Scars And Memory:

Scars of Memory James Logan, The Memory Architects Parth Savaliya, 2025-03-30 The Memory Architects Your memories are not your own But what if the truth was buried inside them In a future where memories can be bought sold and rewritten Cael Novak was once the most gifted Memory Architect alive until someone wiped his past clean Now haunted by fragments of a life he can't remember and the face of a woman he can't forget Cael is thrust back into the shadowy world he tried to escape When OmniCorp the corporation controlling the memory trade summons him for a dangerous assignment extract a buried memory from a comatose whistleblower Cael uncovers more than just corporate secrets He discovers a weaponized program known as Project Chimera capable of rewriting reality by altering memories at a global scale As he digs deeper the line between past and present blurs allies become enemies and Cael must face the haunting possibility that he helped build the very system he's trying to destroy Packed with psychological intrigue technological thrills and moral dilemmas The Memory Architects is a mind bending sci fi thriller for fans of Inception Black Mirror and Altered Carbon What if the only way to save the future is to unlock the truth of your forgotten past Dark Memory Christine Feehan, 2024-09-24 Experience a connection that defies death in this captivating novel in Christine Feehan's 1 New York Times bestselling Carpathian series Safia Meziane has trained since birth to protect her tribe the family she holds so dear All along she told herself the legends she was raised with were simply that But now she must call upon all of her skills to fight what lies ahead Evil has come to their small town on the coast of Algeria evil that Safia can feel but cannot see She is terrified she will not be able to protect the ones she loves As her family's chosen one she has always believed she would face this task alone until her family reveals she has been promised to a warrior who will join her An outsider A Carpathian Petru Cioban is one of the oldest Carpathians in existence and he has spent all that time without the soothing presence of his lifemate For two thousand years he has waited for this woman to be reborn only to find her in the sights of a monster he has fought before a vampire risen again to finish a battle started centuries ago Now Petru must face his greatest enemy and his greatest shame He has no hope that Safia will forgive his betrayal once the memories of her past life return to her But he will not make the same mistake again even if he has to sacrifice everything for the woman who has claimed his immortal soul Memory, Brain, and Belief Daniel L. Schacter, Elaine Scarry, 2001 This text will be stimulating to scholars in several academic fields It ranges from cognitive neurological and pathological perspectives on memory and belief to memory and belief in autobiographical narratives Road Scars Robert Matej Bednar, 2020-07-21 Despite the ubiquity of automobility the reality of automotive death is hidden from everyday view There are accident blackspots all over the roads that we use and go past every day but the people that have died there or been injured are not marked unless by homemade shrines and personal memorialization Nowhere on the planet is this practice as densely actioned as in the United States Road Scars is a highly visual scholarly monograph about how roadside car crash shrines place the collective trauma of living in a car culture in the everyday landscapes of automobility Roadside shrines or road trauma shrines are vernacular memorial assemblages built by private individuals at sites where family and friends have died in automobile accidents either while driving cars or motorcycles or being hit by cars as pedestrians bicyclists or motorcyclists Prevalent for decades in Latin America and in the American Southwest roadside car crash shrines are now present throughout the U S and around the world Some are simply small white crosses almost silent markers of places of traumatic death Others are elaborate collections of objects texts and materials from all over the map culturally and physically all significantly brought together not in the home or in a cemetery but on the roadside in drivable public space a space where private individuals perform private identities alongside each other in public and where these private mobilities sometimes collide with one another in traumatic ways that are negotiated in roadside shrines This book touches on something many of us have seen but few have explored intellectually Show'em Your Scars Robert Mattingly, 2005-09 Cartographer of scars Madina Fedosova, 2025-09-24 Sarajevo is bleeding The war has cost Doctor Milos everything But from the ruins of his personal tragedy his mission is born to become a cartographer of scars He maps not the borders of nations but a geography of human suffering Each line is a story of survival a testament to broken lives and unbreakable will Uncovering