Narrative Consciousness Structure And Perception In The Fiction Of Kafka Beckett And Robbe Grillet:

Narrative Consciousness George H. Szanto, 1972-01-01 Comparatively little critical attention has been devoted to narrative technique in modern fiction and formal analysis of the work of Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet in particular has for the most part been limited to short studies in journals many of these in languages other than English The criticism written in English has dealt primarily with theme with metaphysics and myth and ignored structure and style Yet it is structure and style that offer the reader a way into the often bewildering and disturbing fictional worlds these three writers present The problem confronting writers since the middle of the nineteenth century has been how to cope artistically with an increasingly alienating and mechanized world As George Szanto sees it Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet conclude by the example of their fictions that the writer's province is no longer this impossible environment Instead the writer must work within the only knowledge available to any one person the knowledge attained through perceptions The proper study for a storyteller is thus the search for the unique details the describable perceptions a person chooses from the outside world and brings into their mind which in the end define their nature The shape of the story is determined by the narrating consciousness that single character through whose awareness the details are filtered Thus in a very special sense the tale and the telling are one Szanto's meticulous and thoughtful study of the major fiction of Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet searches out these details and examines the manner in which each author through the minds of his characters has selected and ordered them His structural approach not only leads the reader directly into the works under scrutiny but also provides an understanding of the workings of the art itself In the appendices the author surveys the different ways in which criticism has treated these three writers His extensive bibliography provides a valuable research tool

NARRATIVE CONSCIOUSNESS. STRUCTURE AND PERCEPTION IN THE FICTION OF KAFKA, BECKETT, AND ROBBE-GRILLET. BY GEORGE H. SZANTO.

George H. Szanto, 1972 Narrative Consciousness George H. Szanto, 2014-09-10 Comparatively little critical attention has been devoted to narrative technique in modern fiction and formal analysis of the work of Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet in particular has for the most part been limited to short studies in journals many of these in languages other than English The criticism written in English has dealt primarily with theme with metaphysics and myth and ignored structure and style Yet it is structure and style that offer the reader a way into the often bewildering and disturbing fictional worlds these three writers present The problem confronting writers since the middle of the nineteenth century has been how to cope artistically with an increasingly alienating and mechanized world As George Szanto sees it Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet conclude by the example of their fictions that the writer's province is no longer this impossible environment Instead the writer must work within the only knowledge available to any one person the knowledge attained through perceptions The proper study for a storyteller is thus the search for the unique details the describable perceptions a person chooses from the outside world and brings into their mind which in the end define their nature The shape of the story is determined by the narrating consciousness that single character through whose awareness the details are filtered Thus in a very special sense the tale and the telling are one Szanto's meticulous and thoughtful study of the major fiction of Kafka Beckett and Robbe Grillet searches out these details and examines the manner in which each author through the minds of his characters has selected and ordered them His structural approach not only leads the reader directly into the works under scrutiny but also provides an understanding of the workings of the art itself In the appendices the author surveys the different ways in which criticism has treated these three writers His extensive bibliography provides a valuable research tool

The Films of Alain Robbe-Grillet Roy Armes, 1981-01-01 Alain Robbe Grillet 1922 2008 was a French writer and filmmaker His first involvement with the cinema was in the early 1960's scripting one of the most controversial films of the decade L'Année dernière à Marienbad directed by Alain Resnais In this study the focus lies on the cinema of Robbe Grillet Each chapter deals with a specific film and a specific aspect of his work

Naming Beckett's Unnamable Gary Adelman, 2004 Kafka's struggle with spiritual deadlock helped Beckett at crucial impasses in his own art to find his way to Molloy and the trilogy and later to discern the importance of torture to the creative imagination especially in How It Is This book will interest those seeking a new absorbing reading of Beckett's great prose

BOOK JACKET Readers and Mythic Signs Debra Moddelmog, 1993 Some literary scholars view myth criticism as passe an approach to literature that enjoyed a heyday in the 1950s and 1960s before being replaced by approaches that are considered to be more theoretically sophisticated and satisfying such as feminism new historicism and deconstruction Moddelmog argues that there are many good reasons not to cast out myth criticism from the community of critical approaches Most obvious among them is that myth has attracted many writers of this century from James Joyce to Thomas Pynchon Virginia Woolf to Flannery O'Connor Thomas Mann to Alain Robbe Grillet William Faulkner to Alberto Moravia and that to ignore myth is to dismiss an essential part of their work Moddelmog suggests that by reconstruing the relationship between myth and literature we will find that mythic approaches are frequently not only necessary but also highly stimulating engaging readers in many varieties of questions quests and conclusions

