Theory and Practices on Innovating for Sustainable Development Yoram Krozer,2015-08-26 This book explains how income growth and better environmental qualities go hand in hand and reviews the drivers and barriers to sustainable innovation on the basis of real life cases It discusses why innovation based income growth reduces environmental impacts and how the huge global markets for sustainable innovation are currently hampered by protectionist policies Subsequently diverse sustainable innovators are presented in ascending order of the complexity of interactions between innovators and stakeholders In this context innovating consumers who create communities of peers in solar powered mobility are examined in the first case It also focuses on regional tacit inventors who spur innovation in tourism mobility thanks to the informal policies but whose efforts are obstructed by the formalities of the European Union Artists with an interest in both innovations and the environment develop art services that deliver experiences of environmental qualities Though these experiences have gone unrecognised so far they are nonetheless socially beneficial The book also shows how technology suppliers develop four different patterns of sanitation each with its own pros and cons for the specific community's needs and conditions It discusses how project developers also make innovations in office systems including socially beneficial ones that do away with the need to commute It includes an analysis of interactions between consumers pursuing ethical consumption and international trailblazers in corporate responsibility and concludes that it is more rewarding to support social entrepreneurs than to attempt to moralise consumers Further analysis of interactions between sustainable investors and innovators reveals different groups' opinions about policies and markets helping to explain their weak influence on policies Mushrooming local energy initiatives are now evolving into energy service companies producing shifts on energy markets Why these innovators emerge and how certain policies are blocking them are explained The policies of the United States and European Union are compared with regard to the main barriers to and drivers of the renewable energy business Though the US invests more money and takes more risks it is less cost effective in terms of the number of enterprises and jobs thanks to the feed in tariffs in Europe Lastly the book also discusses policies that invest in education skills knowledge and know how exchange but instead abolish perverse subventions of vested interests to create conditions for sustainable development American Journal of Education ,1864

Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1941 Police Peacekeeping Lou Pingeot,2023-09-07 UN peace operations increasingly deploy police forces and engage in policing tasks The turn to police peacekeeping has generally been met with enthusiasm in both academic and policy circles and is often understood to provide a more civilian instrument of intervention better suited to mandates that increasingly emphasize protection Rebuilding local police forces along democratic liberal lines is seen as a prerequisite for a successful transition towards peace and stability In this book Lou Pingeot questions this optimistic reading of police peacekeeping and demonstrates that the logic of policing leads to the depoliticization of conflict and the criminalization of those who are deemed to threaten not just public order but social order authorizing violence against them in the name of law enforcement Police Peacekeeping proposes a new way of studying peace operations that focuses not on their success or failure but on how they allow people and ideas to circulate transnationally It shows that peace operations act as a point of cross fertilization for the creation and transmission of policing discourses and practices globally In so doing these missions contribute to re producing social orders that are based on the exclusion of often racialized socio economically marginalized populations both domestically in countries of intervention and internationally in troop contributing countries The book draws on and contributes to critical understandings of police power that show that police forces were never meant to protect all equally It also furthers our understanding of policing at a global level Drawing on interpretive feminist and postcolonial methodologies that emphasize relations processes and situatedness Lou Pingeot s in depth study of UN intervention in Haiti shows how a single site can help illuminate global processes Rather than starting from Haiti's supposed deviance from international expectations and norms she posits that Haiti can reveal a great deal about how policing functions globally

Interdisciplinarity, Multidisciplinarity and Transdisciplinarity in Humanities

Eugene Steele, 2016-02-29 The domination of single subjects in academic programmes and institutions has recently been called into question. Literary studies are currently opening themselves up to the epistemological renewal that other fields can offer. They are increasingly borrowing theoretical tools from other subjects in order to analyse the historical, socio-political and institutional conditions of the production of literary texts to identify the general discursive circumstances in which they emerge and to study the relationship between literature and other media. Similarly, while subjects such as sociology, history and political science have always been closely related, if not literally spinoffs from one another as in the case of sociology vis-à-vis anthropology, what becomes of their specificities when they borrow from geography to address space-related issues, from psychology to understand social actors' individual motivations or from literary studies to make sense of individual or collective narratives? The present volume accounts for experiments in research that overstep disciplinary boundaries by analysing the new fields and methodologies emerging in the contemporary globalised academic environment which puts a strong premium on synergism and linkages. Moreover, it assesses current theoretical reflections on inter-multi and transdisciplinarity as well as research grounded in it and measures their impact on the evolution of scholarship and curriculum in the fields of literature, language and humanities.

Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving Michelle

M. Falter, Steven T. Bickmore, 2018-11-23 Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which large-scale deaths are a significant, if not central, aspect of the texts. As mass shootings and violence against black and brown bodies increase and issues such as AIDS, war and genocide remain important to discuss as part of a shared critical and social consciousness, this book provides resources for educators to directly tackle and discuss these topics through the texts they read in their ELA classrooms. Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature, middle grades or young adult literature, fiction, nonfiction or graphic novels, literature provides a vehicle to have these difficult but needed conversations about not only the personal but social effects of death and grief in our society. Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with death, dying and loss through writing, assignments, projects, activities and discussion prompts in order to build empathy, understanding and develop critically minded and engaged students. Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving will be of interest to English language arts teachers, teacher educators, librarians and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature.

The Grammar of English Grammars, with an Introduction, Historical and Critical ... Gould Brown, 1851 Linear Algebra Fernando Barrera-Mora, 2023-05-08 There are numerous linear algebra textbooks available on the market Yet there are few that approach the notion of eigenvectors and eigenvalues across an operator's minimum polynomial In this book we take that approach This book provides a thorough introduction to the fundamental concepts of linear algebra The material is divided into two sections Part I covers fundamental concepts in linear algebra whereas Part II covers the theory of determinants the theory of eigenvalues and eigenvectors and fundamental results on Euclidean vector spaces We highlight that Consider hypothetical manufacturing models as a starting point for studying linear equations There are two novel ideas in the book the use of a production model to motivate the concept of matrix product and the use of an operator's minimal polynomial to describe the theory of eigenvalues and eigenvectors Several examples incorporate the use of SageMath allowing the reader to focus on conceptual comprehension rather than formulas Advances in Electronics and Electron Physics, 1956-01-01 Advances in Electronics and Electron Physics Suicide in the Entertainment Industry David K. Frasier, 2015-09-11 This work covers 840 intentional suicide cases initially reported in Daily Variety the entertainment industry's trade journal but also drawing attention from mainstream news media These cases are taken from the ranks of vaudeville film theatre dance music literature writers with direct connections to film and other allied fields in the entertainment industry from 1905 through 2000 Accidentally self-inflicted deaths are omitted except for a few controversial cases It includes the suicides of well known personalities such as actress Peg Entwistle who is the only person to ever commit suicide by jumping from the top of the Hollywood Sign Marilyn Monroe and Dorothy Dandridge who are believed to have overdosed on drugs and Richard Farnsworth and Brian Keith who shot themselves to end the misery of terminal cancer Also mentioned but in less detail are the suicides of unknown and lesser known members of the entertainment industry Arranged alphabetically each entry covers the person's personal and professional background method of suicide and in some instances includes actual statements taken from the suicide note The Grammar of English Grammars Gould Brown, 1857 Catalog of Copyright Entries. Côte D'Ivoire Ley G. Ikpo, 2015-09-16 The end of the twentieth century which was marked by multiparty democracy in Eastern European entities and Third World countries moved Côte d'Ivoire to adhere to the new democratization system in 1990. Nine years later the territory registered its first bloodless state coup. On September 19, 2002, the country was shared into two parts with human losses and damages when President Gbagbo was on official visit to Italy. After different attempts in negotiations, Linas Marcoussis 2003 Pretoria agreement 2005 and the Political Agreement of Ouagadougou 2007, for some protagonists, international organizations and NGOs, the perfect conflict resolution was about running elections so that the former peaceful land could regain its image of a prosperous and stable country. The elections that were delayed six times came to pass and two presidents came out of the scrutiny. Gbagbo was proclaimed victorious by the Ivorian Constitutional Council while Ouattara was acknowledged by the Independent Electoral Commission. Once more the country fell into a postelection crisis. Meanwhile, the African Union, the European Union, the USA, the French Licorne and the United Nations urged President Gbagbo to step down since Ouattara was considered the happy winner of the scrutiny. The refusal of Gbagbo cost human losses and led to his arrest on April 11, 2011. Nowadays the country is not unified and reconciled but it will have the 2015 elections.
