects of Christianity and the more successful attempts to combat these challenges came about as a result of two rather different yet similar theologians in the nineteenth century This work provides an exhaustive look at Friedrich Schleiermacher the father of modern liberal Protestantism and Phoebe Palmer the mother of the Holiness movement The trend of liberalism is to strip away all but what is essential to Christian life while the Holiness movement sought to make all of life applicable to the Bible and God While these two movements may appear contradictory they are grounded in a shared source of experiential Protestantism commonly known as Pietism and develop their theological systems from this starting point This study includes not only their theologies but also biographies that introduce the reader to these two luminaries Liberalism and holiness as created by Schleiermacher and Palmer lay the foundation for Pentecostalism fundamentalism neo orthodoxy and the interdenominational movements of the nineteenth century Only from this vantage can we understand the modern Protestant mindset

Theology and the University in Nineteenth-Century Germany Zachary Purvis, 2016-07-21 Theology and the University in Nineteenth Century Germany examines the dual transformation of institutions and ideas that led to the emergence of theology as science the paradigmatic project of modern theology associated with Friedrich Schleiermacher Beginning with earlier educational reforms across central Europe and especially following the upheavals of the Napoleonic period an impressive list of provocateurs iconoclasts and guardians of the old faith all confronted the nature of the university the organization of knowledge and the unity of theology s various parts quandaries which together bore the collective name of theological encyclopedia Schleiermacher's remarkably influential programme pioneered the structure and content of the theological curriculum and laid the groundwork for theology's historicization Zachary Purvis offers a comprehensive investigation of Schleiermacher's programme through the era's two predominant schools speculative theology and mediating theology Purvis highlights that the endeavour ultimately collapsed in the context of Wilhelmine Germany and the Weimar Republic beset by the rise of religious studies radical disciplinary specialization a crisis of historicism and the attacks of dialectical theology In short the project represented university theology par excellence Engaging in detail with these developments Purvis weaves the story of modern university theology into the broader tapestry of German and European intellectual culture with periodic comparisons to other national contexts In doing so he Purvis presents a substantially new way to understand the relationship between theology and the university both in nineteenth century Germany and indeed beyond
