Narrative: a Critical Linguistic Introduction Michael J. Toolan, 1988 Narrative Michael J. Toolan, 2001 Narrative explores a range of written spoken literary and non literary narratives It shows what systematic attention to language can reveal about the narratives themselves their tellers and those to whom they are addressed Topics examined include plot structure time manipulations point of view oral narratives and children s stories This classic text has been substantially rewritten to incorporate recent developments in theory and new technologies and to make it more usable as a course book New materials include sections on film surprise and suspense and online news stories The section on children s narratives has been updated and the discussion of newspaper stories incorporates contemporary examples There are new exercises which relate closely to the chapter content and new sections on further reading World Englishes Kingsley Bolton, Braj B. Tsakona, 2012-11-13 Based on approaches from discourse analysis and sociolinguistics this study proposes an analytical model focusing on the linguistic and discursive means narrators use to construct a variety of identities in everyday stories This model is further exploited in language teaching to cultivate students cultural sensitivity and critical literacy An Introduction to Narratology ,

The Linguistic Features of the Qur'anic Narratives Yehudit Dror, 2016 This monograph attempts to identify the linguistic characteristics of the Qur'anic narratives and to indicate what distinguishes them from other Qur'anic thematic passages Initially it is noted that there are four models of Qur'anic narratives In spite of the distinction between the models much of the narrative has the structure suggested by Labov 1974 They include six elements abstract orientation complicating action evaluation resolution and coda This work shows that each component is associated with specific linguistic features Series Viennese Open Oriental Studies Wiener Offene Orientalistik Vol 12 Subject Linguistics Islamic Studies Narrative Progression in the Short Story Michael J. Toolan, 2009 One of our most valuable capacities is our ability partly to predict what will come next in a text But linguistic understanding of this remains very limited especially in genres such as the short story where there is a staging of the clash between predictability and unpredictability This book proposes that a matrix of narrativity furthering textual features is crucial to the reader's forming of expectations about how a literary story will continue to its close Toolan uses corpus linguistic software and methods and stylistic and narratological theory in the course of delineating the matrix of eight parameters that he sees as crucial to creating narrative progression and expectation The book will be of interest to stylisticians narratologists corpus linguists and short story scholars Multimodal Texts from Around the World W. Bowcher, 2012-07-24 A first in multimodal multisemiotic discourse studies this collection of original articles by international scholars focuses primarily on texts from non English speaking contexts The illuminating insights enhance our understanding of how language and other semiotic resources construe specific cultural and social concerns
