overcome this with love hope and solidarity Ableism is embedded in our daily lives Social life education work and especially mental health have been organized around rigid ideas of the ideal and the normal citizen ideas that always exclude neurodiversity In this pathbreaking book Chantelle Jessica Lewis and Jason Arday argue that the neurodiversity movement offers ways to mobilize against not only ableism but also other isms including racism and capitalism By focusing on the prevalence of neurotypical dominance and power or neurotypical hegemony Lewis and Arday show the ways that neurotypical dominance has often been used to justify and normalize some of our more harmful cultures around productivity and value Throughout the book Lewis and Arday use theories of Blackness feminism class and neurodivergence to offer a vision of solidarities across differences They show that race class ethnicity gender and nation are just some of the social structures for which the politics of neurodiversity can produce an emancipatory analysis This is a book about applying social theory in practice taking seriously how academic research and theory can be used outside of academic spaces With We See Things They ll Never See Lewis and Arday issue a call to action and a call for understanding acceptance and humility