Publisher description Phenomenology, Modernism and Beyond Carole Bourne-Taylor, Ariane Mildenberg, 2010 From the first stirrings of modernism to contemporary poetics the modernist aesthetic project could be described as a form of phenomenological reduction that attempts to return to the invisible and unsayable foundations of human perception and expression prior to objective points of view and scientific notions It is this aspect of modernism that this book brings to the fore The essays presented here bring into focus the contemporary face of ongoing debates about phenomenology and modernism The contributors forcefully underline the intertwining of modernism and phenomenology and the extent to which the latter offers a clue to the former The book presents the viewpoints of a range of internationally distinguished critics and scholars with diverse but closely related essays covering a wide range of fields including literature architecture philosophy and musicology The collection addresses critical questions regarding the relationship between phenomenology and modernism with reference to thinkers such as Edmund Husserl Maurice Merleau Ponty Martin Heidegger Michel Henry and Paul Ricoeur By examining the contemporary philosophical debates this cross disciplinary body of research reveals the pervasive and far reaching influence of phenomenology which emerges as a heuristic method to articulate modernist aesthetic concerns Circular Narratives in Modern European Literature Juan Luis Toribio Vazquez, 2022-06-16 Breaking with linearity the ruling narrative model in the Jewish Christian tradition since the ancient world many 20th century European writers adopted circular narrative forms Juan Luis Toribio Vazquez shows this trend was not a unified nor conscious movement but rather a series of works arising sporadically in different countries at different times using a variety of circular structures to express similar concerns and ideas about the world This study also shows how the renewed understanding of narrative form leading to this circular trend was anticipated by Nietzsche's critiques of truth knowledge language and metaphysics and especially by his related discussions of nihilism and the eternal recurrence Starting with an analysis of the theory and genealogy of linear narrative the author charts the emergence of Nietzsche's idea of eternal return before then turning to the history of the circular narrative trend This history is explored from its inception in the works of August Strindberg Gertrude Stein and Azorín through its development in the interwar years by writers such as Raymond Queneau and Vladimir Nabokov to its full flowering in the work of authors James Joyce or Samuel Beckett among others and its later employment by post war writers including Alain Robbe Grillet Italo Calvino and Maurice Blanchot Through a series of close readings the book aims to highlight the various ways in which narrative circularity serves to break with an essentially teleological and theological thinking Finally Toribio Vazquez concludes by proposing a new typology of non linear narratives which builds on the work of recent narratologists

Since Beckett Peter Boxall, 2011-11-03 Samuel Beckett is widely regarded as the last modernist the writer in whose work the aesthetic principles which drove the modernist project dwindled and were finally exhausted And yet despite this it is striking that many of the most important contemporary writers across the world see their work as emerging from a Beckettian legacy So whilst Beckett belongs in one sense to the end of the modernist period in another sense he is the well spring from which the contemporary in a wide array of guises can be seen to emerge Since Beckett looks at a number of writers in different national and political contexts tracing the way in which Beckett's writing inhabits the contemporary while at the same time reading back through Beckett to the modernist and proto modernist forms he inherited In reading Beckett against the contemporary in this way Peter Boxall offers both a compelling re reading of Beckett and a powerful new analysis of contemporary culture Critique of Beckett Criticism Peter John Murphy, 1994 A survey of Beckett criticism in English French and German Samuel Beckett 1906-1989 is an important figure in 20th century literary history his plays such as Waiting for Godot and Endgame have acquired a world wide reputation and his novels have proved important touchstones for the critical debates in contemporary literary theory Born in Dublin Beckett spent most of his writing life in France and wrote equally well in French and English his German was also fluent allowing him to direct his own plays in German theatres Any attempt to deal with Beckett must therefore consider the critical response his works have provoked in all three languages A Critique of Beckett Criticism is the first attempt in book form to give a comprehensive survey of the history and scope of Beckett criticism in French English and German Three parallel chapters examine the three major strands of Beckett criticism retracing its development using a historical perspective and pointing out different trends currents and fashions in opinion Directions for further research are also suggested P J MURPHY is a lecturer in contemporary British literature at the University College of the Cariboo British Columbia WERNER HUBER is a professor of English literature at Chemnitz University of Technology ROLF BREUER is professor of English literature at the University of Paderborn KONRAD SCHOELL is professor of French literature at the Pädagogische Hochschule Erfurt

