School And Society Historical And Contemporary Perspectives By Tozer 5th Edition:

School and Society Steven Tozer, Paul C. Violas, Guy B. Senese, 2006 Through the use of a consistent analytic framework this text shows how and why certain school society issues first arose in this country and how they have changed over time Introduced and explained in detail in the first chapter the text's analytic framework focuses on the political economy the dominant ideology and existing educational practices that are prevalent in any given historical era Readings at the end of each chapter are designed for the student to critique using the same analytic framework that the authors employ in the text In its examination of the evolution of education in the United States this book tells an engaging historical story Students as Curriculum William H. Schubert, Brian D. Schultz, 2025-05-30 This book explores possibilities for students to have a much greater role in curriculum than mere receivers of it In fact we suggest what happens when students are the curriculum

Pedagogy, Praxis and Purpose in Education C.M. Mulcahy, D.E. Mulcahy, D.G. Mulcahy, 2014-12-05 Recent years have shown the growth of federal legislation and programs having a profound impact on educational policy and practice and a decline in reliance on broadly based educational justifications Paralleling this development has been the emergence of well endowed and influential private foundations and an increase in corporate influence in shaping policy In this volume the authors consider the discourse rhetoric and underlying values that sustain these developments alongside those that underlie more longstanding and competing educational theories and practices This volume highlights the importance of recognizing opposing conceptualizations of education some more educationally productive than others and their core values approaches to student learning strengths and weaknesses and justification The authors analyze and critique what Jane Roland Martin has referred to as the deep structure of educational thought and seek improved educational policy and practice with particular reference to curriculum and pedagogy It features a comparative analysis of competing discourses including autocratic control limited personal development and praxis Throwing Voices Guy B. Senese, 2007-09-01 This book is a search for the promises of public education and the places where these are broken by critics feeding at the academic and professional trough This book is a venture in critical auto ethnography Exploring critique through this ethnographic technique has allowed me to bring stories to the reader that work to illuminate the personal nature of educational ethics It works to fill the gap in education critique where self examination is missing It is a cultural study of five different educational environments Research in cultural studies attempts to account for cultural objects under conditions constrained by power and defined by contestation conflict and change Cultural Studies grapples with the volatility of cultural happenings Throwing Voices emphasizes self reflexivity an awareness that scholars and their scholarship are themselves caught up in the social currents and in the global circulation of meanings being studied In taking up questions from this perspective cultural studies both draws on and develops key strands of contemporary cultural theory semiotics deconstruction and poststructuralism dialogics subaltern and postcolonial studies The field also draws on and develops a number of innovative methodologies autoethnography blurred genres of writing and other new forms of critical research I pay homage to satirist Lenny Bruce and it has earned me a one way ticket to scholarly palookaville I had actually not virtually transgressed in a conference forum where virtual radicalism routinely trumps reality I sold cars and write about the intersection of values in education and this pinnacle of American commerce Here is also a chronicle of time spent as evaluator in a small Native American school with an effort to draw attention to the world of socialclass yet catalogue my own complicity in the evaluation game And here I present my decisions as a state education department bureaucrat set against the moral universe of the Chicago poetry slam Finally this is work to find the truth in a critical race theory and hopes for solidarity in art in jazz and in the world of New Orleans music I attempt to follow the breadcrumbs back through a career to find the source of compassion for working people and their children and potential solidarity through a clearer more honest language than the language of higher education and administration across the world Partnering to Prepare Urban Teachers American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, 2008

This book attempts to present both theoretical and practical perspectives on school and university partnerships that focus on the preparation and retention of urban teachers. In particular, the book focuses on a theoretical and historical underpinning of partnering to prepare urban teachers as social activists, b) stories from the field explored through the voices and actions of students, families, teacher educators, and preservice and in-service teachers, and c) a critical analysis of this work. The research presented is situated in urban settings that mirror those across the United States and represents partnerships in Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, and Wilmington where school, city, and teacher education communities collaborate to prepare and keep teachers in hard-to-staff high-needs schools. Case studies included in the text explore multiple perspectives on partnering to prepare urban teachers, including those of urban schoolchildren and their teachers, teacher educators, and teachers becoming teacher educators and parents. Combined, the chapters theoretically and practically detail the layers and conundrums, tribulations, and triumphs, contexts, and voices of the challenges facing urban teachers, teacher educators, community members, and administrators who work collaboratively to prepare and support teachers as social activists.

Critical Perspectives on the Curriculum of Teacher Education Thomas Stewart Poetter, Thomas Lee Goodney, Jennifer Lynne Bird, 2004. Critical Perspectives on the Curriculum of Teacher Education is a collection of papers written by students in a widely recognized doctoral program in curriculum and educational leadership. The editors have compiled these papers to discuss key ideas and present new possibilities for teachers in terms of formal and informal curriculum interventions. This book will challenge readers to rethink long-standing assumptions that pass for conventional wisdom in the field.

Comparative Education Patricia K. Kubow, Paul R. Fossum, 2003. Comparative Education invites readers to consider theory in comparative education, purposes of schooling, educational access and opportunity, education accountability and authority, teacher professionalism, and how globalization is impacting education. Taking an issues-based approach, it addresses current educational concerns both at home and abroad and includes analytic frameworks that foster critical thinking and reinforce a systematic method for examination. Biographical sketches add human interest, and side-by-side comparisons explore various countries, demographic attributes, geophysical and economic realities, and socio-political factors. Because the book focuses on issues instead of countries, it reinforces how and why comparative education is relevant for educators in today's global society. School and Society Steven Tozer, Paul C.
