The Oxford Companion to Archaeology Brian M. Fagan, 1996-12-05 When we think of archaeology most of us think first of its many spectacular finds the legendary city of Troy Tutankhamun's golden tomb the three million year old footprints at Laetoli the mile high city at Machu Picchu the cave paintings at Lascaux But as marvelous as these discoveries are the ultimate goal of archaeology and of archaeologists is something far more ambitious Indeed it is one of humanity's great quests to recapture and understand our human past across vast stretches of time as it was lived in every corner of the globe Now in The Oxford Companion to Archaeology readers have a comprehensive and authoritative overview of this fascinating discipline in a book that is itself a rare find a treasure of up to date information on virtually every aspect of the field The range of subjects covered here is breathtaking everything from the domestication of the camel to Egyptian hieroglyphics to luminescence dating to the Mayan calendar to Koobi Fora and Olduvai Gorge Readers will find extensive essays that illuminate the full history of archaeology from the discovery of Herculaneum in 1783 to the recent finding of the Ice Man and the ancient city of Uruk and engaging biographies of the great figures in the field from Gertrude Bell Paul Emile Botta and Louis and Mary Leakey to V Gordon Childe Li Chi Heinrich Schliemann and Max Uhle The Companion offers extensive coverage of the methods used in archaeological research revealing how archaeologists find sites remote sensing aerial photography ground survey how they map excavations and report findings and how they analyze artifacts radiocarbon dating dendrochronology stratigraphy mortuary analysis Of course archaeology's great subject is humanity and human culture and there are broad essays that examine human evolution ranging from our early primate ancestors to Australopithecus and Cro Magnon to Homo Erectus and Neanderthals and explore the many general facets of culture from art and architecture to arms and armor to beer and brewing to astronomy and religion And perhaps most important the contributors provide insightful coverage of human culture as it has been expressed in every region of the world Here entries range from broad overviews to treatments of particular themes to discussions of peoples societies and particular sites Thus anyone interested in North America would find articles that cover the continent from the Arctic to the Eastern woodlands to the Northwest Coast that discuss the Iroquois and Algonquian cultures the hunters of the North American plains and the Norse in North America and that describe sites such as Mesa Verde Meadowcroft Rockshelter Serpent Mound and Poverty Point Likewise the coverage of Europe runs from the Paleolithic period to the Bronze and Iron Age to the Post Roman era looks at peoples such as the Celts the Germans the Vikings and the Slavs and describes sites at Altamira Pompeii Stonehenge Terra Amata and dozens of other locales The Companion offers equally thorough coverage of Africa Europe North America Mesoamerica South America Asia the Mediterranean the Near East Australia and the Pacific And finally the editors have included extensive cross referencing and thorough indexing enabling the reader to pursue topics of interest with ease charts and maps providing additional information and bibliographies after most entries directing readers to the best sources for further study Every Oxford Companion aspires to be the definitive overview of a field of study at a particular moment of time This superb volume is no exception Featuring 700 articles written by hundreds of respected scholars from all over the world The Oxford Companion to Archaeology provides authoritative stimulating entries on everything from bog bodies to underwater archaeology to the Pyramids of Giza and the Valley of the Kings

The Oxford Companion to Archaeology Neil Asher Silberman, Alexander A. Bauer, Cornelius Holtorf, Margarita Díaz-Andreu García, Emma Waterton, 2012 The New Larned History for Ready Reference, Reading and

Research Josephus Nelson Larned, 1922 Motya: Field work and excavation Benedikt S. J. Isserlin, Joan Du Plat Taylor, 1974 The Encyclopaedia Britannica ,1910 The Encyclopedia Britannica ,1910 Mycenaean Civilization Bryan Feuer, 2004-03-16 Classical Greeks considered the Mycenaean civilization to be the basis of their glorious and heroic heritage but its material existence was not confirmed until the excavations of Heinrich Schliemann in the late nineteenth century In the ensuing years as with the field of archaeology in general emphasis has shifted from revealing monuments and finding treasure to dealing with less glamorous more scientifically oriented investigations concerning aspects such as social and political organization economic functions and settlement patterns With its more than 2000 entries this reference work serves as both an introduction to and a summary of the study of ancient Mycenaean civilization Considerably expanded from the first edition there are 500 new entries representing materials published since 1991 The largest part of the book is made up of annotated bibliography entries arranged topically with introductory material for each section The book also includes a general introduction to Mycenaean civilization a glossary and author place and subject indexes The Annual American Catalogue 1886-1900 ,1895 The Encyclopædia Britannica: A-Androphagi ,1910 A Brief History of Archaeology Nadia Durrani, Brian M. Fagan, 2016-06-17 This short account of the discipline of archaeology tells of spectacular discoveries and the colorful lives of the archaeologists who made them as well as of changing theories and current debates in the field Spanning over two thousand years of history the book details early digs as well as covering the development of archaeology as a multidisciplinary science the modernization of meticulous excavation methods during the twentieth century and the important discoveries that led to new ideas about the evolution of human societies A Brief History of Archaeology is a vivid narrative that will engage readers who are new to the discipline drawing on the authors extensive experience in the field and classroom Early research at Stonehenge in Britain burial mound excavations and the exploration of Herculaneum and Pompeii culminate in the nineteenth century debates over human antiquity and the theory of evolution The book then moves on to the discovery of the world s pre industrial civilizations in Egypt Mesopotamia and Central America the excavations at Troy and Mycenae the Royal Burials at Ur Iraq and the dramatic finding of the pharaoh Tutankhamun in 1922 The book concludes by considering recent sensational discoveries such as the Lords of Sip n in Peru and exploring the debates over processual and postprocessual theory which have intrigued archaeologists in the early 21st century The second edition updates this respected introduction to one of the sciences most fascinating disciplines Bridging Times and Spaces: Papers in Ancient Near Eastern, Mediterranean and Armenian Studies Pavel S. Avetisyan, Yervand H. Grekyan, 2017-10-31 This book presents papers written by colleagues of Professor Gregory E Areshian on the occasion his 65th birthday The range of topics includes Near Eastern Mediterranean and Armenian archaeology theory of interpretation in archaeology and art history interdisciplinary history historical linguistics art history and comparative mythology Archaeology's Visual Culture Roger Balm, 2015-12-14 Archaeology s Visual Culture explores archaeology through the lens of visual culture theory

The insistent visuality of archaeology is a key stimulus for the imaginative and creative interpretation of our encounters with the past Balm investigates the nature of this projection of the visual revealing an embedded subjectivity in the imagery of archaeology and acknowledging the multiplicity of meanings that cohere around artifacts archaeological sites and museum displays Using a wide range of case studies the book highlights how archaeologists can view objects and the consequences that ensue from these ways of seeing Throughout the book Balm considers the potential for documentary images and visual material held in archives to perform cultural work within and between groups of specialists With primary sources ranging from the mid nineteenth to the early twenty first century this volume also maps the intellectual and social connections between archaeologists and their peers Geographical settings include Britain Cyprus Mesoamerica the Middle East and the United States and the sites of visual encounter are no less diverse ranging from excavation reports in salvage archaeology to instrumentally derived data sets and remote sensing imagery By forensically examining selected visual records from published accounts and archival sources enduring tropes of representation become apparent that transcend issues of style and reflect fundamental visual sensibilities within the discipline of archaeology The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin, 1926
