Race, Culture, and Schooling Peter C. Murrell, Jr.,2017-09-25 Responding to a need for greater cultural competence in the preparation and development of teachers in diverse public school settings this book investigates the critical developmental and social processes mediating students academic identities in those settings posing the greatest challenges to their school achievement and personal development It provides an accessible practice oriented culturally responsive framework for teachers in American schools Murrell proposes a situated mediated identity theory that emphasizes examining not just the child not just the school environment but also the child in context as the unit of analysis to understand how both mutually constitute each other in the social and cultural practices of schooling He then develops this theory into an applied psychology of identity and agency development among children and youth as well as their teachers striving together for academic achievement in diverse school settings For researchers professionals and students in multicultural education educational and developmental psychology social and cultural foundations of education and teacher education Murrell s cultural practices approach builds on current thinking about multicultural teacher preparation and provides the practice component underpinning theories about cultural competence Africa in Social Studies Textbooks Astair Zekiros,1978

Social Studies Curriculum Resource Handbook ,1992 An Anthology of African Cultural Studies, Volume I Keyan G. Tomaselli,Handel Kashope Wright,2024-10-04 This volume provides an overview of fundamental or grounding themes in African Cultural Studies including the articulation of African cultural studies the issue of Africa s diaspora s African identity and identifications and media studies in Africa and its relationship with cultural studies The first of two volumes the book predominantly pulls together a rich reservoir of previously published articles from Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies mapping a long history of the field that draws from a diverse range of origins and locations especially from within Africa itself The first section of the book addresses how African cultural studies has been called for and explained both as a comprehensive continental and sometimes national discourse and as being in conversation with established global cultural studies The second section addresses the African diaspora and what might be termed diasporic African cultural studies A third principal theme explored is how African identities and identifications are articulated in African cultural studies On spatiality the volume takes a stance on the exclusive continental versus continuity conception of Africa the African diaspora is treated as contributory and its relationship to the continent as problematic while taking up continental Africa as the principal location of African cultural studies In terms of identity Blackness is taken up as the dominant but importantly not exclusive racial identity and identification of African cultural studies and gender and social class are also addressed in novel ways The book ends with an examination of the complex relationship between media studies and cultural studies This book will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of African cultural studies media and cultural studies African studies history politics sociology and social and cultural anthropology while also being of interest to those seeking an introduction to the sub field of African cultural studies
