Disappearing Witness Gretchen Garner, 2003-07-25 In documenting this transformation in American photography Disappearing Witness forcefully rethinks the history of photography itself The Art Institute of Chicago Field Guide to Photography and Media Antawan I. Byrd, Elizabeth Siegel, 2023-01-01 A roster of prominent artists curators and scholars offers a new entirely contemporary approach to our understanding of photography and media Focusing on the Art Institute of Chicago's deep and varied collection of photographs books and other printed matter installation art photobooks albums and time based media this ambitious wide ranging volume features short essays by prominent artists curators university professors and independent scholars that explore topics essential to understanding photography and media today The essays organized around themes ranging from the expected to the esoteric are paired with key objects from the collection in order to address issues of aesthetics history philosophy power relations production and reception More than 400 high quality reproductions amplify the authors arguments and suggest additional dialogues across conventional divisions of chronology genre geography and technology An introductory essay by Matthew S Witkovsky traces the museum's history of acquisitions and how the evolution of the museum's collection reflects broader changes in the critical reception of the field of photography and media Distributed for the Art Institute of Chicago The Racial Unfamiliar John Brooks, 2022-08-30 The works of African American authors and artists are too often interpreted through the lens of authenticity They are scrutinized for positive or negative representations of Black people and Black culture or are assumed to communicate some truth about Black identity or the Black experience However many contemporary Black artists are creating works that cannot be slotted into such categories Their art resists interpretation in terms of conventional racial discourse instead they embrace opacity uncertainty and illegibility John Brooks examines a range of abstractionist experimental and genre defying works by Black writers and artists that challenge how audiences perceive and imagine race He argues that literature and visual art that exceed the confines of familiar conceptions of Black identity can upend received ideas about race and difference Considering photography by Roy DeCarava installation art by Kara Walker novels by Percival Everett and Paul Beatty drama by Suzan Lori Parks and poetry by Robin Coste Lewis Brooks pinpoints a shared aesthetic sensibility In their works the devices that typically make race feel familiar are instead used to estrange cultural assumptions about race Brooks contends that when artists confound expectations about racial representation the resulting disorientation reveals the incoherence of racial ideologies By showing how contemporary literature and art ask audiences to question what they think they know about race The Racial Unfamiliar offers a new way to understand African American cultural production International Photography Index, 1981 Roy DeCarava, a Retrospective Roy DeCarava, Peter Galassi, Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 1996 Featuring 200 superb plates spanning half a century this book is the first retrospective of the work of Roy DeCarava a great American photographer known for his brilliant photographs of Harlem and of jazz musicians such as Billie

Holliday and John Coltrane Published to accompany a major exhibition that opened at The Museum of Modern Art New York in early 1996

Ordinary Notes Christina Sharpe, 2023-04-25 A finalist for the National Book Award in Nonfiction A finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award in Nonfiction Named a Best Book of 2023 by The New York Times NPR New York magazine Kirkus and Barnes and Noble The critically acclaimed author of In the Wake Christina Sharpe is a brilliant thinker who attends unflinchingly to the brutality of our current arrangements and yet always finds a way to beauty and possibility Saidiya Hartman A singular achievement Ordinary Notes explores profound questions about loss and the shapes of Black life that emerge in the wake In a series of 248 notes that gather meaning as we read them Christina Sharpe skillfully weaves artifacts from the past public ones alongside others that are poignantly personal together with present realities and possible futures intricately constructing an immersive portrait of everyday Black existence The themes and tones that echo through these pages sometimes about language beauty and memory sometimes about history art photography and literature always attend with exquisite care to the ordinary extraordinary dimensions of Black life At the heart of Ordinary Notes is the indelible presence of the author's mother Ida Wright Sharpe I learned to see in my mother's house writes Sharpe I learned how not to see in my mother's house My mother gifted me a love of beauty a love of words Using these gifts and other ways of seeing Sharpe steadily summons a chorus of voices and experiences to the page She practices an aesthetic of beauty as a method collects entries from a community of thinkers toward a Dictionary of Untranslatable Blackness and rigorously examines sites of memory and memorial And in the process she forges a brilliant new literary form as multivalent as the ways of Black being it traces Color art throughout

Shadow Archives Jean-Christophe Cloutier, 2019-09-03 Recasting the history of African American literature Shadow Archives brings to life a slew of newly discovered texts including Claude McKay s Amiable with Big Teeth to tell the stories of black special collections and their struggle for institutional recognition Jean Christophe Cloutier offers revelatory readings of major African American writers including McKay Richard Wright Ann Petry and Ralph Ellison and provides a nuanced view of how archival methodology access and the power dynamics of acquisitions shape literary history Shadow Archives argues that the notion of the archive is crucial to our understanding of postwar African American literary history Cloutier combines his own experiences as a researcher and archivist with a theoretically rich account of the archive to offer a pioneering study of the importance of African American authors archival practices and how these shaped their writing Given the lack of institutions dedicated to the black experience the novel became an alternative site of historical preservation a means to ensure both individual legacy and group survival Such archivism manifests in the work of these authors through evolving lifecycles where documents undergo repurposing revision insertion falsification transformation and fictionalization sometimes across decades An innovative interdisciplinary consideration of literary papers Shadow Archives proposes new ways for literary scholars to engage with the archive

American Photography Miles Orvell, 2003 150 years of American photography come alive in this exciting new book placing it in its cultural context for the first time Orvell examines this fascinating subject through a wide range of well known and less well known images He ranges from portraiture and landscape photography family albums and memory and analyses the particularly American way in which American photographers have viewed the world around them Orvell combines a clear overview of the changing nature of photographic thinking and practice in this period with an exploration of key concepts The result is the first coherent history of American photography which examines issues such as the nature of photographic exploitation experimental techniques the power of the photograph to shock and whether we should subscribe to the notion of a visual history     Photographic Memories Rob Kroes,2007 The role of photographs in the formation of public memories     Re:view ,1993     The American Humanities Index Stephen H.
