Performance Under Pressure:

Performing Under Pressure Hendrie Weisinger, J. P. Pawliw-Fry, 2015-02-24 Nobody performs better under pressure. Regardless of the task, pressure ruthlessly diminishes our judgment, decision making, attention, dexterity, and performance in every professional and personal arena. In Performing Under Pressure, Drs. Hendrie Weisinger and J. P. Pawliw-Fry introduce us to the concept of pressure management, offering empirically tested short-term and long-term solutions to help us overcome the debilitating effects of pressure. Performing Under Pressure tackles the greatest obstacle to personal success, whether in a sales presentation at home, on the golf course, interviewing for a job, or performing onstage at Carnegie Hall. Despite sports mythology, no one rises to the occasion under pressure and does better than they do in practice. The reality is, pressure makes us do worse and sometimes leads us to fail utterly. But there are things we can do to diminish its effects on our performance. Performing Under Pressure draws on research from over 12,000 people and features the latest research from neuroscience and from the frontline experiences of Fortune 500 employees and managers, Navy SEALs, Olympic and other elite athletes, and others. It offers 22 specific strategies each of us can use to reduce pressure in our personal and professional lives and allow us to better excel in whatever we do. Whether you're a corporate manager, a basketball player, or a student preparing for the SAT, Performing Under Pressure will help you to do your best when it matters most.

Peak Performance Under Pressure Stephen Hearn, 2019-10-04 Drawing on 20 years of leadership experience in high-pressure emergency medical and rescue situations, the author describes the consequences of pressure, both positive and negative, and teaches the strategies we need to attain states of peak performance.

Performance Under Pressure Sorin Dumitrascu, 2016-12-20

There are three simple strategies to achieve performance under pressure

- 1 develop the right attitude for performance under pressure
- 2 take action for performance under pressure
- 3 achieve relational performance under pressure

There are two main principles to help you control your reaction to pressure

First you take control of yourself by taking stock of your emotions establishing a sense of calm accepting that you can't control everything and using self talk

Second you cultivate a success mentality by using your emotions to your advantage boosting self confidence having a go to statement prepared focusing on what you can achieve and adopting an attitude that is conducive to success

Stressful situations tend to distort how a situation is perceived And you need discipline to see the real picture

Discipline and one simple four steps strategy that you can follow to optimize your perception of situations

First notice and understand your automatic thoughts These thoughts often arise from emotional reactions to situations and may go undetected at first

Second identify thought distortions Common types of thought distortions include having a negative bias blame emotive reasoning and exaggeration

The third step is to question whether there is any evidence for this kind of thinking

The fourth step is to revise your thoughts This involves restating them in a more positive way by separating them from any emotional or automatic thinking

And I do agree it sounds difficult the first time But with time this will become just another good behavior that you exhibit

The four work styles are expressives drivers amiables and analysts

Under pressure expressives can go on the offensive drivers can become dictatorial amiables may become acquiescent and analysts may become excessively detached from others

There are circumstances in the workplace where interactions with colleagues can generate pressure

Reacting negatively to colleagues in pressure situations can be damaging to work relationships

And here also you will learn a four step technique that can help you handle stressful interactions

First monitor your feelings and tendencies toward instinctive or automatic responses Then use a diversion to avoid being dominated by negative thoughts Next replace negative and distorted thoughts with positive thoughts Finally prepare to interact positively