Memory Tanja Sakota, 2023-03-01 My interest in site specific research is not random My mother escaped through the sewers of Breslau Germany in 1945 today known as Wroclaw Poland My father was born in a country that no longer exists Their final destination was Johannesburg South Africa This is where I enter the narrative I was born during apartheid and my interest in memory and identity is a result of my historical and political context Each one of us comes with a history a complex web of DNA and a library of information that shapes who we are and how we view the world How can we use our own complexities not only to engage with one another but to build it for story content As an artistic researcher filmmaker and educator Tanja Sakota has often thought how to bring this subjective experience into pedagogical practice Using paired themes of memory and forgetting segregation and migration perpetrators and victims Sakota travels along a timeline of memory as she takes us on a journey through South Africa Germany Poland and Bosnia Herzegovina Using a camera and short film techniques she hosts several workshops focused on interacting and engaging with remembering through different memory sites The author sits at the core but the book is an interdisciplinary work shaped around films made by different participants using the camera to access and unveil personal interpretations of space and place Questions that underpin the uncovering of memories are How does one use a camera to unmask invisible memories hidden within sites How does one remember events that one hasn't necessarily experienced How does one use film to interrogate the past from the future present As the journey evolves workshop participants and readers alike enter into a conversation around practice based research autoethnography and film Uncovering Memory is not a handbook offering a prescriptive method Instead it is a pedagogical text that offers an interactive approach for students and peers to consider adapt or react to in their own teaching and learning practices The narrative encourages readers to self reflect as they explore their own memory using the camera and short film format as an engaging tool for research and knowledge production

The Pleasures of Memory in Shakespeare's Sonnets John S. Garrison, 2023-09-19 The Pleasures of Memory in Shakespeare's Sonnets uses Shakespeare's poetry as a case study for the mutually formative relationship between desire and recollection. Through a series of close readings that are both historically situated and informed by recent theory, it traces how the speaker of the poems strives for a more agential relationship to his own memory by treating recollection as a form of narrative. Drawing together insights from cognitive science, the early modern memory arts, and psychoanalysis, John S. Garrison connects the Sonnets to the larger Renaissance project of conceiving memory as a faculty to be developed and managed through self-discipline and rhetoric. In doing so, he reveals how early modern thought presaged many theories that have emerged in contemporary neuroscientific and psychoanalytic understandings of the self and its longing for pleasure. The Sonnets emerge as a collection that contemplates the affective dimensions and conceptual overlaps that bind anticipation to retrospection in the fraught pursuit of erotic pleasure. Indispensable for students and scholars working on Shakespeare's poetry, this study appeals also to a broader audience of readers interested in affect, memory, and sexuality studies. Shakespeare's most beloved sonnets are discussed, as well as less familiar ones, alongside contemporary adaptations of the poems. Garrison brings the Sonnets further into the present by comparing them with treatments of pleasure and memory by modern authors such as C. P. Cavafy, Toni Morrison, William Faulkner, and Michael Ondaatje. Transnational American Memories Udo Hebel, 2009-09-04 The volume gathers twenty original essays by experts of American memory studies from the United States and Europe. It extends discussions of U.S. American cultures of memory, commemorative identity construction, and the politics of remembrance into the topical field of transnational and comparative American studies. In the contexts of the theoretical turns since the 1990s, including prominently the pictorial and the spatial turns, and in the wake of multicultural and international conceptions of American history, the contributions to the collection explore the cultural productivity and political implications of both officially endorsed memories and practices of oppositional remembrance. Reading sites of memory situated in or related to the United States as crossroads of transnational and intercultural remembering and commemoration manifests their possibly controversial function as platforms and agents in the processes of cultural exchange and political negotiation across the spatial, temporal, and ideological trajectories that inform American