Narrative as Social Practice Danièle M. Klapproth, 2004 This is a highly original comparative study of the oral storytelling traditions of two widely divergent cultures Anglo Western culture and Central Australian Aboriginal culture Concerned with both theoretical and empirical issues this book offers Narrative as Social Practice Danièle M. Klapproth, 2004 This is a highly original comparative study of the oral storytelling traditions of two widely divergent cultures Anglo Western culture and Central Australian Aboriginal culture Concerned with both theoretical and empirical issues this book offers a critical discussion of the most influential theories of narrative It evaluates them on the basis of textual analyses of Anglo Western and Australian Aboriginal oral narratives viewed in the context of the different storytelling practices values and worldviews in both cultures The book offers new insights to readers interested in linguistics narratology discourse analysis cross cultural pragmatics anthropology and Australian Aboriginal studies Narrative as Social Practice Danièle M.

Klapproth, 2009-02-26 Narrative as Social Practice sets out to explore the complex and fascinating interrelatedness of narrative and culture It does so by contrasting the oral storytelling traditions of two widely divergent cultures Anglo Western culture and the Central Australian culture of the Pitjantjatjara Yankunytjatjara Aborigines Combining discourse analytical and pragmlinguistic methodologies with the perspectives of ethnopoetics and the ethnography of communication this book presents a highly original and engaging study of storytelling as a vital communicative activity at the heart of socio cultural life The book is concerned with both theoretical and empirical issues It engages critically with the theoretical framework of social constructivism and the notion of social practice and it offers critical discussions of the most influential theories of narrative put forward in Western thinking Arguing for the adoption of a communication oriented and cross cultural perspective as a prerequisite for improving our understanding of the cultural variability of narrative practice Klapproth presents detailed textual analyses of Anglo Western and Australian Aboriginal oral narratives and contextualizes them with respect to the different storytelling practices values and worldviews in both cultures Narrative as Social Practice offers new insights to students and specialists in the fields of narratology discourse analysis cross cultural pragmatics anthropology folklore study the ethnography of communication and Australian Aboriginal studies Non-Western Educational Traditions

Timothy Reagan, 2017-07-06 Indigenous Knowledge Systems Concluding Reflections Questions for Reflection and Discussion Author Index Subject Index Social Identities of Young Indigenous People in Contemporary Australia Hae Seong

Jang, 2015-04-20 This volume is about the social identities of young Indigenous people in contemporary Australia based on fieldwork in the rural community of Yarrabah in Queensland This case study of Yarrabah is based on seventeen ethnographic interviews with women and men in their twenties With the aim of exploring how diverse social discourses have influenced the social identities of young Indigenous people in contemporary Australia this book represents the life histories of these young people in Yarrabah in the context of both the institutions with which they interact and the everyday shape of life in Yarrabah

This volume also provides new material for discussion of the ways in which Indigenous value systems broadly understood by the participants to be based on collectivism constantly come into conflict with Western values based on individualism While the young Indigenous people of Yarrabah do continuously interact not only with multi cultural Australia but also with global influences they are constantly aware of their own distinctiveness in both contexts Talk, Text and Technology Inge Kral, 2012-07-26 Talk Text and Technology is an ethnography of language learning and literacy in remote Indigenous Australia This study traces one Indigenous group from the introduction of alphabetic literacy in the 1930s to the recent arrival of digital literacies and new media This innovative work examines changing social cultural and linguistic practices across the generations and addresses the implications for language and literacy socialisation Unnatural Narratives - Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber, Rüdiger Heinze, 2011-09-29 In recent years the study of unnatural narratives has become an exciting new but still disparate research program in narrative theory For the first time this collection of essays presents and discusses the new analytical tools that have so far been developed on the basis of unnatural novels short stories and plays and extends these findings through analyses of testimonies comics graphic novels films and oral narratives Many narratives do not only mimetically reproduce the world as we know it but confront us with strange narrative worlds which rely on principles that have very little to do with the actual world around us The essays in this collection develop new narratological tools and modeling systems which are designed to capture the strangeness and extravagance of such anti realist narratives Taken together the essays offer a systematic investigation of anti mimetic techniques and strategies that relate to different narrative parameters different media and different periods within literary history Narrative and Identity Construction in the Pacific Islands Farzana Gounder, 2015-05-15 Comprising of more than twenty five percent of the world's known languages the Pacific is considered to be the most linguistically diverse region in the world What unifies the region is the culture of storytelling which provides a fundamental means for perpetuating cultural knowledge across generations The volume brings together linguists literary theorists anthropologists and historians to explore the Pacific peoples constructions of identities through narrative Chapters are organized under three themes fine grained analysis at the storyworld level the interactional context of narrative telling and finally the interconnections between narrative and cultural memory The volume reflects the Pacific region's rich linguistic and cultural diversity with discussions on the narrativization patterns in Australian and New Zealand English Palmerston Island and Pitkern Norfolk English Fiji Hindi Hawaiian Samoan Solomon Island Pidgin the Australian Aboriginal languages Jaminjung and Kriol the Micronesian languages Mortlockese and Guam Chamorro and the Vanuatuan languages Auluan Neverver and Sa Unmaking Angas Downs Shannyn Palmer, 2022-08-30 Some stories dominate how we see and interpret a place while others are obscured from view Angas Downs is a pastoral station in Central Australia but pastoralism is only a fraction of what has happened there Like all places it has accrued people and stories in multiple layers over time Listening to Tjuki Tjukanku Pumpjack and Sandra Armstrong two Anangu with deep and abiding connections to Angas Downs a very different kind of place emerges from that conjured in myths and histories of pioneers and pastoralists that have shaped understandings of the past in Australia particularly in the Northern Territory Unmaking Angas Downs traces a history of colonisation in Central Australia by tracking the rise and demise of a rural enterprise across half a century as well as the complex and creative practices that transformed a cattle station into Country It grapples with the question of how people experience profound dislocation and come to make a place for themselves in the wake of rupture Angas Downs emerges as a place of dynamic interaction and social life not only lived in but also made by Anangu

