Perfect Victim:

Revisiting the 'Ideal Victim' Marian Duggan, 2018-07-04 Nils Christie's 1986 seminal work on the Ideal Victim is reproduced in full in this edited collection of vibrant and provocative essays that respond to and update the concept from a range of thematic positions. Each chapter celebrates and commemorates his work by analysing, evaluating and critiquing the current nature and impact of victim identity, experience, policy and practice. The collection expands the focus and remit of victim studies, addressing key themes around race, gender, faith, ability and age while encompassing new and diverse issues. Examples include sex workers as victims of hate crimes, victims' experiences of online fraud and recognising historic child sexual abuse victims in Ireland. With contributions from an array of academics including Vicky Heap (Sheffield Hallam University), Hannah Mason (University of Sussex) and Pamela Davies (Northumbria University) as well as a Foreword by David Scott (The Open University), this book evaluates the contemporary relevance and applicability of Christie's Ideal Victim concept and creates an important platform for thinking differently about victimhood in the 21st century.

This material delves into the worst case scenario possible for the spousal victim as well as common red flags, exploitation, strip mining, predatory take ALL agenda and abuse patterns perpetrated by the covert spousal predator in his/her hunting prime and afterward when the predator decompensates. Many valuable references are provided throughout this book for further education, research and understanding. Readers are strongly encouraged to continue their review of material created by all of the referenced educators and authors listed in this book. Moreover, the top mistakes made by victims, support persons, for victims, professionals, law enforcement and others are detailed in the hopes that readers will avoid making as many of these errors as they face various scenarios with the predator or predators in their lives or in the lives of others they are attempting to assist. For spousal victims in the worst case scenario with an empowered, aided and abetted covert spousal predator, i.e. situations where common minor children are involved, this book covers topics typically not touched in the material of others. This book is not about overt spousal predators, i.e. abusers whose victims can effectively use the system and/or domestic violence shelter assistance to flee, though overt predators perpetrate many of the same abuse patterns minus the skill of becoming aided and abetted via abuse by proxy scams which are commonly the mainstay of the covert predator's take ALL agenda.

Virginity Revisited Bonnie MacLachlan, Judith Fletcher, 2007-01-01 From Classical Antiquity to the present virginity has been closely allied with power as someone who chooses a life of celibacy retains mastery over his or her body Sexual potency withheld becomes an energy reservoir that can ensure independence and enhance self esteem but it can also be harnessed by public institutions and redirected for the common good This was the founding principle of the Vestal Virgins of Rome and later in the monastic orders of the middle ages Mythical accounts of goddesses and heroines who possessed the ability to recover their virginity after sexual experience demonstrate a belief that virginity is paradoxically connected both with social autonomy and the ability to serve the human community Virginity Revisited is a collection of essays that examines virginity not as a physical reality but as a cultural artefact By situating the topic of virginity within a range of historical moments and using a variety of methodologies Virginity Revisited illuminates how chastity provided a certain agency autonomy and power to women This is a study of the positive and negative features of sexual renunciation from ancient Greek divinities and mythical women in Rome s Vestal Virgins in the Christian martyrs and Mariology in the Medieval and early Modern period and in Grace Marks the heroine of Margaret Atwood s novel Alias Grace

Murphy, 2019-09-17 A century and a half after the abolition of slavery in the United States survivors of contemporary forms of enslavement from around the world have revived a powerful tool of the abolitionist movement first person narratives of slavery and freedom Just as

Frederick Douglass Harriet Jacobs and others used autobiographical testimonies in the fight to eradicate slavery today's new slave narrators play a crucial role in shaping an antislavery agenda Their writings unveil the systemic underpinnings of global slavery while critiquing the precarity of their hard fought freedom At the same time the demands of antislavery organizations religious groups and book publishers circumscribe the voices of the enslaved coopting their narratives in support of alternative agendas In this pathbreaking interdisciplinary study Laura T Murphy argues that the slave narrative has reemerged as a twenty first century genre that has gained new currency in the context of the memoir boom post 9 11 anti Islamic sentiment and conservative family values politics She analyzes a diverse range of dozens of book length accounts of modern slavery from Africa Asia the United States the United Kingdom and Europe examining the narrative strategies that survivors of slavery employ to make their experiences legible and to promote a reinvigorated antislavery agenda By putting these stories into conversation with one another The New Slave Narrative reveals an emergent survivor centered counterdiscourse of collaboration and systemic change that offers an urgent critique of the systems that maintain contemporary slavery as well as of the human rights industry and the antislavery movement

What is Wrong with Human Trafficking? Rita Haverkamp, Ester Herlin-Karnell, Claes Lernestedt, 2019-01-24 The overarching objective of this volume is to discuss and critique the legal regulation of human trafficking in national and transnational context Specifically discussion is needed not only with regard to the historical and philosophical points of departure for any criminalisation of trafficking but also regarding the societal and social framework the empirical dimension such as existing statistics in the area and the need for more data The book combines descriptive and normative analyses of the crime of trafficking in human beings from a cross legal perspective Notwithstanding the enhanced interest for human trafficking in politics the public and the media a critical perspective such as the one pursued herewith has so far been largely absent Against this background this approach allows for theoretical findings to be addressed by pointing out and elaborating different interdisciplinary conflicts and inconsistencies in the regulation of human trafficking The book discusses the phenomenon of human trafficking critically from various angles giving it shape and showing how it comes to life in the legal regulation the nature of sacrifice is particularly important given that sacrifice also has an important role to play in several key debates in moral philosophy. The chapters in this volume make an important contribution to our understanding of sacrifice in three areas. The first part of the book investigates the nature of sacrifice. The next group of chapters investigates the role of sacrifice in moral philosophy. Three of these pieces investigate the role of sacrifice in our moral lives generally while two investigate the role of sacrifice in relation to particular moral theories. The final two chapters investigate the value of sacrifice in relation to political and theological issues. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Philosophical Studies.
