Riot The Movie:

Hollywood Riots Doug Dibbern, 2015-12-17 The large literature about the politics of Hollywood in the period of McCarthy and the blacklist has largely overlooked political filmmaking during those agitated years Hollywood Riots examines the most vibrant cycle of independently produced political films made while House Committee on Un American Activities was investigating communists in the film industry In doing so it shifts the focus from the politics of Washington to the politics of Los Angeles and from the films of the Hollywood Ten to the more politically complex films of the progressive community at large Dibbern shows how the movies produced by progressives at the end of the 1950s including The Lawless The Sound of Fury The Underworld were the logical cinematic parallel to their political and journalistic advocacy fighting the conservative newspapers In these films they were recasting political events from California's recent past as politically engaged narratives that were inflected with their own fears of persecution Hollywood Riots reviews the work of notable directors like Joseph Losey and Cy Endfield as well as introducing unheralded political screenwriters and directors such as Daniel Mainwaring Jo Pagano and Leo C Popkin

The Cool and the Crazy Peter Stanfield, 2015-04-08 Explosive Amazing Terrifying You won't believe your eyes Such movie taglines were common in the 1950s as Hollywood churned out a variety of low budget pictures that were sold on the basis of their sensational content and topicality While a few of these movies have since become canonized by film fans and critics a number of the era's biggest fads have now faded into obscurity The Cool and the Crazy examines seven of these film cycles including short lived trends like boxing movies war pictures and social problem films detailing the sordid and violent life of teenagers as well as uniquely 1950s takes on established genres like the gangster picture Peter Stanfield reveals how Hollywood sought to capitalize upon current events moral panics and popular fads making movies that were ripped from the headlines on everything from the Korean War to rock and roll As he offers careful readings of several key films he also considers the broader historical and commercial contexts in which these films were produced marketed and exhibited In the process Stanfield uncovers surprising synergies between Hollywood and other arenas of popular culture like the ways that the fashion trend for blue jeans influenced the 1950s Western Delivering sharp critical insights in jazzy accessible prose The Cool and the Crazy offers an appreciation of cinema as a pop medium unabashedly derivative faddish and ephemeral By studying these long burst bubbles of 1950s pop Stanfield reveals something new about what films do and the pleasures they provide

Riot On Sunset Strip Domenic Priore, 2007-07-12 On the Sunset Strip in Los Angeles in 1965 and 1966 an electrifying scene appeared out of nowhere exploded into creativity and then just as suddenly vanished So much remarkable music art and social revolution came from one place at one time it's difficult now to grasp how it all happened In that moment rock n roll displaced movies as the centre of action in Hollywood This book tells the story of that astonishing time The nightlife was a heady mix of modernist design pop art and beat aesthetics From the moment The Byrds debuted at Ciro's on March 26th 1965 with Bob Dylan joining them on stage right up to the demonstrations of November 1966 Sunset Strip nightclubs nurtured and broke The Doors Love Buffalo Springfield Frank Zappa s Mothers Of Invention Captain Beefheart His Magic Band The Turtles The Mamas The Papas and many others The Strip was a hotbed for garage punk bands such as The Standells The Seeds The Music Machine and The Electric Prunes Folk rock and psychedelia were born there and it was a favourite hangout and inspiration for The Beatles The Rolling Stones Them The Velvet Underground and The Yardbirds Pop art and rock n roll combined and the new fusion quickly permeated television animation and New Hollywood s indie cinema

Crime and Racial Constructions Jeanette Covington, 2010-04-12 Crime and Racial Constructions Cultural Misinformation about African Americans in Media and Academia focuses on how film images of dangerous hedonistic blacks have assumed greater significance since blacks protested racial injustice during the Civil Rights Movement and the Black Power Movement of the 1960s and 1970s It does so by reviewing a number of films that have been released from the 1970s until the present in which black males are depicted as violent and threatening It likewise considers how these same films represent black females as prostitutes drug addicts and irresponsible abusive mothers who spawn violence in their children Because these on screen images of a violent apolitical and immoral black underclass find their way into the criminological literature the book also takes a look at how criminologists use these images to link crime to underclass culture Both Hollywood and criminologists alike manage to ignore how black activism during the 1960s social movements actually sparked black opposition to the kind of black on black crime that is routinely depicted on screen By taking a critical look at these negative images Crime and Racial Constructions seeks to correct some of the distortions that arise from the undue academic and cinematic focus on black criminals at the expense of racially conscious blacks
