Obit The Way We Say Goodbye:

Dying and Death in 18th-21st Century Europe Corina Rotar, Marius Rotar, 2014-03-17 This book features the second selection of the most representative papers presented at the international conference Dying and Death in 18th 21st Century Europe ABDD a traditional scientific event organized every year in Alba Iulia Romania The book invites the reader on a fascinating journey across the last three centuries of Europe using the concept of death as a guide The past and present realities of the complex phenomena of death and dying in Romania the United Kingdom Lithuania Serbia Macedonia Poland USA Germany Sweden Finland and Italy are dealt with by authors from varying backgrounds including historians sociologists psychologists priests humanists anthropologists and doctors This is proof that death as a topic cannot be confined to one science the deciphering of its meanings and of the shifts it effects requires a joint interdisciplinary effort When the Sun Sets Geoffrey C. Carnell, 1998 Adapted from a series of articles written for a respected seniors magazine this reference book covers every aspect of the funeral preparations burial cremation and much more No one likes to think about funeral arrangements while the business of living occupies our minds But as Ca ell s experience suggests funeral preparations are much easier when the bereaved have at least considered what they and the deceased may want for an appropriate last rite This book gives readers a glimpse at the questions that must be answered eventually and such foresight may ease the pain a little when the time for difficult decisions is at hand Encyclopedia of Death and Dying Glennys Howarth, Oliver Leaman, 2003-12-16 In recent years there has been a massive upsurge in academic professional and lay interest in mortality This is reflected in academic and professional literature in the popular media and in the proliferation of professional roles and training courses associated with aspects of death and dying Until now the majority of reference material on death and dying has been designed for particular disciplinary audiences and has addressed only specific academic or professional concerns There has been an urgent need for an authoritative but accessible reference work reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of the field This Encyclopedia answers that need The Encyclopedia of Death and Dying consolidates and contextualizes the disparate research that has been carried out to date The phenomena of death and dying and its related concepts are explored and explained in depth from the approaches of varied disciplines and related professions in the arts social sciences humanities medicine and the sciences In addition to scholars and students in the field from anthropologists and sociologists to art and social historians the Encyclopedia will be of interest to other professionals and practitioners whose work brings them into contact with dying dead and bereaved people It will be welcomed as the definitive death and dying reference source and an essential tool for teaching research and independent study Auto/biography in Canada Julie Rak, 2009-08-02 Auto biography in Canada Critical Directions widens the field of auto biography studies with its sophisticated multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory criticism and practice of self community and representation Rather than considering autobiography and biography as discrete genres with definable properties and rather than focusing on critical approaches the essays explore auto biography as a discourse about identity and representation in the context of numerous disciplinary shifts Auto biography in Canada looks at how life narratives are made in Canada Originating from literary studies history and social work the essays in this collection cover topics that range from queer Canadian autobiography autobiography and autism and newspaper death notices as biography to Canadian autobiography and the Holocaust Grey Owl and authenticity France Thoret and autofiction and a new reading of Stolen Life the collaborative text by Yvonne Johnson and Rudy Wiebe Julie Rak's useful big picture introduction traces the history of auto biography studies in Canada While the contributors chart disciplinary shifts taking place in auto biography studies their essays are also part of the ongoing scholarship that is remaking ways to understand Canada

What Obituaries Don't Tell You Kathryn F. Weymouth, PhD, 2013-09 The terminal diagnosis is given the knock on the door comes and someone you love is dying or has just died Death happens every day yet as one hospital chaplain said Most of the time we just live life as if it isn't an issue until it's in our face It's not as if death is a secret It's on the news and in the newspaper daily but we don't talk about it very much almost pretending as if it won't happen to us or our loved ones But by not talking and not preparing we make dying and death scarier and more difficult than it needs to be That is one of the messages that the storytellers in What Obituaries Don't Tell You Conversations about Life and Death want to impart Talk and prepare is a theme repeated over and over In these stories and interviews you are sure to find people and narratives that are meaningful to you helping you heal from loss assuring you that you are not alone in your experiences and allowing you to find your voice and speak your truth in your own conversations about life and death You may also be surprised Did you know that there is a strong correlation between whether a death is deemed good or bad easy or difficult and the relationships in a person's life including one's relationship to religious or spiritual beliefs Whether you are a person who has lost a loved one a person thinking about your own death and wanting to prepare for it or a student or professional preparing to or already working with issues of death in any way you may find that the information that helps you the most is not imparted to you in obituaries but in the stories behind the scenes
