Trembling and quivering is the mind Difficult to guard and hard to restrain The person of wisdom sets it straight As a fletcher does an arrow The Dhammapada introduced the actual utterances of the Buddha nearly twenty five hundred years ago when the master teacher emerged from his long silence to illuminate for his followers the substance of humankind s deepest and most abiding concerns The nature of the self the value of relationships the importance of moment to moment awareness the destructiveness of anger the suffering that attends attachment the ambiguity of the earth s beauty the inevitability of aging the certainty of death these dilemmas preoccupy us today as they did centuries ago No other spiritual texts speak about them more clearly and profoundly than does the Dhammapada In this elegant new translation Sanskrit scholar Glenn Wallis has exclusively referred to and quoted from the canonical suttas the presumed earliest discourses of the Buddha to bring us the heartwood of Buddhism words as compelling today as when the Buddha first spoke them On violence All tremble before violence All fear death Having done the same yourself you should neither harm nor kill On ignorance An uninstructed person ages like an ox his bulk increases his insight does not On skillfulness A person is not skilled just because he talks a lot Peaceful friendly secure that one is called skilled In 423 verses gathered by subject into chapters the editor offers us a distillation of core Buddhist teachings that constitutes a prescription for enlightened living even in the twenty first century He also includes a brilliantly informative guide to the verses a chapter by chapter explication that greatly enhances our understanding of them The text at every turn points to practical applications that lead to freedom from fear and suffering toward the human state of spiritual virtuosity known as awakening Glenn Wallis s translation is an inspired successor to path Buddha In our struggle for freedom truth is the only weapon we possess Dala Lama Being interested in the Buddha s teaching is not a coincidence through our lives we have been learning about the ultimate truth the deeper meaning of life We have been learning from different traditions various teachers and gurus And sometimes we came across the teaching of the Buddha Where there is no dogma no rules to follow but a clear understanding of reality and its laws Life is built around principles that makes our world our universe stable and harmonious Knowing those rules allows us to align ourselves to this harmony The Buddha simply gave us a way to find the alignment faster The summary the Buddha once gave to a monk was First establish yourself in the starting point of wholesome states that is in purified moral discipline and in right view Then when your moral discipline is purified and your view straight you should practice the four foundations of mindfulness To give you a clear direction and view about this beautiful path I will start this book with Quotes directly from the Buddha and will continue with Quotes from different monks Lamas and Zen teachers who have shared their understanding through the ages Happiness is not something ready made It comes from your own actions Dala Lama The Buddha teaches that there is one defilement which gives rise to all the others one root which holds them all in place This root is ignorance avijja Bhikkhu Bodhi The Buddha says that the Dhamma the ultimate truth of things is directly visible timeless calling out to be approached and seen He says further that it is always available to us and that the place where it is to be realized is within oneself Bhikkhu Bodhi Happiness will never come to those who fail to appreciate what they already have Buddha May you all be liberated may you carry the burden easlily and keep yourself happy Sati Dhamma The Sayings of Buddha the Iti-vuttaka Justin Hartley Moore,2014-10-05 From the PREFATORY NOTE In this book the Sayings or Logia of Buddha are translated for the first time into an Occidental language and it is gratifying that Dr Moore has accomplished the task of making them generally accessible A V Williams Jackson From the PREFACE Since 1841 when Friedrich Spiegel published the first European edition of a Pali text the interest taken in the life and teachings of Buddha has been keen and marked Through the labors of Turnour D Alwis Childers Fausb ll Oldenberg Hardy Kern Davids and others steady progress has been made both in our knowledge of the career of this great Eastern teacher and in the interpretation of the sacred books of his canon Chief among the agencies for the publication of these texts has been and still is the Pali Text Society of London under the direction of its scholarly founder and indefatigable worker T W Rhys Davids Up to its twenty fifth anniversary in April 1907 the society published through the collaboration of many scholars a total of 46 Buddhist texts in 59 volumes amounting in all to over 17 000 octavo pages In contrast with this great number of editions of the texts themselves the work of translating and commenting upon them has not however made equal progress Despite the translations of Rhys Davids Oldenberg Weber Neumann and others along with the labors of many enthusiastic interpreters the gaps to be filled in translating the canon are wide and many For this reason almost any comment or argument on any Buddhist topic must inevitably be regarded as only provisional if not in some cases even premature until all the texts together with their native commentaries shall have been sifted compared interpreted and criticized There is an element of the charm of the unknown in translating a book that has not been previously rendered into a Western tongue For that reason the work of translating the Iti vuttaka has been to me a task of much interest although the undertaking was somewhat like a dive into unfathomed waters Before closing these prefatory remarks I desire to express my thanks for a number of obligations which I owe to friends In matters of typography and the like I have had throughout the invaluable assistance of Mr George C O Haas to whom I gladly take this occasion of expressing my sincere thanks for his kindness in so generously putting at my disposal his exceptional acumen in proof reading My friend and fellow student Mr Charles J Ogden of Columbia University has helped me more than once by his brilliant criticism and Dr Truman Michelson among others has given me willing advice and comment But to one above all have I been a constant debtor throughout this task from its inception to its completion one who has played the role both of kindly guide and rigorous critic and who has most generously allotted to me a goodly portion of his time already filled to overflowing with multifarious duties Pleasant indeed has been the inspiration gained from a long association with and apprenticeship under my friend and teacher Professor A V Williams Jackson Justin Hartley Moore Columbia University New York City May 18 1908 Einstein and Buddha Thomas J. McFarlane, 2002-12-20 Einstein and Buddha The Parallel Sayings includes introductory remarks that illuminate the quotes but the focus of the book is the parallel sayings themselves The parallels are presented side by side on facing pages inviting the reader to read the quotes meditate on their meaning and discover the lessons they offer The parallels are grouped thematically and draw from a wide range of physicists including Albert Einstein Niels Bohr Werner Heisenberg David Bohm and Richard Feynman as well as ancient and contemporary teachers from the East including Buddha Lao Tzu Chuang Tzu Sri Aurobindo and the Dalai Lama Topics include time and space subject and object and the true nature of reality The parallels bring science and religion closer together than ever before Some Sayings of the Buddha ,1960 Sayings of Buddha, the Iti-vuttaka ,1965