Studies, Atlantic Studies, Hemispheric Studies, Pacific Studies. The interdisciplinary range of issues and materials engaged includes literary texts, personal accounts, and cultural performances from colonial times through the immediate present; the significance of war monuments and ethnic memorials in Europe, Asia, and the U.S.; films about 9/11; public sculptures and the fine arts; American world's fairs as transnational sites of memory. Gold Scars Sylvia Moore Myers, 2024-05-21 Discover the transformative journey of healing and hope in Gold Scars. When faced with profound loss and trauma, it often feels like there's nowhere to turn and the words of well-meaning loved ones too often fall short. But is there a way to mend the shattered pieces of one's life and uncover the beauty within their scars Join grief specialist Sylvia Clements Myers as she offers guidance through the seven pivotal areas of life where one may feel shattered Drawing inspiration from the art of Kintsugi she reveals how people can heal and grow stronger by filling their wounds with gold With courage acceptance and a touch of humor you'll learn to embrace your scars and reclaim joy health hope and experience God's holiness The State and Nation-Building Processes in Kenya since Independence Mwangi, Susan Waiyego, Opongo, Elias Omondi, Whom, Ephraim Wachira, 2019-06-25 Kenya's nationalism during the colonial period was marked by two main characteristics that feature in this book First the struggle for independence that was mainly characterized by the claim for land that had been taken away by the colonizers Second was the struggle for autonomy and self-determination mainly through political resistance The authors in this book analyse historical trajectories of Kenya's nationalism trends while highlighting the role of political leaders large as well as small ethnic groups perennial conflicts community as well as religious leaders among others The discussions demonstrate that quest for a national identity that is inclusive at all levels whether politically economically religiously and ethnically has marked Kenya's struggle for nationalism sometimes leading to violence especially during election periods national unity through political coalitions and reconciliation as well as institutional reforms In conclusion the authors demonstrate that while Kenya is gradually advancing towards national cohesion there are still many challenges yet to be surmounted Violence, Torture and Memory in Sri Lanka Dhana Hughes, 2013-07-31 Drawing on original ethnographic field research conducted primarily with former guerrilla insurgents in southern and central Sri Lanka this book analyses the memories and narratives of people who have perpetrated political violence It explores how violence is negotiated and lived with in the aftermath and its implications for the self and social relationships from the perspectives of those who have inflicted it The book sheds ethnographic light on a largely overlooked and little understood conflict that took place within the majority Sinhala community in the late 1980s known locally as the Terror Bheeshanaya It illuminates the ways in which the ethical charge carried by violence seeps into the fabric of life in the aftermath and discusses that for those who have perpetrated violence the mediation of its memory is ethically tendentious and steeped in the moral carrying important implications for notions of the self and for the negotiation of sociality in the present Providing an important understanding of the motivations meanings and consequences of violence the book is of interest to students and scholars of South Asia Political Science Trauma Studies and War Studies Scars, Adhesions and the Biotensegral Body Jan Trewartha, Sharon Wheeler, 2020-08-31 This highly illustrated book explains the effects of scars and adhesions on the body through the lens of biotensegrity a concept that recognizes the role of physical forces on their formation structure and treatment It includes contributions from specialists in the fields of fascial anatomy biotensegrity movement surgery and other manual therapies It takes a comprehensive approach to providing a better understanding of these complex issues and will be valuable to every hands-on practitioner The text is supported with online videos demonstrating five ScarWork therapeutic Phonographic Memories Njelle W. Hamilton, 2019-05-03 Phonographic Memories is the first book to perform a sustained analysis of the narrative and thematic influence of Caribbean popular music on the Caribbean novel. Tracing a region wide attention to the deep connections between music and memory in the work of Lawrence Scott, Oscar Hijuelos, Colin Channer, Daniel Maximin, and Ramabai Espinet, Njelle Hamilton tunes in to each novel's soundtrack while considering the broader listening cultures that sustain collective memory and situate Caribbean subjects in specific localities. These musical fictions depict Caribbean people turning to calypso, bolero, reggae, gwoka, and