

Defeated in the English Civil War which had raged since 1642, King Charles I was under house arrest at Carisbrooke for 10 months in 1647-48.

As he had no food, he had to eat the bread that was given to him. He was also given a small amount of food, but it was not enough to keep him healthy. He was also given a small amount of food, but it was not enough to keep him healthy.

After his capture, Charles was taken to the Tower of London. He was held in the Tower for 10 months. He was held in the Tower for 10 months. He was held in the Tower for 10 months.

The second attempt was made in this area, where soldiers and footmen had been built by George Carter all years before. Charles tried to climb out of the window above you but he was betrayed by his gun. He then had other means to make escape, but they could not be used.