Beyond Women's Words Katrina Srigley, Stacey Zembrzycki, Franca Iacovetta, 2018-05-01 Beyond Women's Words unites feminist scholars artists and community activists working with the stories of women and other historically marginalized subjects to address the contributions and challenges of doing feminist oral history Feminists who work with oral history methods want to tell stories that matter They know too that the telling of those stories the processes by which they are generated and recorded and the different contexts in which they are shared and interpreted also matters a lot Using Sherna Berger Gluck and Daphne Patai's classic text Women's Words as a platform to reflect on how feminisms broadly defined have influenced and continue to influence the wider field of oral history this remarkable collection brings together an international multi generational and multidisciplinary line up of authors whose work highlights the great variety in understandings of and approaches to feminist oral histories Through five thematic sections the volume considers Indigenous modes of storytelling feminism in diverse locales around the globe different theoretical approaches oral history as performance digital oral history and oral history as community engagement Beyond Women's Words is ideal for students of oral history anthropology public history women's and gender history and Women's and Gender Studies as well as activists artists and community engaged practitioners

Narrative and Mental Health Jarmila Mildorf, Elisabeth Punzi, Christoph Singer, 2023 This book foregrounds the importance of narrative as a conceptual paradigm for understanding mental health issues presenting stories as an alternative source of knowledge and expression At the same time the volume acknowledges potential limitations of narrative paradigms especially when these are coupled with normative expectations of truthfulness coherence and comprehensiveness

The Thesis Writing Journeys of Bachelor's and Master's Students Bojana Petrić, Montserrat Castelló, 2024-12-20 Completing a thesis is a crucial final stage in many bachelor's and master's programmes across Europe and beyond However the process of thesis writing how it is experienced by the writers and how those experiences impact on writing remain underexplored This book examines the student experience of thesis writing through an interdisciplinary perspective drawing on theories of learning emotions and genre and narrative discursive analysis As a result of this approach the thesis is reconceptualised as a multilayered experience from the point of view of student writers The chapters which arose out of a collaborative research project across 10 European countries employ an innovative combination of methods including the use of journey plots to provide a complex picture of the thesis writing process which will be of interest to readers involved in academic writing at all levels The Languages and Linguistics of Australia Harold Koch, Rachel Nordlinger, 2014-08-19 The Languages and Linguistics of Australia A Comprehensive Guide is part of the multi volume reference work on the languages and linguistics of the continents of the world The volume provides a thorough overview of Australian languages including their linguistic structures their genetic relationships and issues of language maintenance and revitalisation Australian English Aboriginal English and other contact varieties are also discussed Rhetorical Criticism Sonja K. Foss, 2025-07-28 This transformative text has taught the lively art of rhetorical criticism to thousands of readers becoming a revered standard With an unparalleled talent for distilling sophisticated rhetorical concepts and processes Sonja Foss provides an engagingly written practical guide delineating ten methods of doing rhetorical criticism Clear instructions describe the process for systematic investigation of symbolic acts and artifacts and the necessary ingredients for well reasoned explanations and analysis Accessible sample essays illustrate each method and the same artifact is analyzed for nine of the methods to reveal the nuances and applicability of different approaches A deep understanding of rhetorical criticism equips readers to be engaged and active participants in shaping the nature of the world in which they live A chapter on feminist criticism features the disruption of conventional ideologies and practices The chapter on narrative criticism highlights storytelling in the digital world The emphasis on inquiry is invaluable for filtering meaning out of the communication encountered daily for example questions to ask processes to employ for interpretation assumptions to identify Understanding rhetoric helps readers judge the effectiveness accuracy and impact of symbols Horizons in Hermeneutics Stanley E. Porter, Matthew Malcolm, 2013-04-25 From essays that focus on the horizon of the text through to essays that consider the horizon of the twenty first century church this collection invites reflection on the illumination that hermeneutical awareness brings to biblical interpretation This Festschrift in honor of Anthony C Thiselton aims to consider exemplify and build upon his insights in philosophical hermeneutics and biblical studies particularly in relation to Paul and his writings

