Consciousness Neil Rossman, 1991-01-01 A central claim of this book is that the emergence of humanity involves a splitting of consciousness the ability of consciousness to become reflectively aware of itself But the splitting of consciousness is simultaneously the development of the possibility of fragmentation incoherence within consciousness and alienation non unity of consciousness with others and the world Thus through the growth of reflective consciousness separation comes to permeate the whole of human experience So understood it creates the need for integration and Rossman's discussion ultimately centers on its attainment Within this perspective various aspects of consciousness including perception organic sensation desire and belief are explored There is also extensive discussion of personal identity or the experience of being a self Finally the above analyses provide the ground for discussions of freedom morality and being religious

The Early Modern Subject Udo Thiel, 2011-09-29 The Early Modern Subject explores the understanding of self consciousness and personal identity two fundamental features of human subjectivity as it developed in early modern philosophy Udo Thiel presents a critical evaluation of these features as they were conceived in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries He explains the arguments of thinkers such as Descartes Locke Leibniz Wolff and Hume as well as their early critics followers and other philosophical contemporaries and situates them within their historical contexts Interest in the issues of self consciousness and personal identity is in many ways characteristic and even central to early modern thought but Thiel argues here that this is an interest that continues to this day in a form still strongly influenced by the conceptual frameworks of early modern thought In this book he attempts to broaden the scope of the treatment of these issues considerably covering more than a hundred years of philosophical debate in France Britain and Germany while remaining attentive to the details of the arguments under scrutiny and discussing alternative interpretations in many cases

The year 1930 can be seen as the dawn of a period of darkness the beginning of a decade that Auden would style low dishonest That year was one of the most reflective moments in modernity After the optimism of the nineteenth century the West had stumbled into war in 1914 It managed to survive a conflagration but it failed in the aftermath to create something valued In 1930 Europe was questioning itself and its own viability Where are we heading a number of public intellectuals asked Who are we and how do we build moral social and political structures Can we continue to believe in the insights and healing quality of our culture Major thinkers Mann Woolf Ortega Freud Brecht Nardal and Huxley as well as a number of artists including Picasso and Magritte and musicians such as Weill sought to grapple with issues that remain central to our lives today the viability of a secular Europe with Enlightenment values coming to terms with a darker view of human nature mass culture and its dangers the rise of the politics of irrationality identity and the other in Western civilization new ways to represent the postwar world the epistemological dilemma in a world of uncertainty and the new Fascism was it a new norm or an aberration Arthur Haberman sees 1930 as a watershed year in the intellectual life of Europe and with this book the first to see the contributions of the public intellectuals of 1930 as a single entity he forces a reconsideration and reinterpretation of the period

The search for the defining qualities of narrative has produced an expansive range of definitions which largely unconnected with each other obscure the notion of narrativity rather than clarifying it The first part of this study remedies this shortcoming by developing a graded macro model of narrativity which serves three aims Firstly it provides a structured overview of the field of narrative elements and processes Secondly it facilitates the classification of narratological approaches by locating them on different stages of narrativity Finally it focuses attention on narrative dynamics as interpretative processes by which readers seek to produce narrative coherence The second part of this study identifies three different narrative dynamics which characterise Laclos's Dangerous Connections Kafka's Castle and Toussaint's novels Wagner bases her analyses of these dynamics not only on the texts themselves but also on the ways in which literary scholars imbue the texts with narrative coherence This book provides a long overdue systematisation of the jumbled field of theories of narrativity and opens new perspectives on the difficult relationship between narrative theory and interpretation
