The Scarlet Letter Nathaniel Hawthorne,2017-11-17 The life of the Custom House lies like a dream behind me Soon likewise my old native town will loom upon me through the haze of memory a mist brooding over and around it as if it were no portion of the real earth but an overgrown village in cloud land with only imaginary inhabitants to people its wooden houses and walk its homely lanes and the unpicturesque prolixity of its main street It may be however oh transporting and triumphant thought that the great grandchildren of the present race may sometimes think kindly of the scribbler of bygone days In the mid 1800s when Nathaniel Hawthorne wrote these words in the Custom House preface to The Scarlet Letter he could not have imagined the millions of readers a century later who would think kindly of the scribbler of bygone days and continue to make his novel a best seller The Scarlet Letter A Romance is a novel in a historical setting written by American author Nathaniel Hawthorne It tells the story of Hester Prynne who conceives a daughter through an affair and struggles to create a new life of repentance and dignity Throughout the book Hawthorne explores themes of legalism sin and guilt