The Faith of Jesus Christ Richard B. Hays, 2002 In this important study Hays argues against the mainstream that any attempt to account for the nature and method of Paul's theological language must first reckon with the centrality of narrative elements in his thought Through an in depth investigation of Galatians 3:1-4:11 Hays shows that the framework of Paul's thought is neither a system of doctrines nor his personal religious experience but the sacred story of Jesus Christ

Ananda Devi Ritu Tyagi, 2013-10-10 Ananda Devi Feminism Narration and Polyphony is the first full length monograph devoted to Ananda Devi a dynamic contemporary Francophone writer Recipient of Prix Louis Guilloux and Prix Télévision Suisse Romande du Roman she is described by many as a prototype of a new generation of Mauritian writers This book analyses Devi's unconventional polyphonic narratives particularly her strategies that allow marginalized narrators to disrupt androcentric and dominant structures of narrative construction thereby creating hybrid magical spaces for feminine expression Drawing on the notion of feminist narratology that investigates the relation between gender and narrative this book focuses on a wide range of Western and non Western narrative strategies such as plot and plotlessness narrative metalepsis pluritemporality multisubjectivity myths folktales and magic It also demonstrates how her texts become the point of convergence of the West and the non West the feminine and the androcentric the real and the extra real as muted discourses resurface and traditional distinctions between categories are blurred in favor of alternate and new possibilities As this book is interdisciplinary in its approach it will appeal to a broad range of audience from those interested in Contemporary Francophone and Indian Ocean Literature to scholars in Women's Writing Post Colonial Studies and Narratology

Novels, Novelists, and Readers Mary Frances Rogers, 1991-01-01 Focusing on British and American novels Rogers takes a sociological look at the business of literature the book industry and the experiences of novelists and readers Viewing the novel as a vehicle of cultural meaning the author shows how the literary canon overlooks substantial similarities among novels in favor of restrictive codes based on social as well as literary considerations She emphasizes the kinship between the social sciences and humanities in her analysis by reinvigorating affection for the novel and also establishing its rich cultural significance

Theater & Propaganda George H. Szanto, 2014-09-10 This original and insightful study explores the points at which theater and propaganda meet Defining propaganda as a form of activated ideology George H Szanto discusses the distortion of information that occurs in dramatic literature in its stage film and television forms Szanto analyzes the nature of integration propaganda which is designed to render the audience passive and to encourage the acceptance of the status quo as opposed to agitation propaganda which aims to inspire the audience to action In Szanto's view most popular western theater is saturated though usually not intentionally with integration propaganda The overall purpose of Theater and Propaganda is twofold to analyze the nature of integration propaganda so that it becomes visible to western readers as a tool of the dominant class in society and to examine the manner by which unself conscious propagandistic methods have saturated dramatic presentation In discussing the importance of propaganda within and between technological states the author examines the seminal work of Jacques Ellul In this chapter he analyzes the function of integration propaganda in a relatively stable society The following chapter defines and analyzes three theaters in the sense of performance of propaganda the theater of agitation propaganda of integration propaganda and of dialectical propaganda In this section he uses examples from a variety of plays movies and television commercials In succeeding chapters Szanto discusses the role of integration propaganda in the medieval Wakefield mystery plays and the plays of Samuel Beckett The appendix Contradiction and Demystification provides a general model that suggests ways of breaking down and overcoming the propagandistic intentions of an artwork and discusses theater's possible role in this breakdown

The absurd in literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-07-19 Neil Cornwell's study while endeavouring to present an historical survey of absurdist literature and its forbears does not aspire to being an exhaustive history of absurdism Rather it pauses on certain historical moments artistic movements literary figures and selected works before moving on to discuss four key writers Daniil Kharms Franz Kafka Samuel Beckett and Flann O'Brien The absurd in literature will be of compelling interest to a considerable range of students of comparative European including Russian and Central European and English literatures British Isles and American as well as those more concerned with theatre studies the avant garde and the history of ideas including humour theory It should also have a wide

The novel begins with Richard Papan, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