dub to record, retrieve, and replay personal and cultural memories. Offering a fresh perspective on musical nationalism and nostalgic memory in the era of globalization, Phonographic Memories affirms the continued importance of Caribbean music in providing contemporary novelists ethical narrative models for sounding marginalized memories and voices. Body Language G. Couser, 2019-04-17 As much as we may like to evade them, illness and disability inescapably attend human embodiment; we are all vulnerable subjects. So it might seem natural and inevitable that the most universal, most democratic form of literature, autobiography, should address these common features of human experience. Yet for the most part, autobiographical writing expressive of illness and disability remained quite uncommon until the second half of the twentieth century, when it flourished concurrently with successive civil rights movements: Women's liberation with its signature manifesto, Our Bodies, Ourselves, supported the breast cancer narrative; the gay rights movement encouraged AIDS narrative in response to a deadly epidemic; and the disability rights movement stimulated a surge in narratives of various disabilities. Conversely, the narratives helped to advance the respective rights movements. Such writing then has been representative in two senses of the term aesthetic: mimetic and political, acting on behalf of. It has done and continues to do important cultural work. This volume explores this phenomenon using the latest critical theories and from the perspectives of patients and creative writers as well as academics. It attends to the problematic intersection of trauma and disability; it encompasses graphic narratives, essays, and diaries as well as full-length memoirs; and it examines the ethical as well as the aesthetic dimensions of narrative. This book was originally published as a special issue of Life Writing.

The Unsolved Strangler Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-10 In the heart of Boston, a city of rich history and academic excellence, a chilling specter emerged, leaving a trail of shattered lives and an atmosphere of palpable fear. The Unsolved Strangler, a moniker synonymous with terror, embarked on a macabre reign of terror, striking with ruthless precision, leaving authorities and citizens alike in a state of bewilderment and panic. This book is a gripping exploration of this dark chapter in Boston's history, delving into the depths of human depravity and the relentless pursuit of justice. Through meticulous research and haunting storytelling, we unravel the twisted tale of The Unsolved Strangler, a tale that exposes the fragility of life and the profound impact of violence As we journey through this chilling narrative we encounter the victims innocent souls whose lives were tragically cut short leaving behind a void that reverberates through time Their stories heart wrenching and poignant serve as a stark reminder of the preciousness of life and the devastating consequences of unchecked evil We delve into the minds of investigators detectives who tirelessly pursued the elusive strangler working relentlessly to bring justice to the victims and solace to their families Their unwavering dedication and unwavering pursuit of the truth paint a picture of resilience and determination in the face of unspeakable horror The Unsolved Strangler is not merely a chronicle of crime it is a poignant exploration of the human condition a stark reminder of the darkness that can reside within us and the indomitable spirit that rises to confront it As we navigate the twists and turns of this chilling narrative we are forced to confront our own fears and grapple with the unsettling reality that evil can lurk in the most unexpected places But even in the face of such darkness a flicker of hope persists The Unsolved Strangler is a testament to the enduring power of resilience a celebration of the human spirit's ability to persevere in the face of adversity It is a story of survival a tale of a city that refused to succumb to fear a chronicle of healing and renewal If you like this book write a review

The Structure of Paintings Michael Leyton, 2007-07-07 Michael Leyton has developed new foundations for geometry in which shape is equivalent to memory storage A principal argument of these foundations is that artworks are maximal memory stores The theory of geometry is developed from Leyton s fundamental laws of memory storage and this book shows that these laws determine the structure of paintings Furthermore the book demonstrates that the emotion expressed by a painting is actually the memory extracted by the laws Therefore the laws of memory storage allow the systematic and rigorous mapping not only of the compositional structure of a painting but also of its emotional expression The argument is supported by detailed analyses of paintings by Picasso Raphael Cezanne Gauguin Modigliani Ingres De Kooning Memling Balthus and Holbein
