Prescriptions of a Poet L.C. Arrington, 2010-10-26 Life is beautiful and full of surprises To experience life is to experience the light and dark the yin and yang the balance between occurrence and lesson learned Life itself is about relationships whether familial romantic platonic or the relationship with ones self all are essential to this journey This poetry collection is about love lost and found friends old and new and the definition of self told in a contemporary honest edgy genuine and relatable way Everyone is looking for a direction and never wants to feel alone This unique collection was written in hopes to stir the soul touch your heart and remind you that you are never alone The poetry is the process the prescription is the remedy for the heart Mirror Man Ronald A.Fenn, 2011-07-20 The book is a compilation of short vignettes describing certain seen observations from the point of view of one living in an unreal environment and unreal reality except for sometimes far too much of both It tries to explain through a mental split of thinking the disorder of being black and white on a red and white flag which the flag of Nigeria was used to make a new flag for a young nation at peace Some of the book is autobiographical and some more involved in detailed analysis of control by technology and the human animal Man It may seem to be rather complex and hard to read but one must understand I wrote the book in a psychiatric hospital being brainwashed to get back on my feet again It spans a life time of observation in the nation of Canada as seen through an african who is white blinded by so many mindsets about colour and race and origins Leaving everything behind that was most precious in Africa I have had to live this nation's reality as my own sight seen or unseen often misplaced or taken for granted or isolated and or used and abused Living into Hope Rev. Dr. Joan Brown Campbell, 2010-09-01 Step beyond the walls of the church and into the thick of humanity Joan Brown Campbell's career can be regarded as prophetic For Joan faith has meant engagement with the world and its pain Her words remind us that at its best religion should not narrow our horizons but enable us to live more fully should not cause us to withdraw from the world but to do our utmost to make it a better place from the Foreword by Karen Armstrong Drawing on her amazing life experiences Rev Dr Joan Brown Campbell speaks out on the pressing issues that face us today love justice reconciliation forgiveness and community With a bold distinctive voice this visionary minister asserts that we have the capacity to transcend the barriers that separate us from one another She poses that Who is my neighbor may be the most crucial question in our world where so many are hungry and hurting and weary of war She calls us to live life fully not carefully or cautiously but wholly engaged with the world and with the messiness of humanity She dares us to act as the people we are called and created to be to claim our freedom to care to risk and to step out into the unknown Capturing the essence of her wisdom gained from years of world travel and experience Campbell offers inspiration and challenge for all who would claim their lives as people of hope