Reflective Writing in Medical Practice Miriam A. Locher, 2017-06-05 This book reports the results of a linguistic analysis of reflective written texts produced during medical education or practice It explores the topics and communication skills the authors write about how the narratives develop how these texts are shaped what genres influence their composition how relational work surfaces in them and how the writers linguistically create their identities as experts or novices It is clear that both experienced and trainee medics grapple with the place of emotions in their communicative acts and with the idea of what it means to be a doctor The book makes a valuable contribution to genre analysis interpersonal pragmatics and the study of linguistic identity construction and will be essential reading for those involved in teaching doctor patient communication skills Drawn from the Ground Jennifer Green, 2014-05-08 Provides a multimodal analysis of women's sand stories from Central Australia showing how speech sign gesture and drawing work together Narrative Matters in Medical Contexts across Disciplines Franziska Gygax, Miriam A. Locher, 2015-03-13 This collection of original chapters gives center stage to the concept of narrative in medical contexts The contributors come from the disciplines of literary and cultural studies linguistics psychology and medicine and work with texts as diverse as autobiographies graphic novels Renaissance medical treatises and reports short stories reflective writing creative writing and online narratives The interdisciplinary dialogue shows the richness and scope of the concept narrative and demonstrates how crucial it is for practices in the medical context as well as in the contributing disciplines The collection raises awareness of the great variety and multivocality of narratives on the experience of illness besides paying heed to the many different positions and angles from which these narratives can be perceived read and analyzed The wide range of approaches assembled in this collection provides a comprehensive view on illness and health and on the multiple ways in which they are represented in narrative

Storying Pedagogy as Critical Praxis in the Neoliberal University Mark Vicars, Ligia Pelosi, 2023-08-30 This book examines how teaching and learning and teacher and student identities are being reframed in higher education by neoliberal policies and practices It shares how teachers perform teaching and learning duties in relation to prescribed institutional policies and how teachers insert dissonant pedagogies as a critical practice The book explores narrative pedagogy as a disruptive presence and a space for critique It interrogates personal professional experience of educational systems that present educators juggling complexity and meeting competing demands to make learning meaningful for students Each contribution will act as a counterpoint and provide a synoptic method for comparison The book re constructs meaning from the generic narrative of the public face of education which homogenizes and diminishes collective understandings of teachers and teaching This book provides a contemporary account of the social realities experienced within the higher education classroom across the globe

Applying Linguistics in Illness and Healthcare Contexts Zsófia Demjén, 2020-04-16 All aspects of illness and healthcare are mediated by language experiences of illness death and healthcare provision are talked and written about face to face or online while medical consultations research interviews public health communications and even some diagnostic instruments are all inherently linguistic in nature How we talk to about and for each other in such a sensitive context has consequences for our relationships our sense of self how we understand and reason about our health as well as for the quality care we receive Yet linguistic analysis has been conspicuously absent from the mainstream of medical education health communication training and even the medical or health humanities The chapters in this volume bring together applied linguistic work using discourse analysis corpus methods conversation analysis metaphor analysis cognitive linguistics multiculturalism research interactional sociolinguistics narrative analysis and im politeness to make sense of a variety of international healthcare contexts and situations These include clinician patient interactions receptionist patient interactions online support forums online counselling public health communication media representations medical accounts diagnostic tools and definitions research interviews with doctors and patients The volume demonstrates how linguistic analysis can not only improve understandings of the lived experience of different illnesses but also has implications for communications training disease prevention treatment and self management the effectiveness of public health messaging access to appropriate care professional mobility and professional terminology among others
